Any one in need of dry goods, notions, ladies' shoes, &c., would do well by calling at Wm. Reed's, Market Street, Clearfield, Pa. †

Some changes have been made in the time table of the Pennsylvania, Tyrone and Clearfield Railroad, which will interest the traveling public.

DIVINE SERVICES.—Rev. M. Officer, of York, Pa., will preach in the Lutheran church in this place, on Sabbath next, (June 12th,) at 10½ o'clock, A. M., and 7½ P. M.

That meteor seen in the northwestern horizon on Monday evening, was a grand sight, and undoubtedly is another evidence that Reed, Market Street, is selling the best goods at the lowest prices in the country. †

By reference to our advertising department this week, it will be seen that the Messrs. Wrigley Bros. have purchased of Mr. W. R. McPherson, his Butchering Establishment, and are now engaged in the business, to which they invite public attention.

Mr. G. S. Flegal, of Philipsburg, who is engaged in the manufacture of Tin, Copper and Sheet iron ware, and extensive dealer in Stoves, &c., is one whom the public will patronize, from the fact that he is a liberal advertiser, and those wanting anything in his line know just where to get it, and at prices corresponding with the times. Sum. is a clever fellow—so say those who have dealt with him. See his advertisement.

FIRE.—On Sunday, about noon, the residence of BARNEY OSSLER, of this place, was completely consumed by fire, with all its contents. It appears that Mr. and Mrs. OSSLER were at church, leaving a number of little children at home to take care of themselves and the house. About the time their parents were expected home, they tried to make a fire in the stove, when by some means to us unknown, the fire was communicated to the building, and in a very few minutes it was one mass of flames. Only through the presence of mind of a neighbor boy, was a small child, in the cradle, rescued. The household effects, with all the clothing of the family, except that at the time worn, were consumed.—Brookville Republican.

BURGLARY.—The house of T. B. Hoover, Esq., on Elk street, was entered by thieves on Thursday night last. The entrance was made through the cellar, and a gold watch and two hundred dollars in money stolen from the room in which Mr. and Mrs. Hoover were sleeping. The theives made their departure without awaking any of the family. An examination of the cellar in the morning showed that they tarried long enough to drink some milk and devoured a loaf of bread. Mr. Hoover knew nothing of the robbery until morning. He awoke with a sensation of sickness at the stomach, and there was an odor of chloroform or ether in the room, which leaves no doubt that himself and wife were drugged by the robbers. This is the fourth case of house robbery within a few months. It is about time that somebody was caught.—Franklin Spectator.

A terrific thunder storm passed over Canton, Bradford county, Saturday. The New York Circus was about commencing their performance when the storm stuck them. The tent was instantly blown on the heads of the audience, and a terrible scene ensued.—The horses becoming unmanageable through fright, broke away and dashed madly around, which, with the screams of the women, the terrific thunder, and last, but not least, the rain which poured in torrents—caused a scene that beggars description. The tent was finally held up by the men, while the ladies and children made their escape. They were the wettest lot of humanity ever congregated in that vicinity. One child is reported severely injured, and numerous persons slightly so.

During the same storm, a house, about four miles north of Canton, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground.

The Ebensburg Freeman says: "The largest run of raftmen that perhaps ever inundated our town, reached here homeward bound on Monday last. There were several hundred of them, and how they all got on the Branch train is a conundrum which remains unanswered. They made things lively for the few hours they were among us."

The last issue of the Tyrone Herald announces that that journal will be enlarged to eight columns and otherwise improved. W. H. H. Brainard, late of the Bellefonte National, will assist friend Jones in making the Herald a live paper.

The following named gentlemen are candidates for the Legislature, in Jefferson county, viz:—John McMurray, Edmund English, W. W. Corbet, and James H. Bell, Esqrs.

LINCOLNISM.—Rochefort, one of the editors of the Marseillaise, is in prison for denouncing in too strong language, the assassination of his brother editor Noir, by Pierre Bonaparte. Their successors, Barberet and Enne, have just been condemned, the former to one year's imprisonment, and ten thousand francs fine, the latter to three months' imprisonment and five thousand francs fine, and the journal is suspended. The Radical newspapers of this country will be delighted with this, and chant the praises of Napoleon with new vigor.

DO NOTHING COMMITTEES.—The business of appointing roving Congressional committees, to travel at the public expense during the summer and fall, has already began, the first one to a Senatorial committee to go with a clerk and sergeant-at-arms up and down the Mississippi river, and hear what the people have to say about the building of a levee by the government.

The oldest man on record lives in North Carolina, claims to be a hundred and forty-three years old, and is likely to live as much longer from all appearance. He has survived seven wives, and as the last one died sixty years ago he is beginning to feel lonesome and talks about going courting again.

Dr. Landis, of Philadelphia, who was convicted and sentenced to one year's imprisonment for publishing and selling obscene literature, has been pardoned by Governor Geary, after serving about three months of his time.

A daughter of David Russel of Indianapolis, Indiana, was burned to death on Tuesday night a week. She laid down with a lighted candle at her bedside, and the candle falling overset the bed clothes on fire.

The Louisville Courier Journal is of the opinion that if anything could atone for the infamous conduct of Gen. Ames in Mississippi, it is the reflection that he is to have Ben Butler for a father-in-law.

The next annual session of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, I. O. O. F., will be held in Harrisburg, on the third Tuesday of May, 1871.

A young man was stung by a bee in Chester county last week, which flew into his ear. He died in less than half an hour.

The McConnelsburg Lutheran church has a bell on it that was cast in Italy in 1736.

FORT SUMTER.—The Engineer Department will shortly commence work in rebuilding Fort Sumpter, which yet remains in the condition in which it was left at the close of the war. It is proposed to use it as a battery rather than as a fort, and consequently the works will not be rebuilt in the original dimensions, but of less height and greater thickness, and better fitted to withstand the effects of a continued bombardment. Much of the original material is available, and the expense of rebuilding will not be exorbitant.

The McFarland-Richardson case has been dramatized in San Francisco at the new Pacific Theatre. The death-bed marriage is made the chief incident, and is made intensely humorous by Horace Greeley giving away the bride and Senator Revels signing his name as witness. The leading comic role is that of Ned Harrigan, who plays and dresses Horace Greeley to the life. The denouement is a perfect reconciliation between McFarland and his wife, and the curtain falls upon their second nuptials, the ceremony being performed by Beecher and Frothingham.

A Catholic priest at Alton, Illinois, sends to the Secretary of the Treasury a check for three hundred dollars, and remarks that a receipt be sent to the Right Rev. P. J. Baltes, Roman Catholic Bishop of Alton. The writer also requests that no questions be asked concerning the money. It belongs to the United States, and all that he can say is that an old soldier at Mount Sterling, Ill., forwards it as conscience money, which he says belongs to the quartermaster's department.

Selinsgrove Times says: Mr. Wm. Gaugler, of this place tried his luck last week at shad fishing up near the dam. He succeeded in hauling out from twenty to thirty.—The fish question is of such great importance that, if the canal companies cannot be compelled to alter or amend their dams, we are in favor that the next Legislature make ample appropriation for the purpose, and that the work be done by the State. Is there a man who would object to this? Certainly not in the great valley of the Susquehanna.

Rev. Whittamore, the scalawag Congressman from South Carolina, who was expelled from his seat for speculating in cadetships, has been re-elected. His only competitor was a Mr. Dunn, also a Republican, but as he had some claims to respectability and honesty he seems to have made but a poor race. "Grand moral" ideas seem to prevail in reconstructed South Carolina. How are the mighty fallen!

Rhode Island, an intensely radical State, by its laws, require naturalized citizens to own one hundred and thirty-four dollars' worth of real estate, in order to become voters. Yet the same State allows Negroes to vote, without any property qualification whatever. Thus are the Negroes placed, politically above white men who have sworn to support and defend the Constitution of their adopted country.

The official majority in the State of New York for the Democratic candidate for Chief Justice, is announced to be 87,275. An old ring master of the Radical party in hearing the result, declared "the colored troops fought nobly; but they don't vote worth a cent."

NEGRO JURIES.—Southern negroes, by the aid of their carpet-bag allies, have discovered a way by which they can make their new right to sit on juries very valuable to themselves and their race.—Through their "loyal leagues" they combine to prevent the punishment of any colored person for crime against the white. The fact was developed in open court at Quincy, Florida, recently. A negro juror was asked by the State Attorney if he had taken an oath in any secret organization not to bring in a verdict, when acting as juror, against any of his color where a white man was interested, and he admitted that he had taken upon himself such an obligation. The chances of getting justice out of negro jury-boxes after this revelation, do not seem to be very good.

The Government is claiming to have done a big thing for the people by making the new postage stamps so much larger than the old ones, and not increasing the price That was kind of the Government.

A Louisiana negro who was paid his wages recently in silver coin, thanked God that he had "got some money that the rats couldn't chaw."

To keep out of debt—acquire the reputation of a rascal, and no one will trust you.
