got into a "slang" phrase or word than can be conveyed by any of the more elegant forms of expression. Orators and writers of wit and judgmore elegant forms of expression. HANDER Orators and writers of wit and judg-ment often select from the patois of children and peasants the rough bolt that will best hit their mark. It was the stone from the brook that killed Goliah. "Stop blowing and go to work" contains the gist of a sermon.

Once let the people get poisoned with the wretched falschood, that in order to carry on the work of the church, and meet its cost, they must contrive some roundabout device of sale or fair or picnic, a mixture of merchandise, cajolery, and merry making, by which to carry on the work of the church, the few shall be deluded into parting with more than they want to give, and the many shall be educated into the worse delusion of supposing they are not to surrender anything to the Christ who died for them, without an osten-ible equivalent taken back, and you strike at the root of all Christian charity while the name is on your lips. You cast up a treach-srous highway for the Lord's feet. You hide out of sight the central reality of sacrifice, which is the giving to God of that which cost the selfish heart something. You eat out the heart of the church to extend its THE LAST ARRIVAL outword prosperity. No scheme to endeavor to carry up missionary zeal will bear inspection, which interposes A Proclamation against High Prices! a worldly or self-seeking or ambitious motive between the soul and the Saviour.
