

GEORGE B. GOODLANDER, Editor.

CLEARFIELD, PA.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 19, 1869.

We have missed the Brookville Herald for some time. What is the matter, "Pat"? Don't cut us without assigning a cause.

Miss Mary McCord received seven votes for County Superintendent of Millin county, at the late School Convention at Lewistown.

Grant's Indians are on the war path again. They are robbing and murdering in western Kansas. The Quaker spirit has evidently not moved them yet.

ABOLISHED.—The new Registry law abolishes the Spring Elections throughout the State, and all borough and township officers will hereafter be elected on the second Tuesday of October.

General George B. McClellan, and Governor Randolph, of New Jersey, had a long interview with Gen. Grant on Thursday last. This was the first meeting of these two military chiefs since the former was ordered to report at Trenton by "the late lamented" in 1861.

SENT ADMIT.—The N. Y. Tribune directory have discharged Mr. J. Russell Young, managing editor, and abolished the office. This movement indicates a victory for Mr. Dana, who evidently told some truth when he detailed Young's rascality through the Sun, a short time ago.

Hon. Reverdy Johnson, our minister to England, has packed his trunks and is on his way home. This was a nice trip, $17,000 salary, $17,000 outfit, and $17,000 debt; just $51,000 for a trip to England and back. Who cares? Collect the taxes and stamps off the poor fools to pay it!

Gen. George H. Thomas was offered a silver teacup by his army comrades at Louisville last week, but he refused to accept that or any other present. If they repair to Washington they will find an individual there who will take any present from a hundred thousand dollars down to a twenty-five cent picture.

PRIMARY ELECTION.—By referring to another column to-day, it will be noticed that the Primary Election will be held on Saturday, the 19th day of June, and that several candidates are announced in this issue. The rules, together with the committees of vigilance, will be published as soon as prepared by the County Committee.

We observe by the Plaindealer that Panxaway suffered another elopement last week. This time a married man runs off with a young girl. The former leaves a wife and several children to mourn their loss. No names are given. "Panxey" certainly needs reconstruction; but the inhabitants being nearly all white, Congress may give it no attention.

CALLING FOR HELP.—The "left" newspapers of New York call loudly upon Gov. Hoffman to save the people of that State from the corrupt grasp of their Legislature. The Boston Post thinks it strange that the Tribune should have to appeal to a Democratic Governor to save the State from the acts of a Republican Legislature. Not at all strange when the history of the two parties is considered.

SETTLED.—After the close of the war, a large number of suits were brought against postmasters, marshals, and other United States officers in the Southern States who handed the funds in their hands over to the Confederacy, at the breaking out of the war. A number were tried, and judgments rendered against them. The statute of limitation was put in as a plea, and an appeal taken to the Supreme Court of the United States; and Chief Justice Chase last week, at Richmond, reversed all the lower Courts. Every case is therefore settled by the statute of limitation.

A THROUGH ROUTE.—The telegraph announces the completion of the Pacific Railroad. This is probably the greatest achievement of the age, and one that will be hailed with joy by every American. We can hardly realize all that this announcement implies. It means that this continent from the Atlantic to the Pacific is girded with a band of iron—that there is a continuous track for the railroad engine from New York to San Francisco.

We have an iron band across the continent, from east to west, it is true; yet, financially, one of the greatest frauds ever perpetrated on any people has been awarded future generations by the Congressional ring and their confederates in the construction of this road. Great efforts are being made to conceal this fact, but it is bound to see daylight ere long.

Gov. Geary during the recent session of the Legislature signed 1,696 bills. In New York Governor Hoffman signed 490 bills, the product of the Legislature of that State. In Gov. Geary's hands seventy bills still remain unacted on, and in Gov. Hoffman's less than thirty are in abeyance.

The Shameful Betrayal of the People.

With all their speciousness and cunning, the radical politicians cannot hide from the public eye, the wilful and deliberate fraud they are practicing in forcing upon the people the XVII Amendment. The article is too naked and bold not to be seen by all who care to observe it. Were it merely a fraud on the Democrats, it would be taken as a matter of course. That in a common place occurrence and starts nobody. But the masses of the "republican" party, are, especially, the victims of the cheat. They voted the radical ticket, last fall, upon the assurance contained in the Chicago platform of their party, that in the "loyal States" the suffrage question would be left to the control of the people. The second section of that platform is here reproduced, as follows:

"The guarantee of equal suffrage to all loyal men in the Southern States, by every measure of public safety, of gradual and of justice, and not to be maintained until the restoration of the legitimate property rights of the people of those States."

Grant and Colfax accepted this doctrine in writing, over their own proper signatures, and the rank and file of the "republicans" of the "loyal States," thus assured that they would be permitted to settle the suffrage question in their own way, and not dreaming that the very men who stood on this non-intervention platform, would rob the people of the privilege guaranteed in such platform, voted and elected the Radical ticket.

The solemn pledge of the convention at Chicago, to the effect that the people of the loyal States should control and regulate the suffrage question for themselves, endorsed by Grant and Colfax in their letters of acceptance, proclaimed from every stump and hurled in every radical newspaper, has been deliberately and audaciously broken by the very men who gave it. Scarcely had the telegraph wires conveyed the intelligence of Grant's election, and the return of a Radical majority to Congress and most of the State legislatures, until an Amendment to the Federal Constitution proposing to take from the people of the States the control of the suffrage question, was introduced and passed by the dominant party in Congress.

In order that the people might have an opportunity to say whether or not they would consent to yield this right, it was proposed by Senator Buckeater, and other Democrats in Congress, that the proposed Amendment be submitted to Conventions chosen by the voters of the several States. This proposition was at once rejected by the Radical majority, for it was not their purpose to consult the people in regard to a measure which was designed to abridge popular rights.

They must, therefore, keep it out of the hands of the masses, for well they knew that it would be left to the popular choice to accept or reject it. Therefore they left it to the State Legislatures already chosen. These corrupt and infamous bodies had been elected on the non-intervention Chicago platform, but they merely registered the decree of the Radical caucus at Washington. Sumner, Butler, Wade,ingham and Grant, cast the vote of Pennsylvania for the XVII Amendment. The Radical members of the legislature simply recorded the will of the Washington caucus.

Was there ever a more shameful betrayal of popular confidence than this cold-blooded and bloodless fraud on the part of the Radical leaders upon the people generally, and the "republican" masses in particular? And yet the men who practised this infamous deception, who betrayed their own political friends with malice prepense, who ought to be ashamed to look at honest men in the face, these men brazenly ask to be endorsed at the coming election by the people whom they have deceived and insulted. If there lingers the smallest spark of self respect in the hearts of this outraged people, if civil liberty has not lost all its value with the citizens, say, if the intelligence of the masses regards this unbecoming and hell-born scheme to destroy popular liberty, with the loathing it should inspire, the authors of the XVII Amendment scoundrels, and the lawless who are now engaged in fraudulently forcing it on States and people, will be speedily buried from power and branded with the ignominy they have so richly earned. Down with the traitors! Down with the political desperadoes who seek not whether they betray friend or foe!—Harrisburg Patriot.

FARE BY THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.—In expectation of the consummation of their contract with the Central and Union Pacific Railroads had made arrangements to accommodate the trade and travel across the continent. The first thing upon which they had to agree was, of course, the rate of passage. The respective officers of the company, after consultation, had come to a temporary understanding that the fare from New York to San Francisco for emigrant and second class passengers should be $75. Concerning first class passengers $175, (concerning freight) which had not yet been arranged. It is expected that the trip from shore to shore can be made in from six to seven days. For the present the time for running will be rather slow; as the track is new and needs ballasting. The Union Company, as also the Central, have each, it is stated, over 2,000 freight cars, and while the first has over 150 locomotives the latter counts 190.

HAD BEN AUTUMN.—They have queer custom down South just now. Whenever a man makes himself conspicuous in a district by trying to push his political fortunes at the expense of the neighborhood by agitation and the utterance of harangue calculated to demoralize labor and make property unsafe, somebody follows him out on the road and shoots him. This usage has had great effect. Atlanta is full of consequence stricken agitators who are afraid to move to town. Their recollections are evidently very much demoralized.

The State Temperance Alliance in Massachusetts is in a peck of trouble about its president, Mr. Spooner, who has been invited to resign, but has concluded not to comply with the proposition. The cause of the rampus is some point connected with "intemperance" and "proscription." It seems, then, that the New England fanatics are beginning to appreciate the fact that there is such a word as "intemperance," and that its definition can be found in Noah Webster's Dictionary.

The vigilance committee of Bryan, Wyoming Territory, called upon a desperate character a short time since and gave him fifteen minutes to leave town. He motioned his mate and said: "Gentlemen, if you don't mind don't talk, I don't want but fire."

Sold the Big Dog for Two Puppies.

The prominent national reliance of the nineteenth century is the big national debt. The collection of that nuisance is ever hailed as a blessing by the working classes and tax payers of the country; and when the new Secretary unexpectedly announced a decrease of the "demillion total" in May, equal to the sum of $5,200,000, the tax and contentment naturally cried: "Allah be praised! Powerful is the new Treasury. All hail, Bowditch!"

But how has the decrease been shown? Truly—We have swapped off the nuisance of a big dog and taken two puppies in exchange; nay, we have taken a gross of puppies. The nominal reduction is $5,200,000, but the actual increase was, on May 1st, $75,000,000. On April 1st the paper dollar was quoted 133 for 100 in gold. On May 1st it stood 135 paper dollars for 100 in gold, or three dollars on each one hundred dollars. It would, therefore, have taken, on the 1st of May, 75,552,921 more dollars to pay our national debt than on the 1st of April. We had a nominal reduction in the $5,200,000 big dog, but we actually increased the nuisance in the score of puppies, which the $75,552,921 brought upon us.

Now, let every tax-payer give his attention to this grave fact. We shall never have a gold currency till the present dominant party is out of power. To-day gold is 135 or 7 per cent. higher than on the 1st of April. The great debt is thus much larger than it was on that date, measured by a paper medium. The quotations of gold at this moment carry the debt of the United States $170,000,000 higher than it was on April 1st, and $65,000,000 higher than it was on May 1st. The higher goes gold the more we owe. Do not be deceived by official statements put forth at a period like the present, when the paper dollar is fluctuating hourly. We shall never know what we owe till the material with which we measure our indebtedness ceases to contract and expand. Hence this accursed party out of power, horses, foot and dragons, and then we can find a means to get at the exact debt, and a means to dispose of it. Till the present administration, and the party supporting it, are speared out, the people must put a stop to anything coming from public officials. A corrupt party, as we know the dominant power to be, will have corrupt office-holders, and no department of this government demands closer watching than that of the finances.—N. Y. Dry Dock.

Minister Hale, late of Madrid, Spain, where he has been misrepresenting Americans for a salary of gold from the United States Treasury, turns out to have been, all the time only a commissioned smuggler, who has been for years violating Spanish law, and growing rich upon his shameful and scandalous misconduct. We are now almost at the point, where we can safely challenge the world, heaven, and He—Allah, to name a single man who has filled a Republic office, that has not disgraced himself and his country!

When Lord Pakenham visited New Orleans, "once upon a time," in company with some Englishmen in red jackets, with a view of dining with Gen. Jackson, he issued a proclamation to his soldiers, that they should be treated to "Booty and Beauty." What he failed to secure, however, Gen. Butler succeeded in getting at a later period, and the famous order of the latter against the ladies, makes "Beauty and the Beast," more than a stage extravaganza.

LEADER SUIT.—John W. Pitcock, proprietor and Joseph Miller, editor of the Pittsburg Leader, were held to bail to answer a charge of libel, preferred by Mr. Ford, a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature. The suit is based on a charge of the Leader that Mr. Ford's vote was in the market when he was in Harrisburg.

The Spanish Cortes have rejected the amendment to the constitution in favor of making Spain a Federal Republic. The vote stood 182 against and 64 for amendment. A proposition for the creation of a triennial directory, to be appointed by the Cortes, has been introduced and is now under discussion.

THE COLORED TROOPS FORGOTTEN.—It is stated that the colored troops of Georgetown, D. C., have tendered their services to President Grant for the purpose of assisting him in running the government. Noble-hearted fellows! Get out of the way, "white trash" Fish, Cox and Hoar's!

FRED DOUGLASS AND THE CONSTITUTION.—We notice that Fred Douglass, the negro, proposes to strike out the word "white" wherever it occurs in the Constitution. Will Fred state where it does occur in that instrument in the sense he applies to it?

Price of Mowers is $125. A. L. Leman, Rogers, Harmon, Hays, Folsom, THRESHING MACHINES, Cast-iron Lumber, and other articles. HAY CUTTERS, MOWER CUTTERS, and other articles. HAY CUTTERS, MOWER CUTTERS, and other articles.

As the Trip is, &c.—It is given out in Washington that a new reading of the old law "As the twig is bent the tree's inclined" is now current there, to wit—"As the twig is bent the Chief's inclined."

Ben Wade, of Ohio, it appears, has been appointed by President Grant, a State and heavy two-legged smugler as Minister. Now we are to have there a one-legged willow.

A negro has been hanged at Pittsburg, Pa., for murdering his wife. This is another of the Tribune's "outrages upon black men!"

The safe of the Douglas Ax Manufactory at East Douglas, Mass., was robbed of $20,000 Friday night.
