Asa Packer—Daniel E. Sickles—
 Horace Greeley.
 The Democratic nominee for Governor of Pennsylvania, in reply to a circular of the Union of his selection and answers his opponents before the people, alike by the praise which springs spontaneously from the lips of his friends and by the admissions compelled by his worth from the worst of his enemies at the very mention of his name.

Asa Packer, a smart Connecticut boy of old-fashioned Yankee stock, left his native State when thirteen years old, with some $10 in money and clothing of about equal value, and brought up in Susquehanna county, North Pennsylvania, where he apprenticed himself to learn the trade of carpenter and joiner, which he followed for some years thereafter; marrying in due season, and buying a tract of wild land, which he proceeded to clear and till. At length he pulled up stakes and struck for Mauch Chunk, the heart of the Lehigh coal region, where he ran a coal boat to Philadelphia, then started a store, and soon engaged extensively in buying coal lands, building railroads, &c., whereby he grew rapidly and enormously rich. He is now worth at least twenty millions of dollars, and we believe he came honestly by them. Though we do not belong to his thrifty class, we appreciate them as useful men, and believe the world is better for their existence.
