CLEARFIELD, PA.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 4, 1870.

New System of Tax Collection.

The Legislature at its session just closed, has changed the mode of collecting the County, State and Bounty Taxes in this county.

Its provisions are in effect as follows:

1st. Prior to the first Monday in April in each year the duplicates are made out and placed in the hands of the Treasurer.

2d. The Treasurer gives 30 days' notice in the newspapers and by handbills that he will attend at the election house in each district, on some day fixed by him, prior to September 1st, to receive and receipt for taxes.

3d. Every person paying his or her taxes to the Treasurer before the 1st of September, is entitled to a deduction of 5 per cent. thereon.

4th. If any taxes remain unpaid for 30 days after the 1st of September, the Treasurer adds 5 per cent. to the amount thereof and issues his warrant to the constable of the proper district directing him to collect the same.

5th. The constable must demand the same and if they be paid on demand or within 10 days his fees are the 5 per cent. added by the Treasurer; if not so paid, the constable is empowered to levy and sell and collect the usual fees.

6th. The Treasurer charges the constable with the sum of the taxes given to him for collection and he and his bail are held for the amount of the same. He can obtain executions in the usual manner.

7th. It is made the duty of the constable to collect, settle and pay over to the Treasurer all of said taxes within two months from receiving the warrant for collection, and upon failure so to do the Treasurer is ordered to forthwith sue out his bond and collect the same.

8th. In such action against the constable and his bail if judgment be recovered, twelve per cent. interest to be charged upon the balance due after the two months have expired, and no stay of execution allowed.

9th. A penalty of $50 is imposed upon any Treasurer or Constable who fails or refuses to perform any duty required by this law.

10th. The Treasurer is allowed 5 per cent. upon all taxes collected and paid out by him under this act.

11th. All laws inconsistent with this act are repealed.

REVELS TURNED OUT.—An exchange says: We are informed that the negro "Senator" Revels was ordered, on last Thursday night, to leave the Eutaw House, Baltimore, half an hour after he had been given a room by the clerk. The proprietor was absent at the moment of the arrival of Revels, as soon as he came in he requested the negro to leave, which he did without creating any disturbance—The dose is working! Down with the "Fifteenth Amendment!" Up with the White Man's Government!

PERMITTED TO WITHDRAW.—The case of Rev. Horace Cooke, the Methodist minister who eloped with Miss Mattie Johnson a few months since, and then came back a repentant sinner, made application before the New York East Conference, while in session in the Seventh Street Church, for permission to withdraw from the pulpit. Quite a number of the brethren were anxious to expel him, but more moderate counsels prevailed and he was permitted to go. So ends the elopement story.

The New York Herald calls for the names of the individuals who hissed when the name of Gen. McClellan was mentioned at the late re-union of the society of the army of the Potomac. A cotemporary seconds the demand, remarking that there is probably not one of the hissers "who, while McClellan was fighting the battles of his country, was not snug at home behind some internal revenue, or custom house, or post office desk, drawing his salary rather than his sword."

GEORGIA KICKED OUT AGAIN.—The white men of the South, playing the lick-spittle to the demons at Washington, who are boldly determined to play the role of despotism forever in this country, will, by and by, get their fill of "the situation." Georgia is now reconstructed back into the third Military District, its present government is declared provisional, and a new election is to take place in November next. Go on, despot! The devil will overtake you yet.

GREAT FIBBERS.—At a nigger jollification in Boston over the "Fifteenth Amendment," graced by the presence of the Governor and and his staff, one resolution declared "the ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, the deliberate act of the whole American people." O, what horrid liars! There are but two States in the Union, Massachusetts and Vermont, which would ratify it by a perfectly fair popular vote.

Fifty five thousand white men are disfranchised in Massachusetts because they pay no poll tax, but niggers in South Carolina, who pay no taxes of any kind, make the laws for that State, and assessed the white people about $4,000,000 last year.—There is loyalty for you in a practical way.

LARGE STEER.—The Gettysburg Compiler has the following: "Mr. Wm. Anthony, butcher, Hanover, last week slaughtered a steer which weighed on the hoof twenty one hundred and fifty pounds. This fine animal was fed by Mr. Samuel G Sneeringer, of the vicinity of M. Sherrystown

Speaker of the House of Rep's.
CHARLES H. STINSON,
Speaker of the Senate.

APPROVED—The eighteenth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy.

JNO. W. GEARY.

He Has Done Enough.

Mr. Scofield's labors in Congress being such that he cannot, as he says himself, make a "personal effort" to obtain a re-nomination, it is evident that they must be very laborious and harrassing to his constitution. We suggest, as a mere matter of kindness to so devoted a public servant, whether it is fair to ask him to continue in office another term at so serious a hazard to his health and mental vigor. It would be sheer cruelty to ask him to go through the same strain for two years more. We are just here reminded of a story that has some application to the point:

"Once upon a time a revolutionary soldier was running for Congress in Lancaster county. His opponent was a young man, who had "never been to the wars," and it was the custom of the old revolutionary to tell of the hardships he had endured. He said:

"Fellow citizens: I have fought and bled for my country. I helped to whip the British and the Indians. I have slept on the field of battle with no other covering than the canopy of heaven. I have walked over the frozen ground 'till every footstep was marked with blood—"

Just about this time one of the sovereigns who had become greatly interested in his tale of sufferings walked up in front of the speaker, wiped the tears from his eyes with the extremity of his coat tail, and interrupted with: "Did you say you had fought the British and the Injins?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you say you slept on the ground, while serving your country, without any kiver?"

"I did."

"Did you say your feet covered the ground you walked over with blood."

"I did," said the speaker, exultingly.

"Well, then," said the sovereign, as he gave a sigh of tearful emotion, "I guess I'll vote for t'other fellow; for I'll be blamed if you ain't done enough for your country."

HE KNOWS.—Don Piatt describes the New York Independent as "a moral dry goods advocate of isms that tend to free love and a general unsettling of all that we hold near and dear, and sacred. One half is given up to the praises of God and the other to putting money in the pockets of its proprietors." "I speak advisedly," he continues, "when I say that the columns are, and ever have been, open to purchase, and every quackery possessed of sufficient coin can find insertion and a religious tinge to make it acceptable." This is illustrative of Beecherism.

The Venango Spectator says: An old boy of eighty summers and a resident of Erie, eloped with a buxom widow of forty-five, last week. The parties were overhauled at Cleveland and the old fellow came back to his own wife of seventy years. They kissed, agreed to let bygones be bygones, and Aiker, that is his name, says he is done sowing his wild oats and will settle down to continuency.

A Western paper, commenting on the high price of eggs, thinks that "hens could make piles of money now by paying strict attention to business."

Hoar's Legal Tender Decision.

The United States Attorney General, Judge Hoar, put forth, as the basis of his argument the other day, in favor of re-opening the late decision of the Supreme Court in the Legal Tender question, that the verdict of that body was rendered on the majority of but a single member of it; and gravely laid down the proposition that so momentous a question should not be decided by the voice of one man. This was a drive at the Chief Justice, S. P. Chase. But how will the case stand if the verdict of this supreme body is reversed under the reargument concluded upon? It will be remembered that there are now two new members, Bradley and Strong, who were not on the Bench when the case was decided before. Should they both render an opinion adverse to that now before the country, and which Judge Hoar finds fault with, then a majority of one only, as before, will seal the verdict. Are the opponents of such an opinion expected to accept this majority of one, deciding in favor of paper payments of contracts, when the other side, headed by Hoar, refuses to accept the majority, of one against paper?

But Judge Hoar is not correct in his declaration that the opinion of a single member of the Court turned the scale in the late decision. There were eight members of the body present, and five of them including Judge Grier, agreed to the opinion rendered, while three took the negative. This would give a majority of two. Judge Grier, however, having previously tendered his resignation, to take effect upon a future date, the Attorney-General declares is rendered a nullity there, and his vote is held to count nothing. This is the way the majority is reduced by Judge Hoar to one. If this is not pettifogging a case, then we never saw it done. Now, let us see what the Massachusetts lawyer has to say when the majority on his side of the House is reduced to one, as it will be if the late decision is reversed.—Day Book.

HOW SOUTHERN OUTRAGES ARE MANUFACTURED.—Mr. Farnsworth, a full-blooming Radical, and a member of the Reconstruction Committee of the House, in his recent speech against General Butler's Georgia bill disclosed the manner in which a certain class of bills in relation to the South are passed. It is this: "Whenever one of these bills was to be passed, the Washington Chronicle published accounts of so great outrages that immediately the Reconstruction Committee was called together and a bill reported to the House. He remembered that last year a gentleman, a very clever fellow, but a man whose politics were always those of the reigning dynasty, who had sold arms to the people of Georgia in the winter of 1860 '61 with which to shoot down Union soldiers, went down to Georgia, and, with the assistance of Governor Bullock manipulated the Legislature, and got a Commissioner appointed to examine his claim for payment for these arms. The Commissioner was manipulated so as to make a favorable report, but the Legislature refused to adopt it or to pay the claim. Thereupon that man came on to Washington full of sorry, his heart wrung to its very depths, with tears in his eyes over the terrible persecutions of the negroes and loyal men of Georgia. That man was in favor of the recon struction of Georgia at once. What was his touchstone? It was that he could get his $25,000 and interest for the arms that he had sold in the State of Georgia."

GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC.—We all note the fact to-day that a huge number of important (?) characters in society are sailing under the titles of "Major," "General," "Colonel," &c., earned in the late war. So highly honorable are these titles supposed to be, that the wives of the military gentlemen are introduced as Mrs. Major So and So, Mrs. General, &c. But it appears that the honors claimed to have been won by white soldiers of the Northern army are strongly questioned by their "cullud companions in arms." Wendell Phillips, and the entire nigger element of the nation, dispute the claim of white victories by the Northern soldiers. It was the "negro" who "saved the country," not the white "patriots;" and they think it quite time for the white generals, majors, &c., to subside, and retire into the back ground. To Sambo belongs all the glory. The lamented (!) Stanton, Secretary of War, told Wendell Phillips that the white military element of the North was on the point of failure when two hundred thousand negro soldiers came to its assistance, and saved the assaulted legions from being gobbled up by Davis, Lee & Co. Such being the case, pray tell us, members of the grand army, &c., what the "grand" is intended to express, unless it is grand failure, or grand humbug? To the nigger, then, belongs all the military glory (!) of the North. Stick to it, Sambo.—N. Y. Day Book.

MRS. MCFARLAND-RICHARDSON.—The N. Y. Express says: "The Woodside (N. J.) property of the late Albert D. Richardson is offered for sale, at public auction, by Mrs. McFarland, who has, it is alleged, caused flaming posters announcing the sale to be posted all around Woodstock, N. J.—Mrs. McFarland is represented in this poster to be Abby S. Richardson, guardian of the late Mr. Richardson's minor children—Leander, Maude and Albert. The bad taste displayed in this publication, made while the unfortunate McFarland is on trial for his life, appears to indicate that this lady is totally defiant of public opinion, and that she is not at all humiliated by the position she stands in, or in any degree ashamed of the reputation she has achieved. There can be no harm in expressing commiseration for the poor children left to such a guardianship."

A CALAMITY.—One of the saddest occurrences that has happened for many years took place at Richmond, Virginia, on Wednesday of last week. The Legislature was in session in the Capitol building, on the lower floor, and the United States Court on the second floor, where the mayoralty contest was going on before the court.—The room became so crowded that the floor gave way precipitating all in the court room, on the heads of the members of the Legislature, by which thirty persons were killed and over one hundred wounded, many of whom have since died.

Whether your religion be true or not, it will be tried; whether it be chaff or wheat, the fan of the Great Winnower will surely be brought into operation upon all that lies on the threshing-floor.

TOMB OF PRESIDENT POLK.—To-day I visited the tomb of President Polk. He is buried in the door yard about midway between his late residence and the street. Everything around the residence and tomb is very plain and unpretending. I met Mrs. Polk in her yard, and was cordially invited to view her late husband's premises. She is a very sociable lady, and she made numerous inquiries about Ohio men who were in Congress during Mr. Polk's administration, and among the number was our old friend Hon. Henry St. John. She had not heard of his death, and grieved to hear that he was no more. She picked me a boquet of flowers, which I hope I may save until I get home. As President Polk had no children, he willed his residence to the State of Tennessee, as a Governor's residence, at the death of wife. It is close to the capitol building, and is already looked upon and visited by strangers as public property.—Nashville Letter to Tiffin (Ohio) Advertiser.
