The defeat of the rascals in North Carolina has brought out more Democratic Roosters than we have seen for many years.

"The Government" is scampering through the Western States; when last heard of it was at St. Louis.—Grant it, there is just where it started from.

Philip R. Mertz, a Pittsburg Banker, committed suicide on Friday; shooting himself through the heart in his banking house. He had been married about four months. Financial trouble bore him down.

Benj. B. French, an old and distinguished citizen of Washington, died suddenly on Friday. He held many places of trust, and stood on the highest round on the Masonic ladder, and was better known to the fraternity throughout the county than any other member.

GONE.—The "little bell" ringer, "irrepressible conflict" Seward, last week started on a pleasure trip to China and Japan. He will soon swing around the circle. Last season he "done" Mexico and South America.—Previous to that he and R. J. Walker "done up" Alaska in Washington, with seven millions in Gold, which he is now scattering North, South, East and West.

BREAKERS AHEAD.—The "loil millions" in the Northwest are falling to pieces. Congressman Scofield had better look to his laurels. With two Radical candidates for Judge in the Erie, Warren and Elk Judicial district, two of the same breed for Senator in the Erie and Crawford Senatorial district surely ought to make disturbance enough to give the Congressman, Senator and Judge to the Democrats. The rogues are falling out, hence honest men will get their dues.

THE EUROPEAN WAR.—Up to Tuesday morning we have no report of another conflict between the contending posts on the Rhine; but a battle is hourly expected. The late engagements have been far more severe than was anticipated. The loss has been very heavy on both sides. Hence the delay in renewing the contest.—The whole French Cabinet has resigned and new vigor is being infused into the Empire, and great will be the slaughter when the French attempt to drive the Prussian invaders from their soil.

DISAPPOINTED.—The Radicals are disconsolate and will not be comforted since the Kentucky, Tennessee and North Carolina elections. They expected a shower of Negro votes in the former States, and the latter, with Grant and Holden's bayonets and negroes to intimidate the white votes, was considered pop sure for the "loil millions," by 10,000 majority. The shower in Kentucky was not much of a shower after all. The Democratic majority is over 50,000, and by the time another election comes around there will not be found 10,000 niggers and whites in North Carolina mean enough to vote the carpet bag ticket, while Tennessee is wholly given over to "the old Union Savers."

"NO USE, SAMBO."—The Louisville Courier-Journal thus sums up and enforces the true meaning of the late election in Kentucky: "The Democratic majority in Kentucky will exceed fifty thousand. The Radicals have not carried a single county in the State. With all their efforts, with the aid of the independents, with the acquisition of the negro vote, with a perfect organization arrayed against a party whose strength has made it weak, at least in discipline, they have been able to achieve nothing. They had the eager, undeveloped assurance of a new hope to inspire them. They had a body of census takers in every neighborhood to instruct them. They encountered a divided and undrilled antagonist. The result is an overwhelming victory for the Democratic party. The Radicals will never have a better chance. They have shown themselves just strong enough to consolidate the Democratic elements, and to enforce strict Democratic discipline."

A Candid Confession by a Republican Newspaper.

In the Evening Telegraph, one of the ablest Republican newspapers of Philadelphia, we find the following remarkable article occupying a prominent place in the editorial columns.—It speaks plain truths which may serve as a warning to Republicans and an encouragement to Democrats:

LINE UPON LINE!

The North Carolina election is another grave admonition to the Republican party that it can maintain its supremacy only by promptly correcting the evils it has too long cherished within itself. While the issues of the war were undecided, patriotic men would close their eyes to corruption, to incompetent or otherwise unworthy candidates, and to the madness of selfish leaders, and vote the Republican ticket to save the country; but now the war has garnered the fulness of its harvest, and honest citizens will no longer be made the supple tools of corruptionists.

Every election held this year has been a fresh notice to the Republican leaders that the party must reform itself. Connecticut opened the campaign of 1870 with disaster, whereby a faithful and patriotic Governor was displaced by 890 majority. Oregon followed, and one of the ablest and most blameless of our Republican Senators lost his place. Washington city followed with an open and decisive rebuke to the political managers who claimed to be the Republican party. New York, hitherto a debatable State, gave nearly 90,000 Democratic majority, when the political complexion of her courts of last resort was involved. Kentucky gave no substantial Republican gains, even with her large colored vote polled for the first time. Tennessee has given over her courts to the Conservatives, thus surrendering the last vestige of Republican power in that State, and now comes North Carolina, in the face of bayonets forced upon the people by the ill-advised counsels of bad leaders, with a Legislature two thirds Democratic, and but two Republicans in the entire Congressional delegation. A Senator is thus sacrificed, and a long stride taken toward making the next Congress Democratic.

With all these admonitions, the professed Republican leaders close their ears to wisdom. Instead of meeting the issue frankly, and appealing to the intelligence of the people, we are met with the startling proposition that Georgia must not hold an election, because the Republicans cannot carry the State! This reckless suggestion to nullify the laws and defy the people is made this morning by a Republican contemporary. If not hold an election in Georgia, why hold one in any other State? It is conceded that the Republicans cannot gain Congressmen, while it is most likely that they must lose some in most of the States. Why not, therefore decide that all the Legislatures, and all the Congressmen, and all the Governors shall hold over until matters can be arranged for Republican victories?—The only reason for not holding an election is that the Republicans will be defeated; and the same rule will apply with equal if not increased potency in all other States, if mad leaders insist upon defying popular opinion and insulting the intelligence and patriotism of a people peculiarly jealous of popular rights.

North Carolina was last, as were most of the other States sacrificed this year by selfish and blind leadership. Gov. Holden allowed the honor and credit of his State to be destroyed by irresponsible adventurers with the hope of securing a seat in the Senate; and, to make assurance doubly sure, he undertook to force political results by armed Jayhawkers, who defied the laws, ignored justice, and disregard the courts. The result was a change of 25,000 to 30,000 against the Republicans and the surrender of the State to Democracy for years to come.

In Pennsylvania the same mad policy is aimed at. The Republican party can succeed only by deserving the approval and confidence of the intelligent and patriotic people of the State. Its abuses, corruptions and subordination to shameless pretenders like Cameron, are justly appreciated by all sections, and unless the Republican organization, as an organization, shall show an earnest, determined purpose to reform itself, and restore the State to faithful government, we shall lose half a dozen or more Congressmen, and possibly the Legislature. Senators like Wilson and Cameron, who bowed to the Washington lobby and continued the inquisitorial income tax to save corporations from tax on gross receipts, may levy heavy tribute upon starving clerks to defray election expenses, but all the power of money or patronage will fail to give the Republicans victory if the party does not earn it by deserving it.

STAGGERS THEM.—The White man's victory in North Carolina has knocked the "loil millions of the North" off their pins. The overthrow of Grant and Holden and their negro allies is demoralizing the disunion hosts everywhere. The doom of scalawags, carpet-baggers, demagogues and negroes is sealed. A political hell is yawning for its ungodly hosts. The suicides, Lane, King and Stanton, are waiting for their comrades in crime.

IT'S SO!—The best campaign document is a good political newspaper. As it is distributed periodically, and contains the latest intelligence and general reading that interests every family, this medium of influencing public opinion should commend itself to all Democrats! You can do more with a newspaper as a campaign document than with anything else. Therefore subscribe for the Clearfield Republican.

Whittemore, the cadet broker, an expelled and rejected Radical member of Congress, has withdrawn from the Congressional canvass in South Carolina and meekly consents to become a candidate for the Senate of that State. Whittemore could not get the nomination for Dog Detective in these parts, except from the Republicans.

THE bill passed by Congress at its last session provides that after October 1st no stamp will be required upon receipts for any amount, nor upon promissory notes of a less sum than one hundred dollars. It also provides that no stamp shall be required upon the transfer or assignment of a mortgage where the instrument has been once duly stamped.

Napoleon III, Emperor of the French.

Louis Napoleon's full name is Charles Louis Napoleon Bonaparte. He was born in Paris, in the palace of the Tuilleries, April 20th, 1808, and is over sixty-two years of age. He is the third son of Louis Bonaparte, brother of the first Emperor Napoleon. His mother was the Ex-Queen of Hortense. Louis Napoleon received his early education in the castle of Aremsbirg, on the shores of Lake Constance. He displayed a fancy for history and the exact sciences, was fond of athletic sports, and in Switzerland he developed an aptitude for military strategy.

He served for some time as a volunteer in the military camp at Thun. In 1830 he took part in the insurrection in the Pontificial States with his brother; the latter died at Fodi, and Louis was dangerously ill at Ancona, and only saved by the devoted nursing of his mother. He fled from Ancona, on the approach of the Austrians, to France; was expelled from France by Louis Phillippe, went to England and thence returned to Switzerland.

In 1831 the Crown of Poland and the command of the Polish legions were offered him. The death, in 1832 of the Duke of Reichstadt, the only son of Napoleon I, opened the future to his ambitious hopes; from that time his whole life, speculative and practical, was devoted to the realization of what now became his "fixed idea"—that he was to become sovereign of France. In 1836, he attempted a coup d'etat, at Strasbourg, against Louis Phillipe, and failed; was taken prisoner to Paris, and exiled to America. He shortly returned to Switzerland, on account of the illness of his mother, who died October 2, 1837.

He went thence to London; in 1839 to Scotland; in 1840 he made another attempt at the throne of France, failed, was captured, brought to trial, and condemned to perpetual imprisonment in the fortress of Ham. Here he did much literary work, and finally escaped May 24, 1846, by the help of Dr Conneau, in the disguise of a workman, and gained the Belgian frontier, whence he returned to England.

The revolution February, 1848, caused him to return to France; he professed to be devoted to the views of the Provisional Government. He was, however, by the latter, requested to leave the country, and promised to do so; but being elected deputy of for Paris and three other departments, he took his seat in the Constitutional Assembly June 13th, 1848.—After a stormy debate he resigned his seat the 15th of June and left France. He was called to France in September, 1848, by a quintuple election and again appeared in the Assembly, the avowed candidate for the Presidency. He was elected by a vote of 5,562,166 out of 7,500,000 votes. December 20th he took the oath of allegiance to the Republic.

In 1849 his enemies, who believed him devoted to his own interests rather than to those of the Republic, manifested a strong opposition to his policy. An anarchic condition of things continued until he put a stop thereto by the coup d' etat of December 2, 1851. Under the pressure of his power, following this coup d' etat, he was elected President of the Republic December 20th and 21st, for ten years, and invested with all the powers he demanded by more than seven million suffrages.

A year afterward he assumed the title and prerogatives of Emperor, thus attaining the goal of his early ambition. In 1853 he married Eugenie Marie, Countess of Montijo, a Spanish lady of great beauty, by whom he has one child, the Prince Imperial, born March 16, 1855.

STRIKING BACK.—Not a very respectable record is that of the Secretary of the Republican Executive Congressional Committee, which is alleged to have been sustained by testimony at Washington. The items in the record are, dismissal from the army for cowardice, misappropriation of funds and conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman. The fun of the thing is that the charges were hunted up and verified by the government clerks whom the secretary has been mulcting of one per cent. on their salaries for the benefit of the party. Had he let them alone he would probably have been left in the enjoyment of a good character. He was trying to run his hounds down too cruelly, and, as in the case of Acteon, they turned upon him and tore him to pieces. Served him right.—N. Y. Herald.

MISTAKEN SOULS.—There are Republican editors who flatter themselves that the excitement consequent upon the war in Europe will overshadow the negro suffrage and equality question, and that they will thus escape the responsibility their party has incurred in forcing these evils upon the country. But they will be disappointed. Events may turn as they will across the water, the course of the Radical party has been too iniquitous to be forgotten or forgiven.

Democrats, here and everywhere, hold the Radicals to their record! They have, by chicanery and fraud, forced the negro on the level with the white man! Compel them to "face the music," and take the consequences. Do not let the war excitement in Europe draw your minds from the evils Radicalism has inflicted upon our country. The difference between Despotism and Radicalism is not much.

The Washington Evening Star is decidedly funny on the France and Prussia question: "Napoleon sick at Cloud and everything at a stand still! Gentlemen, this is not satisfactory.—Gentlemen, emperors, kings, Napoleons, Bismarks, grand armies, and all the rest of you, proceed with your show. Collide, explode, slosh about and blow up things. Produce your needle guns, your Chassepots and all the rest of your infernal enginery.—Display your gore, your cracked noses and broken heads." And in the language of General Grant, let us have peace!

The establishment of a national gold bank in Boston under the new law is probably the forerunner of a number of others throughout the country. It is consoling to feel in the establishment of such banks that we have reached something tangible and permanent pointing towards specie payments—something not forced, but springing spontaneously from a fair spirit of competition between the great bank monopolists of the country.

THE government has been removed from Washington to Long Branch. It can be seen every fine afternoon in Bonner's trotting wagon.

The Carpet-Bag Governments Breaking Up.

The overwhelming defeat of Gen. Grant's Administration in North Carolina foreshadows its downfall in all the former slaveholding States. For a time after the war the rule of the carpet-baggers in the South, was a matter of necessity. The old dominant class did not take kindly to the new order of things which sprang from the success of the Union arms. The inroad of a governing element from the North was the natural result; and that it should bring in its train a body of adventurers was almost a thing of course. The folly of the late insurgents in listening to the advice of Andrew Johnson, and arraying themselves in political hostility to the Republican party and its plan of reconstruction, gave these adventurers the vantage ground from the very start, and soon opened the door for the more unscrupulous among them to become plunderers and robbers.

The fruits of the carpet-bag reign of the last five years are what might be searched in vain for governments so immoral, so shamelessly corrupt, so hopelessly rotten, as those now prevailing in the South. Politically they may be changed; but this cannot cure one of the sorest of the evils already inflicted. These scamps have run the States they rule ruinously into debt. The Legislatures controlled by them pledged the States to the discharge of pecuniary obligations of crushing weight, to the future redemption of an enormous amount of bonds and to the imposition of enormous taxes through a series of years. This has been done in furtherance of all sorts of schemes whereby the authors reap present wealth and anticipate larger gains in the immediate future. These burdens have already seriously embarrassed all of these States, and well nigh bankrupted some of them; and to save them from ruin, the reign of the carpet-bag robbers must be speedily brought to an end.

There would seem to be no good reason why the honest men in these sorely plundered States should not band together, irrespective of past political differences, and wrest them out of the hands of the thieves that despoil them. All the issues which made their advent even a possibility have been settled. Let the better class of old citizens accept the situation in good faith, and assure the negroes that there is no disposition to deprive them of the new-born privileges, and there will be an uprising of the people that will drive out these ravenous villians, and restore to the States what they have not had since they plunged into rebellion nine years ago, stable, thrifty, respectable governments.

These corrupt carpet-bag usurpations are the outlying supports of Gen. Grant's Administration. They sustain him by their votes, and he maintains them by his bayonets.—Their downfall will herald his overthrow. But let those who invoke a change repudiate all idea of resorting to violence. It was the threat of the Tammany Pesidential Convention of 1868 that their candidate, if elected, would break up these governments by force, which made his defeat both a necessity and a certainty. The people will tolerate no such slogan now, any more than then. Orderly proceedings through the ballot-box will prove to be the efficient, as they are the only tolerable, mode of effecting this reform.—N. Y. Sun.

ANOTHER REBEL.—The New York Sun says: Zealous Republicans will be interested in learning something about the appointment of Col. Ambrose C. Dunn, of Virginia, to be both Consul General and Marshal of the United States, at Hakodadi, in Japan. This double-headed appointment was smuggled through the Senate at the eleventh hour, on the 15th of July, the day of the adjournment. The two offices are said to be worth jointly $15,000 a year.

Dunn was during the whole war in the service of the Confederate Government, and derives his title as Col. from a commission he received to raise a regiment for Jeff Davis. Since the war he has by some strange concatenation been in the service of the Internal Revenue Department, first as a storekeeper and afterward as Assistant Inspector in a Virginia District. Why should Gen. Grant appoint him to two offices worth $15,000 a year? We leave the question to those more skillful than we in the solution of difficult conundrums.

THE JUDICIAL CONFERENCE.—The Republican Judicial Conference reassembled at Irvington on the 10th, and after two days ineffectual balloting, the Erie conferees withdrew, when the Warren and Elk conferees nominated L. D. Wetmore, of Warren.—Mr. Woodruff, of Erie, will be an independent candidate. This will, we think, render the election of a Democrat almost certain. We would here suggest that the Democratic Conference be held in Warren on the 7th of September. The suggestion of the Erie Democracy is acceptable so far as the date is concerned, but not as to the place.—Elk Democrat.

Peter Ferguson tried to open a box of nitro-glycerine in Denver with a crowbar, and now it is believed by his most intimate personal friends that he has emigrated to China—although a piece of undershirt and a necktie have been found, with a shinbone and three toe nails, about forty miles out of Denver.

Edward Searles, of Sing Sing, in the jumping match at Binghamton, N. Y., a few days ago for the championship of the United States, jumped thirteen feet two inches, and Robert Way, his competitor's best jump was twelve feet and seven inches. Searles's jump is the longest standing jump on record in the world.

THE New York Times, in its remarks on the North Carolina election, seems to regret that there were no scenes of riot and bloodshed to indorse Governor Holden's rascally conduct, and it concludes by saying "there is a possibility of managing election matters too much."

AT a judicial election held in Memphis, Tennessee, on the 4th instant, the Radicals were beaten by two thousand majority. As usual, Grant's officeholders are hunting up negroes to swear they were intimidated, with a view of contesting the election.

THE fashionable churches of New York and Brooklyn have agreed upon an armistice with the enemy until September, to enable the pastors and congregations to enjoy the pleasures of Newport, Long Branch, and other resorts of shoddy.

RADICAL CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF.—The politicians of both political parties in Cumberland county have been terribly excited over the contest for the nominations for the respective offices. On the Radical side, one of the candidates for the sheriffalty nomination is a negro. The Valley Democrat gives the following account of his electioneering visit to Mechanicsburg: "Dick Johnson, black, of Carlisle, was in town last week, soliciting the white radicals to support him for the Republican nomination for Sheriff.—Richard urged his claims among his radical brethren with considerable force. One old gentleman of the radical persuasion, we are told, went away from Richard very much incensed at the 'nigger's' audacity, and it is said, expressed himself in language more forcible than elegant.—Richard was also well provided with copies of the Carlisle Herald which he distributed quite freely, saying 'dat was de paper he supported, and it contained all de information necessary for de guidance of de instruction of both white and black radicals.' We 'hope de white trash' of the radical faith will not overlook Dick's claims. We think the brightest pair of radical politicians in Cumberland county is black Dick Johnson and the white chap who runs the Shippensburg News. They ought to be looped together."—Valley Spirit.

THE CADET MERCHANTS.—Mr. J. H. Sypher has been renominated for Congress in Louisana. Whittemore would like to run again in South Carolina. Butler, of Tenessee, also.—These men are all cadet-sellers, and Butler has added to his fame by swindling pensioners, female, as well as male, and defrauding the Pension Bureau.

These are fit representatives of Radicalism and the natural fruit of the reconstruction measures of Congress. Sypher, who was beaten in the canvass by some 14,000 majority, which his friends could not cut down lower than 10,000, was reported as elected by the Committee on Elections, and was actually voted into his seat by the House. The country was saved, however, from the disgrace of his membership of Congress by a reconsideration of the vote—which action led to his rejection. What are his chances for an election, we are not advised. Whittemore will probably not run again. Andrew Johnson has been nominated by the Democrats in Butler's district, and the latter, if nominated, may be beaten. It is to be hoped that he will. One Butler is enough in the House.—Sunday Mercury.

THE negro Senator Revels brought with him to Washington a private Secretary. Whether white or colored the papers do not state, but it is now announced that the sable Senator has turned his Secretary adrift and the poor fellow finds himself in a strange land, without friends, and "nary red" in his pocket. A subscription has been started in his behalf, headed by Senator Sumner, who subscribes five dollars. The impecunious Secretary is in Washington where the black Senator left him, when he started out to enlighten the white Radicals of Yankee land.

THE carpet-baggers who have been preying upon the people of the south, and trying to live by securing offices which would enable them to steal, are packing to return to their homes with whatever of spoils they managed to gather together. The North Carolina election sounds their doom, and the whole race will be speedily consigned to merited oblivion.

The old-line whigs in Virginia, who were disposed to keep up a separate organization as conservatives, have abandoned the idea and unite cordially with the Democrats in their efforts to save the State from the hands of the parricides.

A Washington dispatch says "Grant is not at home to Mr. Sumner."—Whereupon Sumner's friends reply that "Grant is not at home more than half the time to anybody else but horse jockeys and whiskey bummers."

THE defeat of Grant, Holden, Kirk, and the Radical party in North Carolina, is described by the Press as "not much of a shower after all." Like Mercutio's wound, however, it "will do" for the Radical party and for us.

THE Conneautville Record has found the greatest curiosity of the season. It is in the shape of a man who refuses to take a newspaper for fear it might "wean his attention away from the Bible!"

We see it stated that Mr Frelinghuysen will not accept the English mission. Being a respectable man he does not care to serve under an administration already disgraced.

Ladies who wear much chignon will be delighted to learn that a great proportion of the back hair now sold is cut from the heads of convicts in the penitentiaries.

EXTRACTED FOR 25 CENTS.

Extracted with the use of Nitrous Oxyd Gas, and Local Anaesthetics, (the only harmless and efficient Anaesthetics now in use,) by

S. J. HAYES, Surgeon Dentist,
OF CURWENSVILLE, PA.,

Who would hereby most respectfully return his thanks for the liberal patronage of the past, and inform the public that he has removed his office to the corner of State and Locust streets, (over Jenkins' store,) where he is prepared to receive his customers in newly fitted up rooms, and do their work in the most skillful and workmanlike manner. All work done in the latest and most approved styles, and guaranteed.

Dr. Hayes will be engaged in his office from the 1st to the 23d of each month. The balance of each month he will spend in Glen Hope, Burnside and Luthersburg, alternately. Parties residing at a distance should write to us previous of their coming. Office hours. From 8 to 12 o'clock, a. m., and from 1 to 5 o'clock, p. m.

We use none but the very best material, and defy competition for beauty, cheapness and durability. Give us a call.
Curwensville, Pa., May 25, 1870.

WILTBERGER'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS are warranted equal to any made. They are prepared from the fruits, and will be found much better than many of the Extracts that are sold. Ask your Grocer or Druggist for Wiltberger's Extracts. BARLOW'S INDIGO BLUE is, without doubt, the best article in the market for bluing clothes. It will color more water than four times the same weight of indigo, and much more than any other wash blue in the market. The only genuine is that put up at ALFRED WILTBERGER'S DRUG STORE, No. 233 North Second Street, Philadelphia. The labels have both Wiltberger's and Barlow's name on them, all others are counterfeit. For sale by most Grocers and Druggists. WILTBERGER'S INDELIBLE INK will be found on trial to be a superior article. Always on hand and for sale at reasonable prices. Pure Ground Spices, Genuine Medicines, Chamois Skins, Sponges, Tapioca, Pearl, Sago, and all articles in the drug line, at
