Sever, Lord, these carthly ties. Fain my soul to thre would rice; Discutangle ma from time, Lift me to a pure elline; Let me can away my load, Let me now draw nigh to God; Gently, loving Jesus, speak, End in calm this busy week!

Draw the curtain of repose While my weary cycloids close;
Steal my spirit while I rest,
Give me dreamings pure and blest t
Raise me with a cheerful heart;
Holy Ghost, thyself impart!
Then the Subbath day will be
Heaven brought down to earth and me.

So long as you see one star in the sky, the sun is not risen; so long as one leak admits the water, the ship is not safe ; so long as one sin reigns in a man's heart and is practiced in his life, Jesus is neither his Savior nor

REPENTANCE. - False repentence has grief of mind and humiliation only for great and glaring offecences, until it supposes pardon for these offences obtained. True repentance is a continued war against sin, a permanent inward shame for its defilements till death sounds a retreat .- [Venn.

If there be any of you that have had such a sense of the awfulness of religion, let me ask you, Did you ever think of the awfulness of not having If you have felt that to live a Christian life was such a tremendous thing, did you ever reflect that not to do it was a thousand times more tremendous?

"Come."-I verily think there is not a sweeter word in the Bible than the word "come." I nm sure that when And Real Estate Agent, Clearfield, Pa. it fell from the lips of Jesus, when the Spirit and the Bible uttered it, when it was echoed by the tongues of apostles and saints, and, in all these cases, was addressed to the weary and heavy laden-to those who were athirst with spiritual needs-it was so full of grace and truth that it could not be exceeded in preciousness by any word from human speech. And this word "come" is the key-note of the gospel. "Come," with whatever thirst you faint; "come and drink; come and take the water of life freely."

Monal Force. - The iron of iron the fire of fire, the other and source of all elements, is moral force. delight to trace these powers. Method, patience, self-trust, perseverance, desire of knowledge, power of persistence, of enduring defeat, of gaining victory by defeat, these are forces which never lose their charm. Even in war-which is organized brute force-moral power is eminent. Good ammunition and good muskets we must have; but these do not gain the battle. You may have a mountain of iron, every pebble a slug-it is all in vain without the brave hands to use, the cool head to command, the good cause which fires every brain in

All moral truth comes to us with an imperative demand for the submission of the will. It asks not merely to be recognized, to be respected, or even to be accepted by the mind, but to be made the law of the life. The charnoter of God, the person and the saving work of Christ, the treasures of wisdom and grace in the gospel, are not to be treated as a mere spectacle to be gazed at with interest or applause. Christ is more than an object of perception, or a theme for admiration. He claims to be obeyed and trusted in. The submission of the mind to his teachings, and of the will to his commands, and the response of affectionate confidence to his promises, are all included in the fulfillment of the one word, BELIEVE. Until the springs of motive are reached, so that what we call our faith is really the prevailing impulse of the life, we are yet in MEN AND BOYS' CLOTHING

THE CROSS BEFORE THE CROWN.-The way to the crown is by the cross. We must taste the gall if we are to taste the glory. If justified by faith, we must suffer tribulations. When God saves a soul, he tries it. Some believers are much surprised when they are called to suffer. They thought they would do some great thing for God; but all be permits them to do is to suffer for his sake. Go round to every one in glory : each bus a differ est story to tell, yet every one a tale DRUGS AND MEDICINES, of suffering. But mark, all were brought out of them. Child of God, murmur not at your lot. You must have a palm as well as a white robe. Learn to glory in tribulations

RELIGION IN BUSINESS .- The North British Review says : "The pressing need of our faith is not simply faithful evangelists to proclaim its doctrines. but legions of men consecrating their worldly vocations, witnessing to that truth on which so much skepticism prevails, that Christianity, so received as to become an integral part of man, is omnipotent to keep him from evil, not by taking him out of the world, but by making him victorious over it He is a most worthy disciple of Christ who, like Pallissy, or Buxton, or Budgett, or Perthes, exhibits religion as the right use of a man's own self-as the one thing which gives dignity and nobility to what is in itself sordid and carthly -as the mainspring of earnest and successful strivings after loftier ends and a purer life-as the power, outside of and within man, which lifting up conduct in the individual, raises the community-and not as a state of mind mystical, and in active life unattainable, high up among things intangible, separated from contact with work-n-day life, appropriate to Sabbath days and special bours, to m leisure, old age and death-beds. Every man who is "dilligent in business serving the Lord," is a sermon brimful of the energies of life and truth, a witness to the comprehensiveness and adaptability of Christ's religion, a Cutlery, Queenswave, Groceries, revisions and where none can preach so effectively
