

The Third Year.

We neglected to state so at the time, but our patrons will observe, by looking at the head of this number of the Republican, that this is the second issue of Volume VIII. We have therefore just entered upon the third year since the paper came into our full control.

In passing over our books, we find that over four hundred subscribers have not paid us for the past two years. If such, however, will remit us soon seven dollars, we will credit them for three years. A fairer offer we cannot make, and those who fail to embrace this call will be "coerced" to pay our full rates. We will be compelled to "stop off" at the end of the current volume, should this gross neglect on the part of our patrons continue. The "tick" business will wind us up, if it is as strictly adhered to by our friends in the future as in the past. Somebody else may have the opportunity of scattering two or three thousand dollars over this county, among "Tom, Dick and Harry." We do not only want, but we very much need, some money; and those who owe us had better "fork over," if they intend to be at rest in the next world.

Messrs. Fullerton & Brown, it will be noticed, have opened a meat shop in this place. See their advertisement.

The Radical newspapers all abuse the vetoes of President Johnson; few, however, are honest enough to publish them, and allow their readers to learn who does lie.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Messrs. Rote & Shaw, in another column, who have secured and now occupy the stand formerly occupied by Maj. Watson, where they launch forth in the drug business. Give them a call.

HOUSE BURNED.—We regret to learn that the dwelling house of Mr. C. D. Tabbs, of Ferguson township, was destroyed by fire on the night of the 20th ult. But one bed, a desk and two small chests were saved. Some of the children were saved from the flames by a miracle. The family are left destitute of either wearing apparel, or provisions. Mr. Tabbs' loss is heavy and will prove a great encumbrance to him, and he deserves the assistance of the community, which he no doubt received. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

DEATH OF DR. FOSTER.—Charles R. Foster departed this life at the Merchant's Hotel, in Philadelphia, on the 27th ult., in the 40th year of his age. We are grieved at this event. We have been intimately acquainted with him for over 20 years, and always found him an honorable, high-toned gentleman. By his decease Philadelphia and vicinity loses one of its best physicians, and society one of its worthiest members, and the vacancy made in the family circle can never be filled. His remains were brought home on the 29th, and followed to the grave by the largest concourse of people ever witnessed in that section on a similar occasion.

CONFERENCE APPOINTMENTS.—The following are the appointments for the Clarion District, made at the late session of the Erie Conference, at New Castle, Pa.: R. H. Hurlbut, Presiding Elder. Clarion, D. A. Crowell. Jewettville, T. H. Stratton. Cochrane, H. P. Hutchinson. Blomberg, R. E. Boyd. Callenberg, R. W. Freeman, John Johnson. Shippsville, A. Colton. Rockland, John Abbott. Washington, G. F. Reese, J. Green. Tionesta, E. D. McCreary. Troy, John Thompson. Corning, Frederick East. Parnassus, D. Lutz. Perryville, Abraham Bushline. Warsaw, E. C. McDaniel. Luthersburg, W. A. Boyer. Brockwayville, P. W. Schofield. Perryville, Samuel Cook. Paradise, T. J. Baker. Venango City, F. Foster, J. Hicks. Cedar Summit, G. C. Toward, Principal; E. B. Knapp, Agent—both members of Clarion Quarterly Conference.

PLEASURE.—We happened to turn up in the Court House, on Thursday evening last, attracted thither by music, which leads us a great way, and found congregated together on a platform, more nice, well-behaved, clean children, than we have encountered for many a day; and upon turning around and casting our eyes over the crowded room, we also noticed a larger number of smiling and apparently happy men than we ever saw in that room before. This happy family was created through the instrumentality of Prof. Harrison, who had repaired thither with his pupils for a grand musical exhibition upon the close of the term. All parties acquiesced themselves nobly. The only pity is, that we do not have more exhibitions of this character; which, to our taste and inclination, could be greatly improved with a "touch of the light fantastic toe." A little dancing mixed in with the other excellent performance is as refreshing on such occasions as ice-cream in dog-days. The more pleasure we enjoy, the less pain we have.

The New Orleans Crescent thinks there are three sexes, the male sex, the female sex, and the sex to which Theodore Tilton, Henry Ward Beecher, Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Susan B. Anthony belong.

Book Notices.

A Lawyer's Tribute to the Literary Character of the Bible.—A Lecture delivered before the Wilmington (Del.) Institute, on the 5th of January last, by H. Tucker Pease. Published in pamphlet form, by Messrs. Key & Bro., No. 19 South Sixth street, Phila., Price, 60 cents. For sale by Hartwick & Irwin, Clearfield.

We have read this pamphlet, and if we are a competent judge, would say that as a literary production, it has no superior and but few equals. The marks of deep research are visible on every page, the language used superb, and must have been a recherche entertainment for the audience, as its delivery, we have no doubt, was in keeping with the subject. We venture the prediction, that it will be a long time before that Institute will have the pleasure of listening to such a rich "tribute" on any subject.

Demorest's Young America.—An illustrated Monthly Magazine for Children. Published by W. Demorest, No. 473 Broadway, New York. Price, $1.50 per annum. Single numbers 15 cents.

This handsome little periodical started with many competitors, but has outlived, or outstripped, nearly all. Since its first issue, last November, it has exactly trebled its circulation, and expects confidently to quite treble that again before the 1st of January. It is a great favorite with the little folks, and deservedly so, for the efforts of the editors to amuse them are unceasing. No other magazine contains so many toys, stories, games and puzzles. No wonder the children like it.

The Ladies' Friend.—A monthly Literary Magazine, published by Deason & Peterson, No. 319, Walnut street, Philadelphia. Price, one copy 25 cts., four copies $1. A beautiful sheet engraving sent gratis to every subscriber. Specimen numbers sent for 50 cents.

The August number of this charming magazine is before us, filled with literary matter, and opens with a piquant story engraving of a rustic maiden holding eggs up to the light, to see if they are fresh. The steel Fashion Plate for this month is a group of six young misses, beautifully designed and colored. An illustrated article shows what pretty things in the way of Vases, &c., can be made of common egg-shells. Among the Editorials, we call special attention to the leading article on "Bread—the Staff of Life," with its receipts for making unfermented rye biscuits, rye and Indian cakes, rye puffs, dappers of rye and Indian, &c.

Temperance in Congress.—Ten Minutes' Speeches, delivered at the First Meeting of the Congressional Temperance Society, Washington, D. C. With a list of Pledged Members. New York: N. E. Wells, Publisher, 359 Broadway, N. Y. Price, 25 cents.

"Ten-Minute Speeches," or "Temperance in Congress," is beautifully printed on tinted paper, in large, clear letter, and is in every way worthy of the occasion which called it forth.

We would have a copy placed in the hands of every young man in the nation. It would serve to fortify him in resisting temptations, which will sooner or later beset him. Walled in with the best resolutions, he is still liable to fall. We hope the Honorable will stick to their pledges, and become as temperate in a political sense as they profess to be in their drinking. A reformation could not have broken out in a better place, as the temperance of Congress for the past seven years has been a disgrace to the country.

Harpers' Pictorial History of the Rebellion.—Published in numbers, by Messrs. Harper & Brothers, Franklin Square, New York. Price, 20 cents per number.

Numbers XVII, XVIII, XIX and XX are now before us, and the work is so nearly complete, that the publishers will hereafter be able to issue two numbers each month, until the whole work is completed. So far, this is the best and most complete history of the Rebellion published. The numbers before us include Pope's celebrated Virginia campaign; the invasion of Maryland; Burnside's campaign; Naval and Coast operations in 1863, and the War on the Mississippi. These four numbers also contain accounts of the battles of Groveton, or Bull Run No. 2; Antietam and Fredericksburg, besides 200 maps and illustrations of campaigns and battle-fields. The maps, for future reference, are alone worth the price of the four numbers. By mailing the proper amount to the Publishers, any or all of the numbers will be sent, post paid. It is the only Northern work fit to read, and is valuable and reliable in every particular.

Red Necks, the News Boys, or Street Life in Boston. By Rev. Henry Morgan, P. M. P. (Now Mrs. Trenchard). Boston: Lee & Blanchard, Publishers. Price $1.50.

There is more egotism in this book than we ever saw in print before. It is a Boston street-preacher, (a philanthropist, in a Boston sense), and seems to think that everybody ought to speak, preach, cheat and vote, as they do in Boston; and to prove it he quotes Phillips, who said: "New England thinks for Boston, and Boston thinks for the world." The Reverend author has spent much time among boys, but he has only found one boy outside of Boston who was as smart as a Dogton boy, and he was a negro from Charleston, who had "thrown off the chains of slavery only two weeks before." Either Mrs. Stowe or this P. M. P. are lying about the sons of Ham. She made $200,000 in proving that they were ignorant; he is trying to realize the same sum by proving that they are smart. As cheating is the leading commandment in the Boston decalogue of morals, it is of course allowable for male and female philanthropists to make money, by getting fools to buy their books and wares.
