He could return the ben, but how was he to return the eggs? Another idea __and who ever saw a live Yankee without one?-he could keep the hen until she laid a dozen eggs. This he did, and then returned the hen and the eggs to their respective owners, remarking as he did so, "Wal I reckon I have got as fine a dozen of chickens as you ever laid your eyes on, and they didn't cost me a cent,

LOVE AND BE HAPPY.-It is the WE HAVE JUST OPENED a large and most easiest thing in the world to be happy DRY goods, if men and women would only think so. Happiness is only another name for love; for where love exists in a household, there happiness must also exist, even though it has poverty for a close companion. Where love exists BACON, not, even though it be in a palace, happiness can never come. He was a cold and selfish being who originated the saying that "when Poverty comes in at the door, Love flies out at the window;" and his assertion proves conclusively that he had no knowledge exchange for goods. of love; for, unquestionably, the reverse of the axiom quoted is nearer the truth. When poverty comes in at the door, love, true love, is more than ever inclined to tarry, and do battle with the enemy. Let those who imagine themselves miserable, before they find fault with their surroundings, search in their own hearts for the true cause. A few kind words, or a little forbearance, will often open the way to a flood of sunshine in a house darkened by the clouds of discord and unamiability.

Patrick saw a bull pawing in a field, and thought how amusing it would be to jump over, catch him by the horns, and rub his nose in the dirt. The idea sand take was so funny that he lay down and laughed to think of it. The more he thought of it the funnier it seemed and he determined to do it. Boyus quickly tossed him over the fence again. Somewhat braised, Patrick leisurely picked himself up, with the consolatory reflection: "Well, it is a mighty foine thing I had my laugh foorst."

"Pa, does wine make a beast of a man !" "Pshaw ! child; perhaps once in a while," "is that the reason why Mr. Goggins, the tavern-keeper, has on his sign 'Entertainment for man and beast ?" ' "Nonsense, child, what makes you ask ?" "Because ma says that last night you went to Mr. Goggin's a man, and came home a beast; and that he entertained you!" "That is mother's nonsense, dear! Run out and play; papa's hond aches."

and play; papa's hoad aches."

"Man, know thyself," said the heathen sage, and he uttered a goodly maxim. "Man, know thy God," says the Christian, and he points to wisdom far more sublime. I'nt the two together! to know curselves in our weakness and dangers, and to know our God in his glorious strangth and willingness to protect us, is to have the seed of divinest knowledge imthe seed of divinest knowledge im-
