THE times are bard; you'd like to know
How you may save your dollars;
The way to do it I will show,
If you will read what follows.

A man who lived not far from here, Who worked bard at his trade,. But had a household to support That squandered all he made. I met him once. Rays he, "My friend, I look thread bear and rough; I've tried to get myself a suit, But can't save up enough."

Says I, my friend, how much have you? I'll tell you where to go To got a suit that's swand and cheap: To BEIZENSTEIN & Oo.

He took what little he had saved,
And went to Reisconsein & Brothers',
And there he got a handsome suit,
For half he paid to others. Now he is home, he looks so well, And their effect is such, That when they take their daily meal, They don't eat half as much.

And now he finds on Saturday night, With all their wants supplied. That he has money left to spend, And some to lay saids. Hir gond encores, with cheerful smile,
He gladly tolk to all.
