THE times are bard; you'd like to know How you may save your dollars; The way to do it I will show, If you will read what follows.

A man who lived not far from here, Who worked bard at his trad-Who worked hard at his trade, But had a household to support That squandered all he made. I met him once. Says he, "My friend, I look thread bear and rough;

I've tried to get myself a suit, But can't save up enough." Says I, my friend, how much have you? I'll tell you where to go To get a seit that's sound and cheap; To REIZENSTEIN & Co.

He took what little be had saved, And went to Reisspatein & Brothers', And there he got a handsome suit, For half he paid to others.

Now he is hame, he looks so well, And their effect is such, That when they take their daily meal, They don't eat half as much. And now he finds on Saturday night, With all their wants supplied, That he has money left to spend, And some to lay aside.

His good success, with cheerful smile,
He gladly tells to all.
