stop to arraign it for the early errors and vicious teachings of its prominent members in inciting sectional strife amongst the States and the peoplenor for its criminal neglect to avert our late calamities, when its leading men could have done this, without the sacrifice of any principal or interest peculiar to the North; nor shall I the abuses and eccentricities of Mr. Lincoln's administration during the war. So long as necessity is held to beget lawful authority, we must expect the Constitution to be trampled in the dust. Of the many vicious dogmas, of the times of Mr. Lincoln that which held that whatever was neces sary to the accomplishment of a given end, was therefore lawful, most imperat Britain for its humiliaplea of tion of the Irish, as it also was, large ly, the ground upon which Austria surped the rights and liberties of Hangary. And many of you will remember that emphatic denunciation of this political heresy and its applica-tion to conditions of peace and Union, in 1864, came well nigh costing your humble servant the control of his whereabouts.

But it is to the errors and wrongs of the Congressional party, since the war, that I wish to call your special attention. I say the Congressional party, because the avowed objects of the original Republican party have been so perverted and falsified that many of its best members have left it in disgust, and it has acquired in turo, the worst men who ever disgraced the name of Democrat. The truth is, it troubles the unwary of the original organization to identify the concern which now claims their adhesion. They thought they belonged to a boasted Union party, but now they discover, that since the downfall of Davis, theirs is the only party standing in the way of a perfect Union. They thought they belonged to a party of rigid economy; but they find themselves acting with the most reckless set of spendthrifts ever turned loose upon the substance of an honest They imagined they belonged to a party of purity, whereas they have discovered, even by the testimony of their own men, that their leaders in official place, are the most greedy set of pilferers that ever assailed the coffers of any country. Why John P. Hale, one of their lights in the Senate, went so far as to charge that the borse and mule contractors had stolen more money than had been required to sustain Mr. Buchanan's ontire administration.

But, gentlemen, amongst the many had practices of the Congressional party, I consider the shameless disregard of public faith and honor and the reckless assumptions of power, which have marked their proceedings from time to time, as the most harmfol and
