

GEORGE B. GOODLANDER, Editor.

CLEARFIELD, PA.

Thursday Morning, Feb. 13, 1868.

The Paulhamus Case.

The outrageous conduct of Governor Geary in this case compels us to allude to it again, in order to get the facts before the public.

Daniel H. Paulhamus was tried at last January Court, for perjury, and was convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for the term of twenty-one months.

In June, 1866, one James Johnson, a young man of twenty-one, who can neither read nor write, returned to Glen Hope, in this county, with an honorable discharge, after serving over three years in the 19th Pennsylvania Cavalry, in Tennessee, Louisiana and Texas.

He had in his possession some $2,200 in cash when he came back, and he went to work in the log camps at chopping. He kept his money around him in a belt, and showed it, in February, 1867, to one Groom.

After the note was due, Johnson brought it to Clearfield and left it in the hands of his attorneys to be collected; who wrote to Paulhamus and sued on the note.

After such action on the part of the Governor, it seems scarcely worth while to attempt to convict men who are guilty of crime.

The Hartford Times pronounces the Radical party in Connecticut as past its prime.

Another Murder.

Under this caption the editor of the Journal, last week, saw fit to charge the murder of Casey (or at least the cause of it) on the Democrats, and consequently arraigned the whole party.

The crime may have been committed by a person who has heretofore acted with the Democratic party; but does it on that account become the duty of the editor to slander the whole party?

A special correspondent at Harrisburg last week thus referred to the citizens of this county, in a communication addressed to the Pittsburgh Commercial.

"The committee on the contested election case of Robinson vs. Shugart are still at work. Eighty-four witnesses on the part of the contestant have already been examined, and there are about twenty yet that it is proposed to examine by the committee for Robinson.

"If Junius" is not a subject of "total depravity," there is no use of having the article on hand. He is terribly excited over the "diabolical plans of the Democracy for carrying elections."

"The Revolution, the Woman's Rights Standard and several other male-female-female organs in the city of New York, are organized to commit crime, as the Black Republican party did in 1850, (and have zealously practiced it up to the present hour.)

Under the roof of the Capitol there is very little temperance, whether among Democrats or Republicans. Occasionally a Presidential candidate is seen in the streets, but as this happens only on a Sunday, it cannot be said to inure to public health, and does not strike by changing public attention.

From Washington.

The "government" and the General of the Army, during the past week, passed the "line" between each other. It has, however, settled on Grant, who seems to have no one to substantiate his allegations; while Mr. Johnson has four members of his Cabinet to back him up in what he says.

It is indeed lamentable that the President and General Grant should thus condescend to play the bawly-house politician, and speak ill of the party controlled by "great moral ideas," who have had them both in training for the past six years.

The President has directed Secretary Seward to employ two celebrated Attorneys of New York—Charles O'Connor and James T. Brady—to proceed to England and defend the American citizens who are about being tried for participating in the late Fenian troubles.

We are able to announce that Thad Stevens' nigger Constitution has been defeated in Alabama, by 10,000 majority, although the niggers and the bureau agents voted for four days.

Some of the President's friends say that he holds a shot which he will deliver at the proper time that will annihilate Grant.

The Scalliwags, Stanton, is the author of Grant's letters to the President. They just read as though they were written by Selkirk.

The leading Radicals have evidently struck a bargain with the gold gamblers. Several millions of dollars are to be made and divided, during the manifestation of revolutionary symptoms by the Rumpers.

HARRISBURG.—We have paid some attention to the legislative affairs at the State Capital, but cannot form a correct idea of what is transpiring, at this distance.

GRANT'S ASSAILANTS.—Theodore Tilton, editor of the N. Y. Independent, a religious journal, writing from Washington, says:

Under the roof of the Capitol there is very little temperance, whether among Democrats or Republicans. Occasionally a Presidential candidate is seen in the streets, but as this happens only on a Sunday, it cannot be said to inure to public health, and does not strike by changing public attention.

With these moral agents attacking the great "warrior" on the flank and the rear, and the "government" in front, the General must conclude that he is just now in a worse predicament than when he was surrounded by "rebels"; but as he has voluntarily chosen his associates, let him enjoy them.

STILL GROWING.—The national debt, has been increased during the past month, twenty million dollars. A sale of government property, and the collection of taxes, do not seem to contribute towards a reduction of our "national blessing."

Resistance to Negro Rule.

The following extract is taken from a long editorial in the Richmond (Va.) Examiner. It pretty clearly indicates the feeling in the South with reference to Radical negro reconstruction.

"It is the duty of the people of Virginia at once to take the ground that no order, ordinance, act, law, or deed done by the Representatives of the secret negro league, whether in or out of Convention, shall be obeyed, respected or treated, unless under the compulsion of the freed bayonets of the Federal soldiery. We must in no way, by inference or implication, let the idea effect a lodgment upon the Northern mind that we will ever submit to the rule of the negro.

There must be no tribute to black Cæsars (or Pompeys) either which the soldier with his loaded musket holds at the breast of his disarmed white brother of the South. Black rulers, magistrates, legislators and tax gatherers, must move with their theocratical body guards of Federal soldiers, in the old Dominion. Never shall it be said that the descendants of Washington, Henry, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, and a host of other great Virginians, submitted to be ruled by indicted incendiaries and black and brown barbarians. The pages of history are brilliant with noble examples of the patient fortitude of a defeated people proving in the end more than a match for the malignant and inhuman insults and outrages of their conquerors.

The Venetians proudly boast that, during more than half a century of Austrian rule, they never compromised their honor by a single act of voluntary submission to the will of the conqueror, and deliverance came to them at last. And none of these oppressed nations ever had thrust upon them by their conquerors a degradation half as infamous as negro rule,—the fifty, polluting, barbarous supremacy of an inferior and despised race.

Forney's extravagant laudation of the speeches of Senators Morton and Nye, in his letter to the Press of Saturday last, induced us to look into the newspaper report of them, to see that they contained. Knowing Forney's habit of blowing loudest over the worst failures, we did not expect to find anything very brilliant in these speeches.
