NEGRO OUTRAGE -- HORRIBLE AFFAIR. Scarcely a day passes since the regis late lamented, but some horrible outrage, like the one detailed below, of Pfreedom" was ushered in by the occars in the Southern section, where Sambo is supreme. The Maryland Prince Georgian says:

The most intense excitement has ryaded our county since Tuesday last, occasioned by the commission of a most beinous crime upon the day previous, near Fort Washington, the particulars of which are almost too horrible to relate. From parties residing in the neighborhood, we gather ding in the neighborhood, we gather that, on the morning in question, a most estimable, accomplished, and beautiful young lady, (whose name we withhold,) whilst proceeding to the primary school, of which she has had charge for sometime past, was assaulted by a negro man, badly beaten, robbed and her person violated. She was discovered shortly afterwards, still insensible from her brutal treatstill insensible from her brutal treat ment, and conveyed to the residence of Mrs. Shanff, (with whom she board ed,) where she now lies in a critical condition. Constable Underwood, having heard of the affair, proceeded to investigate it, and succeeded in arrest-ing a negro man named Tom Jessecks, who resided with Mr. Adams, to whom suspicion strongly attached. Although numerous circumstances added to very strong testimony of two other negroes, indicated that he was the guilty party Justices Brooke and Brandt preferred to have him identified, if possible, by his victim before committing him tail upon the charge; and when she became conscious, he was accordingly taken before ber and thoroughly recog nized. He was then fully committed and Officer Underwood, with severa assistants, started to convey him to this place. The party had only reach-ed "Hatton's Hill," near Piscataway, however, when they were set upon by a crowd of about twenty persons, whose faces were completely disguised, the officer and his assistants bound, and the prisoner hung to a tree near by. The great indignation naturally evoked by such a crime, gave rise to the appre-hension that the prisoner would be dealt summarily with, and induced the Court immediately upon being informed of the fact, to despatch Sheriff Dyer to the vicinity, with orders to take wailing civilization the exclusive propcharge of the prisoner, and to summon erty of the white race, but the prevail-a posse comitatus if necessary, to secure ing religion also. We do not believe his anfe conduct to the jail; but justice that any of the inferior races are capahad already gotten its dues, and the Coroner was engaged in holding an inquest upon the body when the Sheriff Christian religion and handing it down arrived. Upon the communication of to posterity. Were they capable of this fact to the Court, Judge Ford doing so, some tribe among them would addressed the Grand Jury in the foll appear in possession of it to-day. But Gentlemen of the Grand Jury: The Court this morning harmed of an act of violence committed in this county, which are haw-abiding either can look upon with favor. The treatment of in its native seat in Africa, by the selfthis young lady was of the most brutal character. She was badly beaten, and the scene of the conflict shows that her struggles must have been almost scendants of the negroes who were superhuman. The evidence of one of brought over to America in slave vessuperhuman. The evidence of one of the negroes goes to prove that the attack was fully premeditated, and had been alluded to some weeks previous. The guilt of the criminal was established beyond all doubt, and although it would have been better to have allowed him to lie in jail and suffer the stines of remorse vet his suffer the stings of remorse, yet his it is kept up in a feeble way only punishment cannot be deemed other among the negroes who come in conthan most just. TO THE PRIENDS OF MRS. MARGA-DT NOS. M. C. LEE.

I'm lonely now, I hear him say
Whe loot his bosons friend;
His hopes are bright, they II meet again
Where pissures know us evel.
Oh! glorious hops, that bears us up
In afflictions darkest hour,
That we shall most our duarest friends,
High up in Edan's hower.

They miss her at the altar new,
In time of family prayer;
They kneed, and O. they weep to see
That her'd one's vacant chair.
Yet, while we weep, we'll bless His name;
She's freed from mortal care;
Through tribulation here below,
She gained that world so fair.

Methinks I see her walk the streets Of New Jerusalem, Of New Jerusalem.

A waiting for us while she sings,
Praise flud, they're eccuing home.
Redeeming lave, it was her theme,
While with us here below;
But saved by grace is now the strain
That from her lips doth flow.

Her appd father.

Her aged father, too, submits,
And says, Hod's will be done;
Though she be dead, I know she lives
Up with the Holy One.
Dear father, it will not be long
Until both you and J.
With all our leved snear gone before,
Will meet her up on high.

When we tented side by side,
When we tented side by side,
But hefore we pitched our tents again,
Our sister dear had died.
I missed her on the tented ground,
Where, just a year before,
She missjed in our songs of praise—
But now she is no more.

She's washed her robe, and cleansed from sin She walks in spotless white, And with a smite, O, how sayans, She passes from our sight. Yet, while she sours to murida on high, She casts one lingering book On loved ones she must learn behind, And then this world forsook. READY - MADE CLOTHING.

Methinks, perhaps, her little babes*
Claimed her last lingering thought;
The face of her dear bosom friend
Would be the last ane sought.
Her eye would linger on him still,
Until her latest breath;
Then, with her latest ones round her,
She'd closs her eyes in death.

And while she strikes her barp of gold, Behold, ber babes they come;†
Six lives must dear she's housed in heaven,
And yet there still is room.
Methicks, the books with anxious eye,
To see wha'll next arcend:
Four children left to follow her,
And a dear bosom friend.

Thus, while she shouts and praises God,
With her dear infant band,
I hope that we will one day meet
Her in that better land.
A wife and mather guns before—
What glorians hopes have rises,
Of meeting those we're loved below,
When we get bouse to Heaven.

We, the the undersigned, having witnessed the trial of T. J. Booth's Improved Stomp Expuritor on the farm of R. B. Moore, near Luthersburg, on Saturday and Monday, the 7th and 9th of on Saturday and Monday, the 7th and 7th of November, take pleasure in eaying to the public, that we believe it to be the hest machine now in use for extracting stumps. It is of simple contraction, easily managed, not liable to get out of suder, and very durable. Four mon took the machine from the wagon, when entirely apart, put it ingether, and pulled a large pine croung in least than one hour. We saw two man pull a large sump with each. They use a horse, but he does his work in taking out the largest stumps, without a hard pull. Mr. Booth, the Patentee, fully understands purting up and handling the machine. We would advise those in want of stump extractions to see this our tested.

How to Save Money. THE times are bard; you'd like to know How you may save your dallars; The way to do it I will show, If you will read what follows.

A man who lived not far from here, Who worked hard at his trade, But had a homeshold to support That squandered all he made.

I met him once. Saye he, "My friend, I hook thread bear and rough; I've tried to get myself a suit, But can't save up enough." Says I, my friend, how much have you? I'll tall you where to I'll tell you where to go To get a still that's sound and cheap: To REIZENSTEIN & Co.

He took what little he had eared, And went to Reisenstein & Brothers', And there he got a handsome suit, For half he paid to others. Now he is home, be leads so well, And their effect is such, That when they take their daily meal, They don't eat half as much.

And now he finds on Saturday night, With all their wants supplied, That he has money left to spend, And some to lay uside. His good success, with sheerful smile, He gladly tells to all. If you'd save money, go and buy Your sholess at-REIRENSTEIN'S CLOTHING HALL.

This medical preparation is new affered to the public as a reliable substitute for the many surthiese compounds which now flood the market. It is purely vegetable, composed at various heries, gathered from the great starehouse of nature, and estected with the utmest care. It is not recommended as a Cura-Aathui by its direct and assistery influence upon the Heart, Liver, Kidneys, Lungs, Stomach and Bowels, it acts both as a preventive and care for many of the diseases to which these organs are subject. It is a certain, and can be taken by either infinit or addit with the same hembelal results. It is a certain, prompt and speedly remedy for Diarrhosa, Dysentary, Fewel complaint, Dyspognia, Lowese of Spirits, Faintings, Siekhonstacke, &c.
