THE REPUBLICAN.

John L. Cuttle, Esq., will please accept our thanks for an Illustrated Map of Europe.

NORMAL SCHOOL.—The second quarter of the Normal School, in Curwensville, will open on the 30th of July. All persons desirous of teaching the coming winter, will no doubt find it greatly to their advantage to attend, financially as well as intellectually.

During the epidemic of intermittents in the West this season, the whole immense stock of Ayer's Ague Cure became exhausted, and the producing power of his Laboratory was found inadequate to meet the demand. Many who knew its extraordinary virtues for the cure of Chills and Fever, paid exorbitant prices for it to those who were fortunate enough to have a supply on hand. Some of our neighbors paid ten dollars for a bottle, while the regular price is but one, and assure us it was on the whole the cheapest remedy they could buy, even at that figure. They praise it for two qualities: first, that it cures, and last that it leaves the health unimpaired.—Iowa Standard.

The Wants of the Time.

The radical journals, we see, are all clamoring for a "Mexican Policy." They complain that, at a crisis like this in the affairs of the neighboring Republic, the United States ought to exercise some sort of a positive influence,—and, hence, while the Secretary of State is berated, and the President found fault with because they are no better than they are, Congress is called upon to "give us a policy."

The cry is a vain one, and the Jacobins, therefore, may as well save their breath or their printer's ink. To deal with this Mexican question, requires a comprehensive, far-seeing statesmanship, and a patriotism entirely unbiased by considerations of self. These virtues are not to be looked for in, or among the men who at present are calling themselves "the Government." The breed of statesmen and patriots, for the present, is run out. This is the day of demagogues as well as the day of dupes, and until the day is succeeded by a better era, it is idle to expect statesmanship, or patriotism, or anything of the kind. Men do not gather grapes from thorns, nor figs from thistles.

The Mexican question is pre-eminently a white man's question. The party in power has demonstrated, and is now demonstrating, its utter incapacity for dealing with anything but the negro. To depress the white man and to elevate the African, seems to be now, as it has been all along, the chief end of their being. Their genius is not capable of rising above or beyond that level. One may as well try and whistle down the wind, therefore, as to expect a "policy," touching our foreign relations, such as would win the approval of good men at home and the respect of mankind elsewhere.

There is nothing that we can do, as things stand at present, but to watch and wait as patiently as we can. We do not believe that Radicalism is to last for ever. On the contrary we feel confident that it has nearly got enough of the rope with which it is certain to hang itself,—and then, when the hanging has done its work, we may be sure the destinies of the Republic, whether as regards its domestic affairs or its foreign policy, will take a loftier and more honorable course than that which is marked out by men who were never made to be anything but mousing demagogues and "scurvy politicians."—New York Express.

THE AFRICAN IN ILLINOIS.—Cairo is a much-abused place of some 12,000 inhabitants, and is the apex of Egypt. Of its 12,000 residents, not far from 8,000 are of the colored persuasion. Africa has inundated the town, and it looks as if it were overflowed with an ocean of ink.

It would rejoice the hearts of the philanthropists of Chicago to witness the perfect freedom of the African at Cairo. I never saw so free a people. There was not one of them that was doing anything. There are no taskmasters; chains or whips. They revel in unconstrained freedom, from mimastic morn to sultry eve. If there was a panel of fence in Cairo upon which did not rest a free and happy darkey, I did not see it. If there is a hut, a hovel, a kennel, a shanty, anywhere in Cairo, which did not contain from six to fifteen Africans, all blest with freedom, and having nothing to do, I omitted to notice it.—Cor. Chicago Times.

ANOTHER STATE OUT OF THE UNION.—The State of Kentucky is refused representation in Congress. The whole delegation is Democratic; hence its exclusion by the Radicals. One of these Kentucky Congressmen was a Major in the Union army during the war, and another was a member of the last Congress; yet they are both excluded from the seats to which they were elected by large majorities. If this high-handed tyranny on the part of the Radicals does not soon have an end, the people of the United States will have to resort to arms to recover their lost rights. It is all that is left them.—Bedford Gazette.

The Daily News says that intoxicating liquors can be had on Sunday, in Philadelphia, at any place where they were obtainable before the Mayor gave instructions to his police to arrest all Sunday sellers. A Radical violation.

CHILD HUNG.—An infant six months old, belonging to Mr. John Fravel, in Marion township, this county, died on the 2d inst., by hanging itself by the draw-string of its night gown. The circumstances in detail are these: The child was left in bed by itself while the parents were engaged at their usual morning domestic duties; after the lapse of a short time the mother went to look after her child and, to her indescribable horror, found it suspended by the neck on one of the bed pins. It seems the straw had worked to one side, exposing the rail, and the child creeping about unconsciously, slipped down and thus brought about its death in so sad a manner.—Bellefonte Press.

Papers that were so much pleased at the death of Maximilian are melancholy because no public man has been shot for a week. Cheer up good fellows. Some distinguished man may be assassinated in a day or two.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY.
THE times are hard; you'd like to know
How you may save your dollars;
The way to do it I will show,
If you will read what follows.
A man who lived not far from here,
Who worked hard at his trade,
But had a household to support
That squandered all he made.
I met him once. Says he, "My friend,
I look thread bear and rough;
I've tried to get myself a suit,
But can't save up enough."
Says I, my friend, how much have you?
I'll tell you where to go
To get a suit that's sound and cheap:
To REIZENSTEIN & Co.
He took what little he had saved,
And went to Reizenstein & Brothers',
And there he got a handsome suit,
For half he paid to others.
Now he is home, he looks so well,
And their effect is such,
That when they take their daily meal,
They don't eat half as much.
And now he finds on Saturday night,
With all their wants supplied,
That he has money left to spend,
And some to lay aside.
His good success, with cheerful smile,
He gladly tells to all,
If you'd save money, go and buy
Your clothes at—
REIZENSTEIN'S CLOTHING HALL.
Where the cheapest, finest and best Clothing and good Furnishing Goods can be had to suit every taste and in every style apr11,'67
