The Republican.

GEORGE B. GOODLANDER, Editor.

CLEARFIELD, PA.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, APRIL 27, 1870.

Mr. Moore's new Sun will appear on the 2d of May next, and promises to shine for all.

The bill restoring the Spring Elections failed to pass the Legislature, as did also the bill increasing the number of Judges of the Supreme Court.

Whoever receives a circular saying that 160 acres of land have been assigned him or her, as heir of a deceased soldier, and requesting that $30 be forwarded to defray the expense of sale and transmission of the proceeds, will please hold on to their money, as the thing is a cheat.

INSOLVENT.—Some of the Western cities are utterly insolvent. Galena, Ill., cannot pay the interest on its debt of $2,000,000, and the valuation of property, which in 1856 was $2,215,674, is now less than half a million dollars.—Exchange.

Yes, and their morals are at a heavier discount than their finances, but they are generally "foil."

THAT KEY.—The key of Libby prison is in the possession of Dr. Hollister, of Easton, Pa., and will be kept for exhibition in his museum.—Ex.

It should have been buried in the grave with Edwin M. Stanton.—Crawford Democrat.

Wait until Seward commits suicide then the key and his "little bell" can all be buried together.

LOYAL CHEATS.—The Radicals in Connecticut seem to be as great rascals as in Pennsylvania. In making the apportionment for Senators they so formed the districts that 36,235 Radical voters can elect twelve Senators, while 51,450 Democrats elect eleven, 15,000 Democrats are disfranchised through the ingenious gerrymandering of the State. Such work may be loyal, but "by the eternal" it is not honest.

Do not fail to read the speech of Congressman Stiles, and the article copied from the Patriot on our first page, bearing upon this species of Radical rascality.

"UNFORTUNATE."—Another Radical leader has became "unfortunate," as Greeley terms a hundred thousand dollar theft, if carried off by a loyalist. John Spear, the Collector for Kansas, is missing, and his account is disregulated to the tune of $100,000. The fact came to light from the large number of citizens being called upon to pay their revenue tax for 1868, they having been reported by way of explanation on the Collector's books as dead, absconded, etc. In every case receipts from Spear or his deputy, or other evidence showing the payment of taxes had been produced.

"Unfortunate Mr. Spear." This Spear was evidently too sharp even for the Solomon in the White House who should have noticed this irregularity even in Kansas.

A WONDERFUL REFORMATION.—A number of negroes and white loyalists held a joint caucus in Philadelphia on Friday last, to perfect a plan to save the State from total loss. They agreed upon a plan, which is evident from the following—from the Press:

"It is a part of the plan to carry the system into the most remote and secluded part of the State and enlist the entire force of honest and intelligent men in the rescue of the country from the dangers of political corruption."

We merely ask whose hen laid the egg and has hatched out this "political corruption," from which the State must be rescued? Has not Cameron, Forney & Co. had control of the "machine" for ten years past? Are they likely to improve matters even with the assistance of negroes? Who among the horde of political buzzards who are devouring the State and breeding "political corruption," are likely to reform. Will some one please name one. "Our colored brethren" may be honestly inclined at present; but if they cohabit and run one year with the crew at the head of public affairs, every nig will be as corrupt as Cameron or Forney.

"In the Last Ditch."

When Lincoln & Co. plunged the country into War in 1860, Forney, Col. John W. Forney, declared it to be the height of his ambition to "die in the last ditch," while assisting to "crush out the rebellion." But as many of our readers well know, the heroic Colonel never went near the affair, although the opportunity lasted for over four years. Like Bob Acres, he allowed his patriotism to ooze out at his finger's ends, and now his whole time is employed in revelling with the negro Senator Revels, and the sweet scented sisters of the colored persuasion in the National Capitol. Forney has found his level in the ditch with his colored brethren and sisters, just where every scalawag will wind up who betrays his blood, kindred, race and country. Forney canoussing with niggers! Read, think back fourteen years. Reflect awhile. See where the demagogue has landed. What a legacy for a white man! Reader, reflect.

While four Sing Sing convicts were at work in the marble quarries, last week, a nitro glycerine blast exploded prematurely, killing one prisoner and injuring the others.

Sam and Sambo.

A huge effort is being made by the Radicals through the loyal League to organize the negroes and press them into their oath barring wigwams, so as to make sure of their votes this fall. Senator Revels, Rev. J. M. Langston, Fred Douglass, and a few more choice negroes together with John W. Geary, ex-Gov. Newell of New Jersey, and a number of white loyalists, assembled in secret conclave in Washington, last week, for the purpose of putting in operation the machinery to cast every negro vote for the Radical ticket. We hope they will succeed, because no negro in Pennsylvania is qualified, by nature or education, to vote the Democratic ticket. The Radical ticket is the negro ticket, although the white leaders of that party have for years demanded that intelligence and education should be made the test, in the exercise of the elective franchise.—The Radical leaders a few years ago howled themselves hoarse over the "ignorance of the Irish, Dueth, French, etc," demanding that they be denied the elective franchise, because of "their gross ignorance." Yet, these scalliwags, now demand the ballot for the negro; who is endowed by nature with ignorance and can neither read or write. The African may probably be reconstructed, by mixing profusely with the "loyal millions" and become intelligent enough to vote the Radical ticket; but they can never be elevated enough to vote for Democrats in Pennsylvania.

We cannot believe that there are white men enough, in this State, who are willing to compromise their race, coalesce, associate and cohabit with the negro, and thereby carry the election. The Radical leaders will find by the time the election is over, that while the League has secured one negro, to vote their ticket, five white men will have deserted their ranks and declared for a "white man's government" on this continent. Negro suffrage may do in Africa, or, in other debauched sections of the Globe, but it will never succeed in Pennsylvania. Mark that, Sambo, and ye white scalawags who think yourselves no better than a negro, and are inculcating into the minds of your innocent children the story of equality! Look at Africa, Mexico, Central and South America, where two races amalgamate? What is the result.—A man that will not heed the lessons taught by the violation of God's law in these sections, cannot be made wise and must be allowed to follow his taste and final extinction by committing social suicide.

The Next Congressman.

The Black Republicans in this Congressional District, are in a quandary over the next Congressman. Many are opposed to Scofield, who sandwitched himself in two years ago, by slaughtering Cessna, Bowman, Ewing, Glass and Walker. Since that time Scofield has bought off all his competitors by having them appointed to office, except Souther, who is still unprovided for. An attempt was made last week to spike Souther's gun.—Scofield and many of his bosom friends called upon the President and requested him to appoint Souther to a judgeship in Washington, made vacant by the appointment of Judge Fisher, to the Marshal-ship. Our Congressman and his backers brought every gun in their battery to bear upon "the government" for the purpose of getting Souther out of the way; but it did not surrender. On the contrary, Grant appointed an Alabaman, named Humbreys, to that position.

Why not send "Hank" out on the plains and have him tomahawked by the red skins? He is only a bother to Scofield and his corrupt ring at best. It is a piece of impertinence for any Radical in this district to be looking after a seat in Congress before Mr. Scofield is satisfied. All such aspirants should be sent to Fort Lafayette until after the election.

The Supreme Bench.

The United States supreme bench is once more full. We give a list of the Judges, with their ages and the dates of their appointments, as follows:

	Age.	App.
Salmon P. Chase, of Ohio	62	1864
Nathan Clifford, of Maine	66	1858
Samuel Nelson, of New York	77	1845
David Davis, of Illinois	53	1862
Noah H. Swayne, of Ohio	60	1862
Samuel F. Miller, of Iowa	54	1862
Stephen J. Field, of California	53	1863
Wm. Strong, of Pennsylvania	61	1870
Jos. P. Bradley, of New Jersey	57	1870

Of this number Clifford and Nelson are Democrats, while the balance are Radicals. The unanimous refusal of the Court last week to open the "legal tender" decision, in accordance with the demands of Attorney-General Hoar, looks as though the Constitution and their oaths were receiving some consideration on the part of the Court. That Hoar, is unfortunate in his adventures. His $15,000 library which he gave Grant seems to have no weight outside of the White House. He was kicked out of the Supreme Court about a year ago, on account of his impertinence and boorish manners, rejected by the Senate for a Judgeship, and now kicked out of Court again with his legal tender shinplasters, for which he was promised a large fee by the gambling fraternity if he would get the Court to reverse itself upon this subject.—Bad name, hence the repeated failures.

The Age says: One Major Calhoun, of this city, takes occasion at all meetings of negroes and Radicals to state that he once belonged to the Democratic party. We suppose it is upon the same principle which makes a cyprain boast she had a virtuous mother.

The famous female engrossing clerk of the Iowa House has triumphed.—She is to marry one of the members.

Dangerous Women.

The trial of McFarland has developed a class of women that few believed to exist in this city, if indeed, anywhere in the world. We spoke last week of the letter from Richardson to Mrs. McFarland, written to her while she was yet the lawful wife of the man by whom the fellow was afterwards shot. But bad as that was, it was no worse than the letters since brought to light from women—educated, married women—in this city, written to Mrs. McFarland, for the purpose of inducing her to desert her husband. One of these letters contains the following counsel:

"My dear, what are you going to do? Whatever you decide upon of course your friends—your true friends—will accept. But I do hope you will act with firmness and decision. It seems to me that one great effort is only a question of time, and the sooner it is made the better for you and your children. Do not for one moment entertain that morbid idea that you are responsible for the life of one who is sure to break you down completely and ruin, perhaps, your children, if they continue to live with him. It will kill you to live this way, and you must not do it."

And this is written by one married woman to another, adjuring her to break her marriage vows! But the other letters from a woman who says she is a writer for the Independent and the Tribune, and occupies pew 89 in Mr. Frothingham's church, is far ahead of this. She plies the wife with the most fulsome, unseemly flattery to get her upon the stage as an actress, speaks of the actor Booth as "a divine man," and addresses the wife she would lead astray in such words as these:

"It is profanation for you to stay with that man—you shall not. No woman ought to put her womanhood to open shame, as you have been forced to do for years. It is most cruel, most devilish. You cannot work, you cannot advance, you can make certain of no future for yourself and the children while you stay. There is no justice, no reason, no hope in your being it."

"The letters have no bearing on the question of McFarland's guilt or innocence, but they are before the public as illustrations of a class of women, and of men, too, whose writings and teachings and example are doing much to corrupt society and poison all the sweets of domestic life. This is the literature of the Free Love school. It is the sentiment of the sentimental reformers! of the present day—popular too, with powerful newspapers, political and religious—to pander to their purposes and afford them means of reaching and corrupting the public mind and heart. These vile letters all right-minded women would blush to read, but they are such letters as all the Free Lovers, men and women, approve. And there are no women more dangerous and mischievous than they who thus busy themselves in perverting others from the path of virtue and honor."—N. Y. Observer.

We approve the foregoing fully.—But the editors of the Observer should have gone farther, and told the "whole truth," by giving the names of these "educated, married women" which, now under the circumstances devolves upon us. One of them is a Mrs. Sinclair, wife of the Publisher of the New York Tribune, the other is a Mrs. Calhoun, who with Vice President Colfax, took Mrs. McFarland to the State of Indiana and had her divorced. Calhoun and his wife also belong to the editorial staff of the Tribune. These two "educated, married women" are the leading female writers for the Tribune and the Independent.

The former is the acknowledged organ of "the loyal millions" of the radical persuasion, in politics, and the latter is the organ of the semi-religious radicals of the Beecher and Frothingham class.

These two journals, of large circulation, are chiefly edited by lewd men and women, and one or the other, if not both, are found in nearly every clergyman's family. Is it therefore, any wonder that clerical elopements and seductions are frequent, and the country demoralized throughout. If we mistake not, the country is reaping a rich harvest of debaucheries and crime through the instrumentalities of these "educated, married women" and their male assistants, Greeley, Tilton, Beecher, etc.

MONEY ON BLOOD.—The Ohio Governor of South Carolina, is organizing a battalion of Winchester riflemen for the county of Edgefield, South Carolina. Five companies meet the demand of Mendoza's military judgment as requisite for military purposes. This battallion of four hundred men, can deliver five hundred or more deadly shots in an hour. Five hundred per day was the utmost limit reached by the Spaniard with five times the number of men. The Radical progress is really delightful. Scott in South Carolina, Bullock in Georgia, and Holden in North Carolina, and all anxious for war. While the peaceful farmers, shocked and intimidated, contract their engagements; and trade languishing, and dull, drags a slow length along; and capitalists again grow chary of money leading, doubtful of dubious times and draw close the purse strings and zeal them in double cast iron boxes: these valiant promoters of reconstruction cry out, the combat thickens! On ye brave! Who rush for greenbacks, or the grave; with the full hope and confident expectation that the loyal will each their spirit and sing joyfully the wild refrain: Lay down the shovel and hoe! Take up the pistol and the gun! No more hard work in the cotton row? March! by the bugle and the drum! "Let us have peace," and plunder, or glorious war is re-echoed from the circumference to the centre of progressive Radicalism.—Georgia exchange.

MEN CHANGE.—A recent Washington letter to the New York Independent reminds us of two little incidents, the one in the life of Senator Brownlow, and the other in that of Senator Drake. These men are now hand-in-glove with Revels and his Radical colleagues in Congress, and yet a few years ago Brownlow prayed that if he died at the North his coffin might be left open at one end so that he could crawl away from the Abolitionists; and about the same time Drake introduced a bill into the Missouri Legislature requiring all free colored people in that State to be sold into slavery! Such is the trash out of which the "God and morality" leaders are manufactured. A compound of evils.

As it Looks and as it Is.

A leading Republican journal, in referring to some special cases of Congressional and State corruption, is forced to declare that "it seems as if the very sources of republican government were poisoned, and that the experiment of self government was a lamentable failure." While he does not subscribe to so cynical a judgment, he cannot "but regard the political situation of the country as full of danger," and believes that "unless some effective remedy is speedily applied the evil will become chronic, and finally will require that 'crole treatment' which involves force and bloodshed." And he adds that "the feeling is intensified almost to the extent of despair by the knowledge that the revelations (of corruption) which are vouchsafed to the public are but isolated instances of the demoralization which exists, and that the people have reason to know that for every case which comes to their knowledge, hundreds escape detection."

Another Radical paper charges that seventy courtesans were taken to Washington City to influence legislation on the Pacific Railroad subsidy. The same paper also charges that $25,000 were recently divided among the keepers of houses of ill-fame in Washington, who were to coerce, under penalty of exposure, the support by Congressmen of a bill providing for Indian appropriations. And it was not long since we published a Washington letter to a Republican paper of Chicago giving an account of the easy access of women of doubtful repute to the ante-rooms of the Senate and House, and the familiarity of those same women in their intercourse with Senators and Representatives.

Nor is it all. Instead of an effort to strengthen the ground-work upon which the new Republic is to rest until the next change, it has been wantonly weakened by the introduction into it of an element which never yet was anything else than a moral and political insanity. We speak of the negro element, which, in the States where it is recognized with official position, has shown itself to be utterly corrupt. The infusion of this new element into the social and political body not only debases it, but deadens the pride of the white element by an association repulsive and demoralizing. No wonder, therefore, in view of the whole field, that the feeling of all good citizens is "intensified almost to the extent of despair," and that "it seems that the very sources of republican government were poisoned and that the experiment of self government was a lamentable failure." Such is the tone that sham Republicanism has imparted to the morals and policies of the country during the nine years it has been in power.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Radical Repudiation.

What shape will now be given to the Radical revolt against the law as declared by the Supreme Court we cannot say. The attitude of Radical officials in Pennsylvania is that of open resistance to the law, as laid down by the highest tribunal, and in a manner too that affords a signal instance of Radical hypocricy. The party not long since professed to be so bent on paying specie that it stigmatized as repudiation the perfectly legitimate suggestion that bonds for which paper dollars were promised and paper dollars paid, might be properly discharged in the same paper behalf of the bondholders. Not only the bonds made before the creation of legal tender money, not only bonds that stipulate for gold shall be paid in coin; but bonds issued after the creation of legal-tender money, and not stipulating for gold shall also be paid in coin. Not to do this was repudiation. That was the cry of their last political campaign. Now, private citizens have at last obtained a hearing in the Supreme Court. It decided, first, that where gold was specially stipulated, gold could be recovered, or the actual value of it.—This was simply enforcing the special contract of the parties. In the next case, they decided that all contracts made before the legal-tender act were, in fact, contracts for specie—a notorious and undeniable fact; therefore, says the Supreme Court, such contracts must be discharged in specie, or its value. It is against these decisions that the Radicals have risen in revolt; have packed the Supreme Court, and made an unprecedented effort to reverse by that means is final decision. They now cry pape for individuals, but gold for bondholders. Yet surely this opens them to their own old, charge of repudiation. If not to pay a five-twenty bond in specie is repudiation, what is it to resist the legal judgment that express promises to pay specie must be kept? Is not this repudiation; and that, too, not while the question was open to debate, but after it has been determined by the highest legal authority, and has become the finally adjudicated law of the land?—Age.

Valuable Real Estate at Private Sale.

THE undersigned has concluded to dispose of his FARM and TIMBER LANDS, situate in Penn township, Clearfield county, Pa., containing 132 ACRES, adjoining lands of Patrick Daily, James B. Clark and others. The farm is in a good state of cultivation; good dwelling house, large barn, out houses, orchard of choice fruit, and a good spring of never-failing water on the premises. A school house within two miles.

Part of the tract is heavily timbered, while the whole is underlaid with a vein of coal, which must in a short time be a source of great profit.

No better investment could be made, and no tract of land in the county offers greater facilities for making money.

Persons wishing to learn more particulars in regard to terms, &c., can call on the premises, or address the undersigned at Grampian Hills P. O.
