

Made at the turn of the hour day. And in the peaceful evening light, Every day that finds some "what is I pray, You'll find the living fire so bright.

All in a night, when they are not here, Long in the distance, phantom like, they flow I can't forget, drifting, and they seem— You'll find the living fire so bright.

Ever in my heart an echoing sound, Yields up its time to Love's melting hand, O'er my lips it flows, and I am glad, Unconscious by a shadow to leave hand.

Not you, my love, you have not ever left, God knows how I love! Darling, farewell— Trusting's Magazine.

Grant and Dent took a drink at the Sherman House, in Chicago, and the barkeeper, who didn't know them, on noticing what large drinks they poured out, asked them if they were going to take a bath.

The niggers of Cincinnati have held a convention to denounce the Labor Congress, for refusing to admit niggers to that body. Niggers must now be admitted everywhere, or the whole white population is threatened with utter extermination by the darkey.

ACCIDENTS.—The Bellefonte Watchman of last week furnishes us the following: On the 27th ult., (Tuesday) while Mr. Henry Faust, of Port Matilda, was engaged in hauling wood off the ridge, his son, who was upon the loaded wagon, accidentally fell off, and one of the hind wheels passed over his neck, killing him instantly. This heart-rending occurrence will secure for the bereaved and stricken parents the sympathy of the whole community, and proves that in "the midst of life we are in death."

Mr. John H. Jacobs, of Snow Shoe, gunsmith, having repaired a gun that was left to him, started to take it home to the owner, and, thinking he might see something to shoot on the way, took his own gun with him, loading them both. On his way he saw a squirrel run up a tree, and placing one gun on the ground, with the muzzle leveled against his breast, fired at the squirrel; but, while in the act, the other gun was accidentally discharged also, the contents entering his left arm, from the effects of which the unfortunate man died to death. He was buried on Saturday.

A SAB CASUALTY.—On Monday morning last the keeper of the elk in Judge Packer's deer park, at Packer, was found in the park dead, and his body literally torn to pieces. The discovery was made by Mr. Lafayette Lenz, who was driving past. The appearance of the body of the unfortunate man and of the surroundings indicated that he had died a most horrible death, having been gored and trodden to a bruised mass by one of the elk. The murderous beast was shortly afterwards found with his horns bloody and portions of the dead man's clothing clinging to them. The keeper was a one-armed man, named Adam Heimbinger, a German. He was unmarried and had no relatives in this country. There were three of these monsters in the park, besides several deer and antelope, at the time the incident occurred. A coroner's inquest was held by Thomas Kemmer, Esq., and the body decently interred.

THE AFFAIR THROU A GLOOM OF HORROR over the whole community, as he was a genial fellow, and much thought of for his good nature and pleasant manners. He had come here to mourn for him, but the whole town was saddened by his terrible fate.—Mensch Church Democrat.

FIRE.—On last Saturday morning about 3 o'clock, the large farm dwelling on the corner of Main and Mill streets, owned and occupied by T. P. Rynder, as a music store and dwelling house, was set on fire and so badly burnt as to virtually destroy the front building. The building was insured for 4,000 in the Home of New York and Home of New Haven. The contents of the music store were entirely destroyed, including sheet music, a number of small instruments, and two parlor organs; also, Mr. Rynder's account books. Two pianos in the private parlors were saved. A portion of the furniture was saved. The furniture and stock were insured. Miss Rose Rynder lost her wardrobe, which was partially covered by insurance.

The fire was discovered by some citizens who happened to be passing along. It commenced in the upper front corner of the music store, most probably on the inside, and was the work of an incendiary. Those who discovered it immediately went to arouse the inmates. This they did with some difficulty, as all were most profoundly asleep. Mrs. Rynder, the mother, upon awaking got the rest of the family up, excepting Mr. Theodor Rynder, whose room was over the back part of the store and separated from the others by a passage way. Upon Mrs. Rynder attempting to get to his room she was not and stopped by a dense volume of smoke. She called loudly for him a number of times before he responded. Then he was unable to get down through the hall, owing to the smoke, and had to escape through a window on to a back shed, where he dressed.

The fire proceeded in the corner of the building to the roof, across which it spread, leaving the back part of the upper story unburnt and both first and second story rooms of the Mill street side of the house, but it was all sluiced with water. The back building was not touched by the fire, though some what damaged by water.—Lock Haven Democrat of the 20th.

THE SPY SYSTEM.—It is stated from Washington that the special agents or detectives are creating intense trouble in the Treasury or Interior Departments by causing false arrests and thus mortifying the heads of bureaus. Then why do the bureau keep that disreputable class of sneaks in the departments? Spies were not needed and were never used in any of the Federal departments until the Radical party came into power? There have certainly been thieves enough in office since then to require an army of detectives if they are of any use. The revenue bureau alone has developed, according to official report, no less than three hundred and forty of them, whose aggregate stealings amount to between six and ten million of dollars! What would have been the amount without the check which it is supposed the spy system exerts? Who can tell? It was no doubt on the principle of "set a thief to catch a thief" that the Radical heads at Washington set one lot of office-holders as spies over the rest. It was a politic stroke, too. While it made tolerably good paying places for those designated as spies, and kept them out of places where they could steal, it made them doubly active in watching those who got office so that the latter should not get too much ahead of them in the pecuniary advantages. When they made common cause of it, however, then there was heavy pull, of course, on the Federal funds, requiring an investigating committee and the whitewashing operation. There is not honor enough, however, among either class to stick together long and closely, so that in this instance it may be said there is no honor among thieves. This is a great gain to the Government.

DARING ATTEMPT AT ARSON.—On last Sunday night, about 11 o'clock, a daring attempt was made to fire the grocery store of J. M. Emory & Co., 91 West Clinton Avenue. The assault was made in the cellar. A coal oil barrel was turned on end, and was put a box filled with shavings and saturated with the oil. This was set on fire and soon the flooring caught. The clerk in the store discovered it just about the time it had got through the floor. The small house for sprinkling was got out, and, with the assistance of neighbors, the fire was extinguished. Being in a frame row, had it not been for the water works the fire must have spread widely and been very serious.—Lock Haven Dem.

One negro recently beat three white carpet bidders as a Radical candidate for Congress in the First Alabama District, and now comes the news that Dr. Norton, black, beat Dr. Douglas, white, for the nomination for the First Virginia District. In both districts the white Radicals have revolted. This is a flat-footed political rebellion, and Grant ought at once to write a letter similar to that he forwarded to the Federal officials of Missouri the other day. What waiting and gnashing of teeth there will be among the black and tan loyalists ere long.

Nobody ever dreamed that the Democratic party could make head way against Radical fanaticism in the State of Vermont. What, therefore, must be everybody's surprise to learn that in the Vermont election which occurred last Tuesday, the Democracy gained four or five members of the general assembly, and actually elected a State Senator, by five hundred majority, in a district which heretofore has usually given 1,400 Radical majority? Can it be possible that reason is rising over the throne even in benighted Vermont?

WHERE THE MONEY GOES.—Upon page 1045 of the Pamphlet Laws for 1870 can be found a copy of an Act passed last winter, allowing Harry W. Gray the sum of fifteen hundred dollars, for "furniture furnished by said Gray for the Governor's mansion." As Harry deals in Pianos we presume a Piano was the article of furniture furnished. If so, we think the Governor's mansion contains the most expensive Piano in these United States, paid for by "we the people." This is only a small item, but it is robbery, nevertheless.

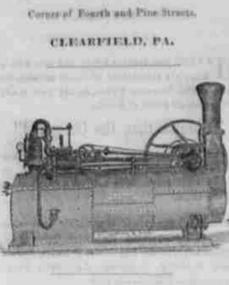

A POEM.—The man Woodford, who has been nominated for Governor by the negro party of New York, is a nomination fit to be made by such a party, for he was colonel of a negro regiment in the war. This is his chief merit. The swagger of some of his foolish friends, that he wants to meet Governor Hoffman in debate, is an insult to Hoffman, who is a gentleman, and would have to descend many pegs to meet such a fellow as Woodford.

RETIREMENT OF COLFAX.—Schuyler Colfax has written a letter in which he positively says he will retire from public life at the close of his Vice President term. As Don Pittt once said, Colfax for the last twenty years has been running more machinery, with less boiler, than any man in America. It follows that he must be fatigued and needs rest. His exit will increase the average value of the public men of the Radical party.

Wendell Phillips is out in favor of Sumner and Revere for President and Vice President in 1872. Theodore Tilton, editor of the Independent, prefers Butler and Revere. An exchange thinks a stronger ticket could not be made, unless there were two negroes instead of one.

Columbus, Dayton, and Toledo, O., have been running a very close race in the matter of population. Columbus 31,238, Dayton, 31,366, and Toledo, 31,608.

A man who lived not far from here, I think lived here at his trade, and had had a household to support. That squandered all his means. I met him once. I give you the name, which I will send to RICHENSTEIN & CO. He took what little he had saved, and went to RICHENSTEIN & CO. And there he got a handsome suit. For half he paid to others. Now he is home, he looks as well, and they think it such, that when they meet their daily meal, they don't eat half as much. And now he ends on Saturday night, with all their wants supplied.
