Tilft times are hard; you'd the to know How you may save your dellars; The way to do it I will show; If you will read what follows.

A man who lived not for from here.
Who worked hard at his train,
But had a household to expect
That squandered all by made.

I met him once. Boys he, "My friend,
I look thread bear and rough!
I've reied to get myself a wit.
Ent can't save up enough."

He took what little he had saved, And went to Relaminin & Bruthers', And there he got a handsome suit; For half he paid to others.

And now he finds on Saturday night, With all their wants empiled. That he has money left to spend, And some to lay uside. If you'd save money, go and buy Your elother at-
