many anxious persons cry out in these days. The increasing corruption of public virtue is viewed with alarm by a large part of the community—by all, in fact, who pay attention to public affairs. The city councils, the State Legislatures and Congress, are all tainted. The exposure of flagrant instances of corruption produces little effect. Indignation lasts a day or two, and then a new wonder attracts the public ear. Well-meaning but weak men have spent years in the contripunishment of bribery and corrup-tion; but of what use are these? A man who takes a bribe will not hesitate to perjure himself; a man who gives a bribe is not likely to make himself publicly infamous by confessing it; and his unsupported evidence would not be trusted by a jury if he did. What, then, can we "do to save the country from a vice

We, the undersigned, having witnessed the trial of T. J. Booth's lusproved Stamp Extractor on the farm of R. H. Moore, near Luther's very on Saturday and Menday, the 7th and 5th of November, take pleasate in saying to the politic that we believe it to be the best machine now in one for attracting stamps. It is of simple contraction, easily managed, not liable to get out of order, and very durable. Four men took the machine from the wagen, when entirely spart, put it together, and putled a large place stamp with one. We now is one multi-ly spart, put it together, and putled a large place stamp in less than one hour. We now is one, pull a large stamp with one. They use a horse, but he does his work in teking out the largest stamps, without a hard pull. Mr. Booth, the Patantee, fully understands putling ap and handling the machine. We would advise those in want of stump startedors to see this one tested hefore perchasing elembers, which they can do tree of charge by calling on the Proprietors. J. C. Barrett. J. W. Rickard, R.
