

THE REPUBLICAN.

CLEARFIELD, PA.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 9, 1858.

Three members of a circus troupe lately performing at Lebanon, Indiana, carried off wives with them when leaving the town. The courtship had only lasted two days.

"Remember who you are talking to sir," said an indignant parent to a fond son; "I am your father." — "Well, who's to blame for tint," said the young impertinence; "ain't me."

The Georgetown Herald says "the death of the Republican party would be a great sorrow to the nation." — Yes, but like Juliet's parting with Romeo, it would be "such sweet sorrow."

The great importance we attach to our opinions, the greater our tolerance, which is wrong even when we are right, and doubly so when we are in error, so persecution for opinion's sake can never be justifiable.

At Hartford is being burnt at present the largest brick kiln that has ever been burnt in this country. It contains one million of brick, and the whole enormous mass is now wrapped in flames. It is said that the burning of this kiln will require one hundred and fifty cords of wood.

The wind is unseen, but it cools the brow of the fevered one, sweetens the summer atmosphere, and ripples the surface of the lake into silver spangles of beauty. So, goodness of heart, though invisible to the material eye, makes its presence felt; and from its effects upon surrounding objects, we are assured of its existence.

Grant is in a passion because the Radicals do not obey him as did his army, not being able to punish them as he would soldiers in the field, he hopes to bring them to terms by threatening to deprive them of opportunities to plunder. He thought that they regarded him as a leader, when they only used him as a tool.

Two items from two exchanges fit in together very well. The first, from a Louisville paper, says a firm there "shipped six hundred barrels of Bourbon whisky to Washington yesterday." The other item is from a Washington paper, and says "The President returns to the city on the 1st of October." Volumes could not say more.

Ex-Governor Packer left a collection of old coins valued at nearly $20,000, and supposed to be second to but one other collection in the United States. This immense collection he had made with great sacrifice of time and money, and it consists of many rare specimens from a date anterior to the Christian era down to the present time.

WHAT HOPE DIN.—It stole on its pinions of snow to the bed of disease; and the sufferer's frown became a smile—the emblem of peace and endurance. It went to the house of mourning—and from the lips of sorrow there came sweet and cheerful songs. It laid its head on the arm of the poor, which was stretched forth at the command of unkind impulse, and saved him from disgrace and ruin. No hope, my good brother? Have it. Reckon it on your side. Wrestle with it, that it may not depart; it may repay your pains. Life is hard enough at best; but hope shall lead you over its mountains and sustain thee amid its billows. Part with all beside, but keep thy hope.

RADICAL TACTICS.—The anti-Cameron Radicals are throwing the blame for the loss of five Radical Congressmen in this State on the mismanagement of the campaign by the venerable Senator, who, on the motion of John C. Cass, was made the member of the Radical Congressional Campaign Committee, for Pennsylvania. The Cameronians are now trying to get up contests in the districts which Democratic Congressmen have been elected by small majorities, in order to redress their reputation as smart politicians. Already their journals have started the cry of "fraud," "counted out," etc., etc., in order to cover the meditated reversal of the verdict of the people. Their trick is quite transparent.

"YES SO."—Since the election in this State, some of the Radical journals are disposed to talk out in church in relation to negro suffrage and its effects upon white men. The Carlisle Herald, after stating that the Radical party was "whipped thoroughly and effectually" in the late contest in Cumberland county, continues: "The main reason for the present large Democratic majority is that a considerable number of persons, who have heretofore voted our ticket, this year voted with the Democracy because the colored men were enfranchised, and a much larger number refused to vote at all, for the same alleged reason. This is a fair statement of facts. White men were disgusted at seeing negroes driven to the polls like beasts to vote the Radical ticket, and either cast their ballots for the Democratic candidates, or refused to vote at the election. And this feeling will become stronger and more apparent, when negroes are forced into hotels, theatres, schools, workshops, and all other places where men "most do congregate." The intelligent white men of this country are not yet prepared to surrender it into the hands of negroes, and upon that rock the Radical party will be dashed to pieces."

CLOTHING.

How to Save Money.

These are hard; you'd like to know
How you may save your dollars;

The way to do it will show,
If you will read what follows.

A man who lived not far from here,
Who had no wife, and his son,
But had a household to support,
That squandered all he made.

I met him once, says he, "My friend,
I took three bear and four geese;
I tried to get myself a suit,
But can't save up enough."

Says I, my friend, how much have you?

You tell me where to go,
To get a suit, and cheap;

To REIZENSTEIN & CO.

He took what little he had saved,
And went to Reizenstein & Brothers',
And there he got a handsome suit.
For half he paid to others.

Now is home, looks as well,
And their effect is such,
That when they take their daily meal,
They don't eat half as much.

And now we are on Saturday night,
With all their suits supplied,
What he has money left to spend,
And some to lay aside.

His good success, with cheerful smile,
He gladly tells to all,

If you'd save money, go and buy
Your clothes at—

REIZENSTEIN'S CLOTHING HALL.

Where the cheapest, best and best Clothing and good Furnishing Goods can be had at every taste and in every style April, 1858.
