

MERRELL & BIGLER, HARDWARE, Tin and Sheet Iron Ware, CLEARFIELD, PA.

Palmer's Patent Unload, OIL, PAINT, PUTTY, GLASS, HARNESS TRIMMINGS & SHOE FINDINGS.

EMERSON'S PATENT PERFORATED Cross-Cut, Circular and Long Saws, (ALL GUMMING AVOIDED).

The Lightning Tamer, THE undersigned are the sole Agents in this county for the "North American Lightning Rods."

G. S. FLEGAL, DEALER IN STOVES AND HOLLOW-WARE, AND MANUFACTURER OF Tin, Copper & Sheet Iron Ware.

THE undersigned respectfully announce to the public that he has on hand a variety of well selected stock of goods.

THE CELEBRATED IRONSIDES, PARLOR AND HEATING STOVES, larger, better and cheaper than ever before.

THE undersigned respectfully announce to the public that he has on hand a variety of well selected stock of goods.

Clearfield Nursery, A COURAGE HOME INDUSTRY, THE undersigned, having established a Nursery on the "Pike," about half way between Clearfield and Tyrone.

THE REPUBLICAN. PRINCIPLES; NOT MEN. TERMS—$2 per annum, in Advance.

GEO. B. GOODLANDER, Proprietor. VOL. 41—WHOLE NO. 2108. CLEARFIELD, PA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 10, 1869. NEW SERIES—VOL. 9, NO. 33.

REMOVAL! REMOVAL! REMOVAL! Dry Goods, Groceries, Etc. C. KRATZER & SONS.

A REVOLUTION IN BUSINESS AT CURWENSVILLE, BY HARTSOCK & GOODWIN.

DRY GOODS, NOTIONS, CLOTHING, HATS & CAPS, Boots, Shoes, Hardware, Queensware.

GREAT EXCITEMENT ON SECOND STREET, CLEARFIELD.

NEW GOODS AT LOW PRICES, THE undersigned respectfully invite the attention of the public generally to their splendid assortment of merchandise.

G. S. FLEGAL, DEALER IN STOVES AND HOLLOW-WARE, AND MANUFACTURER OF Tin, Copper & Sheet Iron Ware.

NEW GOODS! Shawls! Shawls! Shawls! BLANKETS! BLANKETS!

THE undersigned respectfully announce to the public that he has on hand a variety of well selected stock of goods.

THE undersigned respectfully announce to the public that he has on hand a variety of well selected stock of goods.

Clearfield Nursery, A COURAGE HOME INDUSTRY, THE undersigned, having established a Nursery on the "Pike," about half way between Clearfield and Tyrone.

HARTSWICK & IRWIN, DRUGGISTS, Market Street, Clearfield, Pa.

WARRANTED STRICTLY PURE! We also keep a full stock of Dyes, Perfumery, Toilet articles, Soaps, Tooth Brushes, Hair Brushes, &c.

TOBACCO AND SEGARS, Confectionery, Sykes, and the largest stock of varieties ever offered in this place.

NEW ARRANGEMENT, J. J. SHAW, DRUGGIST, (Second Street, opposite the Court House).

STATIONERY, Consisting of Cap, Flat Cap, Envelopes, Letter and Perfumed Note Paper, also a very neat stock of Mourning Note Paper and Envelopes.

SCHRETTZ'S Celebrated Bitter Cordial, THIS medicinal preparation is now offered to the public as a reliable substitute for the quinine.

Attention, Afflicted! THE undersigned gives notice that he has resumed the practice of medicine in Clearfield.

TEN EYCK & THOMPSON, CURWENSVILLE, PA. HAVING just received from New York one of the largest and best selected stocks of goods.

Insolvency Notice, Commenced by the Debtor in this case W. P. Bloom.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE, A is hereby given that letters of administration are hereby granted to the undersigned.

Legal, APPOINTMENT NOTICE—At an Appraiser's Court held at Clearfield, in and for the County of Clearfield, January 11, 1869.

NOTICE, The undersigned hereby gives notice that he has resumed the practice of medicine in Clearfield.

COURT PROCLAMATION, WHEREAS, JOHN C. A. MATHER, President of the Twenty-Eighth Judicial District, composed of the counties of Clearfield, Centre and Clinton.

Sheriff's Sales, BY virtue of a writ of execution against the property of J. J. Shaw, Sheriff of Clearfield County.

Sheriff's Sales, BY virtue of a writ of execution against the property of J. J. Shaw, Sheriff of Clearfield County.

Sheriff's Sale, BY virtue of a writ of execution against the property of J. J. Shaw, Sheriff of Clearfield County.

Sheriff's Sale, BY virtue of a writ of execution against the property of J. J. Shaw, Sheriff of Clearfield County.

Sheriff's Sale, BY virtue of a writ of execution against the property of J. J. Shaw, Sheriff of Clearfield County.

Sheriff's Sale, BY virtue of a writ of execution against the property of J. J. Shaw, Sheriff of Clearfield County.

Sheriff's Sale, BY virtue of a writ of execution against the property of J. J. Shaw, Sheriff of Clearfield County.

THE REPUBLICAN, CLEARFIELD, PA. WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 10, 1869. WANTED—A BALANCE WHEEL.

Men of genius not unfrequently show the need of a balance wheel to regulate their conduct. Lord Byron, with all his advantages of birth, rank, wealth and culture made himself prematurely old by indulging unrestrainedly in his appetites and passions.

Mr. T. is a gifted man, a good writer and pleasant speaker. He writes columns for the press, and is exceedingly popular before an audience. In the pulpit, on the platform, at the press, he has few equals, and yet he has no expensive habits.

Wonderful is the link between odors and memories. A sprig of wild rose or pennyroyal takes me back to early childhood and sunny fields bordered by old oaks and chestnuts.

People like Mrs. Grant because she brings with her prosperity the same qualities which made her happy and beloved in adversity and obscurity.

A Parisian makes his living by collecting the most unromantic streets, sifting it and purifying it of organic matter, after which it is formed into concrete bricks.

The Butler Herald says the railroad from Freepor to Butler will be put under contract and finished within fifteen months.

THE ODD FELLOWS PARADE—The fifteenth anniversary of the establishment of Odd Fellows in America is to be celebrated in Philadelphia on the 26th of April next.

THE GREENEYET—The Mendville correspondent of the Titonville Herald is responsible for the truth of the following:

THE ODD FELLOWS PARADE—The fifteenth anniversary of the establishment of Odd Fellows in America is to be celebrated in Philadelphia on the 26th of April next.

Men of genius not unfrequently show the need of a balance wheel to regulate their conduct. Lord Byron, with all his advantages of birth, rank, wealth and culture made himself prematurely old by indulging unrestrainedly in his appetites and passions.

Mr. T. is a gifted man, a good writer and pleasant speaker. He writes columns for the press, and is exceedingly popular before an audience. In the pulpit, on the platform, at the press, he has few equals, and yet he has no expensive habits.

Wonderful is the link between odors and memories. A sprig of wild rose or pennyroyal takes me back to early childhood and sunny fields bordered by old oaks and chestnuts.

People like Mrs. Grant because she brings with her prosperity the same qualities which made her happy and beloved in adversity and obscurity.

A Parisian makes his living by collecting the most unromantic streets, sifting it and purifying it of organic matter, after which it is formed into concrete bricks.

The Butler Herald says the railroad from Freepor to Butler will be put under contract and finished within fifteen months.

THE ODD FELLOWS PARADE—The fifteenth anniversary of the establishment of Odd Fellows in America is to be celebrated in Philadelphia on the 26th of April next.

THE GREENEYET—The Mendville correspondent of the Titonville Herald is responsible for the truth of the following:

THE ODD FELLOWS PARADE—The fifteenth anniversary of the establishment of Odd Fellows in America is to be celebrated in Philadelphia on the 26th of April next.

THE ODD FELLOWS PARADE—The fifteenth anniversary of the establishment of Odd Fellows in America is to be celebrated in Philadelphia on the 26th of April next.

Yankee Ingenuity. A Bath (Me.) correspondent writes in the following amusing and interesting way to a Boston paper: I once stopped at the house of a friend.

Men of genius not unfrequently show the need of a balance wheel to regulate their conduct. Lord Byron, with all his advantages of birth, rank, wealth and culture made himself prematurely old by indulging unrestrainedly in his appetites and passions.

Mr. T. is a gifted man, a good writer and pleasant speaker. He writes columns for the press, and is exceedingly popular before an audience. In the pulpit, on the platform, at the press, he has few equals, and yet he has no expensive habits.

Wonderful is the link between odors and memories. A sprig of wild rose or pennyroyal takes me back to early childhood and sunny fields bordered by old oaks and chestnuts.

People like Mrs. Grant because she brings with her prosperity the same qualities which made her happy and beloved in adversity and obscurity.

A Parisian makes his living by collecting the most unromantic streets, sifting it and purifying it of organic matter, after which it is formed into concrete bricks.

The Butler Herald says the railroad from Freepor to Butler will be put under contract and finished within fifteen months.

THE ODD FELLOWS PARADE—The fifteenth anniversary of the establishment of Odd Fellows in America is to be celebrated in Philadelphia on the 26th of April next.

THE GREENEYET—The Mendville correspondent of the Titonville Herald is responsible for the truth of the following:

THE ODD FELLOWS PARADE—The fifteenth anniversary of the establishment of Odd Fellows in America is to be celebrated in Philadelphia on the 26th of April next.

The Ladies of the White House. We append a picture, faithfully drawn by a female hand, which will convince our readers that the domestic virtues are not yet a myth, even at the Capital.

If there will be a diversity of opinion upon the merits of our departing President, there can be nothing but the purest respect, as well as honest admiration, for his household. Mrs. Johnson, a confirmed invalid, has never appeared in society in Washington.

When Mrs. Senator Patterson found herself the "first lady in the land," she made this remark, which has been the key-note of the feminine department of the White House from that eventful day to the present time: "We are plain people, from the mountains of Tennessee, called here for a short time by a National calamity. I trust too much will not be expected of us."

Isn't this the ring of the true metal; and have we not all in our hearts carried out to the end? When Mrs. Surratt threw herself prostrate upon the floor of one of the ante-rooms of the White House, begging piteously to see Mrs. Patterson, she said: "Tell the girl she has my sympathy, my tears, but I have no more right to speak than the servants of the White House." When the "pardon brokers" trailed their slimy lengths every where about the mansion, they never dared to cross a certain enchanted pathway.

When Mrs. Senator Patterson found herself the "first lady in the land," she made this remark, which has been the key-note of the feminine department of the White House from that eventful day to the present time: "We are plain people, from the mountains of Tennessee, called here for a short time by a National calamity. I trust too much will not be expected of us."

Isn't this the ring of the true metal; and have we not all in our hearts carried out to the end? When Mrs. Surratt threw herself prostrate upon the floor of one of the ante-rooms of the White House, begging piteously to see Mrs. Patterson, she said: "Tell the girl she has my sympathy, my tears, but I have no more right to speak than the servants of the White House." When the "pardon brokers" trailed their slimy lengths every where about the mansion, they never dared to cross a certain enchanted pathway.

When Mrs. Senator Patterson found herself the "first lady in the land," she made this remark, which has been the key-note of the feminine department of the White House from that eventful day to the present time: "We are plain people, from the mountains of Tennessee, called here for a short time by a National calamity. I trust too much will not be expected of us."

Isn't this the ring of the true metal; and have we not all in our hearts carried out to the end? When Mrs. Surratt threw herself prostrate upon the floor of one of the ante-rooms of the White House, begging piteously to see Mrs. Patterson, she said: "Tell the girl she has my sympathy, my tears, but I have no more right to speak than the servants of the White House." When the "pardon brokers" trailed their slimy lengths every where about the mansion, they never dared to cross a certain enchanted pathway.

When Mrs. Senator Patterson found herself the "first lady in the land," she made this remark, which has been the key-note of the feminine department of the White House from that eventful day to the present time: "We are plain people, from the mountains of Tennessee, called here for a short time by a National calamity. I trust too much will not be expected of us."

Isn't this the ring of the true metal; and have we not all in our hearts carried out to the end? When Mrs. Surratt threw herself prostrate upon the floor of one of the ante-rooms of the White House, begging piteously to see Mrs. Patterson, she said: "Tell the girl she has my sympathy, my tears, but I have no more right to speak than the servants of the White House." When the "pardon brokers" trailed their slimy lengths every where about the mansion, they never dared to cross a certain enchanted pathway.

When Mrs. Senator Patterson found herself the "first lady in the land," she made this remark, which has been the key-note of the feminine department of the White House from that eventful day to the present time: "We are plain people, from the mountains of Tennessee, called here for a short time by a National calamity. I trust too much will not be expected of us."

Isn't this the ring of the true metal; and have we not all in our hearts carried out to the end? When Mrs. Surratt threw herself prostrate upon the floor of one of the ante-rooms of the White House, begging piteously to see Mrs. Patterson, she said: "Tell the girl she has my sympathy, my tears, but I have no more right to speak than the servants of the White House." When the "pardon brokers" trailed their slimy lengths every where about the mansion, they never dared to cross a certain enchanted pathway.