THE NATIONAL ASSASSINATIONS AT WASHINGTON, having empowered the military satraps of the South to remove all civil officers who fail to bend the knee to their bidding, and in carrying out the programme of their co-conspirators, seem to have given offence to many loyalists, and on Monday last, by a vote of 20 to 15, passed a supplement to their destruction bill, so that the Commanding Generals may appoint civilians to offices thus made vacant.

It appears that the act, as construed by the several satraps, was rather too despotic for even the most radical reconstructionist. Whenever a civilian was decapitated and removed, a pair of shoulder straps were substituted. This gave offence to the numerous "loyal" vagabonds who were down South and had failed to get a berth in the Negro Bureau. These place-hunters and public robbers flocked to Washington as soon as the Ramp met, and in two weeks had the act so remodelled as to require the military commanders to also appoint "loyal" civilians. The race will now be between the loyal bummers and the shoulder straps. We presume it will make but little difference to the people who robe them—because it is nothing but robbery.

TAXATION.—Quite a pumpos was raised in the Rump at Washington, the other day, by a loyal member named Washburne, of Indiana, who offered a resolution declaring "that the burthen of the Government should be borne equally; that taxation should be in proportion to property; that exemption of any material portion of the wealth of the country from its due proportion of taxation is wrong, unjust, and should be avoided; and that to carry out these views, the right to tax the bonds of Government should be given in any future system of funding bonds."

THE ASSASSINATION COMMITTEE.—Beast Butler has succeeded at last in raising a committee for the purpose of investigating the assassination. His band of conspirators organized on the 11th, and elected that celebrated Jacobin coward, Redpath, of Boston, clerk. The members will all get extra pay, and the clerk has got a snug berth. It appears that a $5,000 salary is not enough for a loyal Rumper to fish out of the Public Treasury; hence special committees and special sessions must be instituted, for the purpose of robbing on a grand scale.

THE LINCOLN FUND.—Some fortune teller will yet realize something handsome to tell the loyal people what has become of this fund. Thousands of dollars have been collected for the purpose of erecting a monument to the "late lamented," but Madam Rumpor has it, that it has been either lost or mislaid by the committee. We fear this long looked-for ornament will not soon ravish loyal eyes. But the funds? Well, some Loyal Leaguer has them.

Hon. Rufus King, an eminent merchant and banker of Albany, died suddenly on the 10th instant. He rose in his usual health, shaved, took a bath, called his wife to the bath room, said he was ill and must die, and in five minutes he was dead. Mr. King was a native of Bridgefield, Ct. His father was an officer of the army of the Revolution, whose name is associated in history with that of Major Andre, as the officer to whom the "British spy" was delivered by his captors, who had charge of him until he was executed.

Gen. Escobedo, the Haynan and Robespierre of Mexico, is a mongrel of the Mexican, Indian, and Negro race. This boss barbarian is a full-grown man, and in the murder of the late Emperor only manifested the taste of a mongrel, such as Sumner & Co. are trying to raise by the thousand in the late Southern States.

One of Mrs. Surratt's murderers (Bingham) and Gen. Schenck, the masked battery hero, blackgarded each other handsomely in the Rump House, on the 11th instant. Although the latter is well versed in blackguardism, he was beaten at his own game by the woman-hanger. "Grand moral ideas" seem to be at par, however, in the loyal wigwam.

It is now supposed that amidst the "creek of matter" and the crushing of the Mexican Empire, the French Minister has been lost, as nothing has been heard from him since the capture of the city of Mexico.

The "blood-letting" hero, Chandler, made a speech in the Rump Senate, last week, defending the murderers of Maximilian. Right! He who was in favor of shedding rivers of blood to save the Union, is just the man for a job like that.

THE AGGREGATE VOTE CAST FOR SHERIFF, at the Primary Election, on Saturday last, was 2,140—the largest by far ever cast.

THE COUNTY CONVENTION.

In accordance with the rules governing the Democratic party of this county, the Return Judges from the several boroughs and townships assembled in the Court House, in Clearfield, on Tuesday, the 16th instant, for the purpose of opening and counting the votes cast for the several candidates on Saturday previous.

The Convention was called to order by the Chairman of the County Committee, at 2 o'clock; and upon calling the names of the election districts, it was ascertained that a quorum of Return Judges were present, whereupon Geo. M. Brinbin, of Ocoeca, and Justin Pie, of Girard, were elected as tellers. The districts were then called in alphabetical order, when the respective judges handed in their returns from every district, except Fox.

The tellers having completed their tabular statement, (which will appear next week) and agreeing in their tally, reported as follows, viz: Assembly—T. J. McCullough, 1,642; John Lawrence, 984; John D. Hunt, 14; Sheriff—Cyrenus Howe, 643; James L. Leary, 231; G. D. Goodlander, 322; Galner F. Bloom, 231; George Straw, 159; Joseph Shaw, 47; George W. Shaw, 75; Treasurer—William K. Wrigley, 740; A. H. Shaw, 498; John Addison, 440; Joseph Knott, 292; Commissioner—Othello Smead, 543; William L. Eichel, 524; John Owen, 483; Samuel H. Shaffer, 387; District Attorney—Wm. M. McCullough, 1,811; John L. Cullis, 837; Jury Commissioner—Richard S. Ellis, 986; Auditor—Clark Brown, 659; Coroner—James A. Moore, 909.

Whereupon T. J. McCullough, was declared the nominee for Assembly; Cyrenus Howe, for Sheriff; Wm. K. Wrigley, for Treasurer; Othello Smead, for County Commissioner; Wm. M. McCullough, for District Attorney; Richard S. Ellis, for Jury Commissioner; Clark Brown, for Auditor; and James A. Moore, for Coroner.

The next business before the Convention was the election of a Chairman, Secretary, and members of a County Committee for the next year. On motion Geo. B. Goodlander was re-elected Chairman of the Committee for 1868, and Wm. S. Bradley was re-elected Secretary, and the following named gentlemen were selected by the respective judges as members of the Committee from their boroughs and townships, viz: Becoria—S. H. Hindman; Bell—Robert McHardy; Bloom—J. McIntire; Boggs—C. Sloan; Bradford—Samuel P. Wilson; Brady—Andrew Pentz, Jr.; Burnside—Matthew Irwin; Chest—Austin Curry; Corvington—J. Briel; Clearfield—J. B. Walters; Curwensville—W. P. Chambers; Decatur—Rich. Hughes; Ferguson—Hesekiah McCracken; Fox—James McClellan; Girard—W. T. McCorkle; Goodlander—J. W. Wallace; Graham—Levi Hubler; Gulch—P. A. Flynn; Haston—F. C. Bowman; Jordan—Thos. Smith; Karthaus—Geo. Heckendorf; Knox Roll—Witherow; Lawrence—John G. Schryver; Lumber City—J. A. McDevitt; Morris—And. Hunter; New Washington—G. D. Neff; Ocoeca—L. A. Stonerud; Penn—W. F. Johnson; Pike—M. L. C. Evans; Union—Hornace Courtney; Woodward—S. P. Shoff.

The selection of the Committee being disposed of, the next business in order was the election of Representative Delegates. Mr. Herline, of Karthaus, moved the adoption of the following: Resolved, That Hon. Wm. Bigler, Aaron C. Tate, and B. D. Hall, Esqrs., are hereby appointed Representative Delegates, to meet those of Elk and Forest counties, at St. Mary's, on Thursday, the 15th day of August next, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Assembly, and to use all honorable means to secure the nomination of Thomas J. McCullough, Esq., for that office; and that they have power to substitute, in case they are unable to attend.

At this stage of the proceedings much dissatisfaction, arising from two causes, was manifested by the Return Judges, when, on motion of Daniel Stewart, of Bradford, the following preamble and resolutions bearing upon the case were unanimously adopted: WHEREAS, The Vigilance Committees in some of the boroughs and townships are in the habit of transmitting their election returns by mail or private hands to the Chairman of the County Committee, and others, without any notice or power to enter, net or vote in the Convention for those districts, thus leaving them without a voice in that body; a large portion of those holding the election also fail to transmit the list of voters (very essential) with their returns; therefore, Resolved, That hereafter it shall be the duty of every Vigilance Committee transmitting their returns in the manner indicated, to depute some active and known Democrat to enter the County Convention and act for them and their district; and that a list of the names of the voters must in every case accompany the return.

Resolved, That hereafter, should any district fail to be represented as above indicated, or neglect to return a list of the names of the voters, it shall be sufficient cause for the Convention to exclude and refuse to receive and count the votes of said district so offending.

Resolved, That the Chairman of the County Committee is hereby authorized to publish this preamble and resolutions along with the "Rules and Regulations," and should the same be adopted by the Return Judges at the next regular meeting, they shall stand and remain as a portion of the "Rules and Regulations" until changed or abolished.

On motion the Convention adjourned, with cheers for the Democracy, the Union, and the Ticket. Geo. B. GOODLANDER, Chairman.

W. S. BRADLEY, Secretary.

THE FOURTH AT KYLERTOWN.

The ninety-first anniversary of our National Independence was celebrated at Kylertown, with that spirit which should ever actuate Americans.

The morning of that day was ushered in by the beating of drums and the roaring of cannon; the spirit of '76 appeared to be again kindled in the minds and will of the people of this end of Clearfield county. At about 10 o'clock, the large procession took up the line of march for a beautiful grove, selected for the occasion, near the village of Kylertown, numbering from five to seven hundred souls, headed by a band of music and the chief marshal, James Stewart, and assistants, E. C. Brenner and William Dougherty.

After partaking of a sumptuous repast, prepared for the occasion by the ladies of Kylertown and neighborhood, on the picnic principle—and in which this large concourse of citizens participated—the cloth was removed, and the meeting organized by the appointment of Capt. Jas. Hughes, President, assisted by a number of Vice Presidents and Secretaries.

Rev. W. O. Wright then offered up a prayer to the Throne of Grace for the permission of this large concourse of people to assemble together on this our great natal day; after which he delivered a feeling and instructive address to the Sabbath School children, who had assembled together to the number of over three hundred.

After which T. J. McCullough, Esq., of Clearfield town, read the Declaration of Independence, in a very able manner, preceded by a few appropriate remarks, which were listened to with marked attention; after which the company were favored for an hour by an eloquent and pertinent address by Joseph C. Brenner, Esq., of Morrisdale, who dwelt in part on the scenes of the Revolution and the causes which led thereto, and in speaking of the flourishing condition of the country, said that when the Declaration just read in our hearing was adopted, amid the plaudits of the American multitude, the place upon which we then stood was a barren and unproductive forest, but, and he, the influence of our free institutions has shorn the stately oak of his leafy honors, and prostrated his lofty trunk beneath the axe of the improver, and closed his able address by an eloquent appeal to the citizens present to protect and defend the sacred legacy left them by the death of Charles Carroll of Carrollton, the last who survived the signers of the Declaration of Independence. At the close of his address, the Fantastics, to the number of twenty-five or more, made their appearance on the ground, creating a vast deal of merriment.

The following toasts were then drunk, (nothing however but lemonade was used on the occasion.) REGULAR TOASTS. 1. The Day we Celebrate: Distinguished in the annals of the world as the birth-day of a mighty and wonderful nation—so also for the introduction of new and great principles of political philosophy, which, in the lapse of time, are destined to change the political and social relations of the world.

2. George Washington: Who has not heard the reverend name pronounced with awe and veneration? At the sound thereof a nation's gratitude breaks forth from soul to soul and his blood! Truly it is a great and glorious privilege to call him our Father, the Father of his Country—the greatest, the purest and the best of men.

3. The Signers of the Declaration of Independence: They solemnly and deliberately pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred names in behalf of the feudal principles they had taken in the face of the British King.

4. The Heroes of the Revolution: In the days that tried men's souls, those gallant founders of the Republic who shed their blood and endured the greatest privations in the cause of Liberty.

5. Our Country: The home of Liberty, and an asylum for the oppressed of all lands. 6. The President of the United States. 7. The Governor of Pennsylvania.

8. The surviving Soldiers of the Great Republic: Who have fought and bled for the freedom of our country, and whose patriotism, their country's hope in peace, and whose labors in a nation with such deficiencies never can be forgotten.

9. The Ladies: They form one of that sacred trio to whom we owe this day of our Country, and whose labors and sacrifices, our Country, and whose labors in the richest and most fruitful blessing of Heaven.

10. The Declaration of Independence: The noblest deed in the annals of our country, and the noblest deed in the annals of the world.

NATIONAL DOCTRINES MUST TRIUMPH.

From all sections of the republic we are found speaking out against the revolutionary doctrines of the radicals, denouncing them as unworthy the sentiments of a civilized humanity.

When the heat of passion influenced the aggressive faculties, stimulating to deeds of violence and oppression, thousands sanctioned overt acts against person and property, who now desire a return of peace predicated upon just and equitable laws, binding alike every community of interest.

For a time the wild waves of sectional agitation threatened to destroy; but thanks to Him who stays the tempest, and soothes the rocking sea when at its highest tide, the ruffled waters are growing calmer, giving grounds of hope that ere long peaceful councils will characterize the administration of the affairs of State.

The wild unchristian schemes of unchristian men must come to naught if we place the old machinery into working order, trimmed and improved by the additions made amid the smoke and din of battle.

The Southern soldier who surrendered his sword in 1865, and pledged to abide the decision, is to-day, a safer citizen than the Northern extremist, who will not recognize the general principles that govern this country as a common union, bound by common laws.

Who would not rather trust their lives, their fortune and their sacred honor, in the keeping of such men as Gen. Lee, where he stands pledged to abide the order of battle, than in the hands of such men as Ben. Butler? Who would not rather take counsel from Alexander H. Stephens respecting the duties of the citizen in the present hour, than from that old revolutionary ingrate Thaddeus Stevens? An open enemy in war, generally proves a true friend in peace.

All sections desire peace in the several departments of life-work. The resources of the country demand attention. We want laborers in the field, in the workshop, in the store-rooms, and in the higher departments of individual effort.

Let us then forget all past grievances, use every exertion calculated to cement in a co-operative union general interests, and we will in a few years obliterate the ghastly wounds inflicted by fratricidal hands.

Democrats, see to it that you do your part this fall towards gaining so desirable a state of affairs. In Judge Sharswood we have a representative man, who will never construe law to suit the partisan whims of a faction, or to build up a political structure for the special benefit of favored politicians.

His public and private character, his pre-eminent judicial qualifications, and practical experience, all favor his elevation to the highest Court of the Commonwealth. The slanders of political enemies, as expressed in base charges of the radical press, the radical orators and the radical conventions, cannot take from his worth. They may effect in some quarters, but can not have weight among the intelligent parts of the community.

From all parts of the Commonwealth we have the assurance of victory. Let us, then, do our part, so that we can rejoice in the hour of triumph.—Lycorning Gazette.

Mrs. Lincoln. Mrs. Abraham Lincoln is going to take up her abode in Racine, Wis., and her effects were sold in Chicago on Saturday. The handsome parlor set of brocade and rosewood consisting of 14 pieces, were sold for $1,190. The parlor carpets, elegant Brussels, 110 yards, brought $5,750 per yard. The large French mirror was sold for $338, and two handsome English mantel mirrors for $290 each. The curtains damask and lace, with elegant cornices, sold for $530 each. The large et-argio brought $275, and two smaller ones $100 and $87 respectively. A Lisbon marble-top table sold for $125, and two small marble-top stands for $87 each. A handsome chamber set of black walnut sold for $345, and Tad's chamber set for $150. The dining room furniture brought good prices, the side board selling for $275, the extension table for $68, and the chairs for $7 each. These were of black walnut.—Chicago Tribune (Radical).

THE ANXIETY OF OUR CITIZENS.—We understand that a party of gentlemen of our city will shortly leave for Honduras, and other portions of Central America. They represent some of our oldest and best families, and include in their ranks business men of character and influence, and members of the learned professions. The party, with their families, number nearly a hundred persons. They are not lost to us yet, we are pleased to be able to say. There is no intention of immediate exile, and possibly it may never be realized. They share with many others, a sad mistrust of the political future, and weary of watching for the reappearance of the era of good feeling, domestic tranquility and government of civil, not martial law, or even the satiate of Radicalism, they do not despair yet of the republic, but like prudent men, they seek a refuge to which themselves and families can repair should their worst fears be realized.—N. Orl. Picayune.

THE JUNIOR SONS.—We have received a lengthy communication from D. Orr Alexander, the State President of the Junior Sons of America. The whole letter is devoted to showing that Democrats belong to the order, and that the State Camp resolved that politics should not be introduced. It is not necessary to publish a column to prove what we are willing to admit. But our objection to the order is that it is a Native American or Know Nothing Organization proscribing foreigners and Catholics. This is not and cannot be denied. And we have only to repeat what we said before, that such a society is a bad school for young Democrats.—Corian Democrat.

They are having a lively agitation in Chicago just now, over Sabbath day observance. Public meetings, pro et con, almost every night. The Pro advocates are pitching into the German vice versa. All hands seem to forget that "love one another," is an obligation binding upon Christians—as well as "Remember the Sabbath Day."

Senator Wilson states that the Judiciary Committee will not be ready to report on impeachment till after the 16th of October. Five members of the Committee, it is said, oppose impeachment.
