FALLING LEAVES.

They are falling, slowly falling, Think upon the forest side, Where the leaves are falling.

A Rightful Struggle.

When at last the boat settled down, the Syrian plunged into the stream, and kept his head well above it.

GRANT'S SECOND COUSIN?

But who is this second cousin? He lives in the town of Lebanon, Ohio, once famous as the residence of Tom Corwin.

NOTHING LIKE SCIENCE.

Nothing like science—Stephen Pearl Andrews, a professional philosopher and philanthropist of New York has just enunciated for a benighted world, the fundamental principles of "Cosmological Science."

THE NEW YORK ELECTION.

As the day of election in New York approaches the feelings of the people grow warmer, and at this time the Empire city may be said to be in a political ferment.

The Destruction of St. Cloud.

The telegraph, with that cold precision and terrible exactitude which distinguishes some of its revelations, has informed us of the destruction of the Chateau de St. Cloud.

Home-Outside and Inside.

Bayard Taylor, in speaking of his home planned by himself, says: "I made two mistakes in the start; the first was, I allowed my thoughts to dwell too much on the outside of the house; fitting the interior arrangements to the external forms instead of the reverse."

Perjury in Divorce Cases.

The method of obtaining divorces is easy and infamous enough. The facility which Indiana law affords for the final separation of man and wife, the destruction of family ties, the shield it throws over the violation of marriage vows, and the demoralization of households, which it effects, are alike no less.

When to be Idle.

There are undoubtedly seasons and periods when it is wise to commence it is not worth while to commence any undertaking, great or serious, unless there are studies which it is not worth a man's while to take up, pursuits which it is not worth his while to follow, minutes and half hours which it is not worth while to fill with an occupation.

SCALAWAG.

A SCALAWAG.—The following is pronounced by commentators, to be a life-like picture of a "scalawag." He is as disagreeable to look upon as the thick-skinned, bristly faced, iron-nosed man who makes a profession of religion and boasts of his honesty, when he is known to be a hypocrite and a rascal by every one in the community in which he resides.

PROTECTING WIDOWS.

PROTECTING WIDOWS.—Butler, the East Tennessee Congressman, whom the officers tried to arrest for pension frauds on widows, and forgery, is the regular Radical candidate for Congress in the First Tennessee District.

THE EYE OF A NEEDLE.

THE EYE OF A NEEDLE.—The passage from the New Testament, "It is easier for a camel, etc., has perplexed many good men who have read it literally. In oriental cities there are in the large fairs, small and very low apartments, called metaphorically 'needles,' just as we talk of windows on shipboard as 'bul's' eyes. These entrances are too narrow for a camel to pass through them in the ordinary manner, or even if loaded.

Young Men in Society.

A modest and virtuous young man, on first going into society, is apt to be sorely perplexed upon the question how to make himself agreeable to ladies. He need not be ashamed of his perplexity.
