THESAN DOMINGO SWINDLE.

We take the following from the Philadelphia Age, and, containing more truth than poetry, we are com- PLANING MILI pelled to publish it: General Grant is devoting all his time to lobbying in favor of the San hand which turns the appointment They will give especial attention to the manufacmill. It is said the President has twee of material for house building, such as prepared a list of Congressmen, whom FLOORING, WEATHER - BOARDING, he relies upon to carry his San Domingo resolution through successfully, and says that he is confident of a two thirds vote to take it up and carry it promptly. This calculation may or may not be correct. At all events, it shows the desire of General Grant in relation to his monater swindle of the age, while his course, in reference to Senator Sumner, exhibits his bitterness towards those who are short notice and on reasonable terms bold and honest enough to oppose and denounce his pet project. But the whole question is beginning to attract the serious attention of the people, and the press, in all sections of the Union, are opening upon it from different standpoints. The St. Louis Democrat, a leading Radical journal, in its issue of December 22, says of the eagerness of General Grant to push "For thy Stomach's Sake and thine and good and paying investments in embroidproject: "Does President Grant really suppose that these extraordinary efforts to push through a measure so unpopular, will add to his personal strength? This scheme has now been ventilated. What we have long known was the real motive in the San Domingo plot, is no longer concealed. It means war. After San Domingo comes Cuba, the rest of the West Indies, and the conflict with is calculated, will make the re-clection of Grant a certainty. Long ago, spirits, entirely free from fuell oil or other tritian business special attention, and therefore make it this scheme was privately and confidentially talked of by persons who ence has attested its dent, and talked of as if it were his Superiority over all Ordinary Remedies. own. His message enables everybody to judge for himself." The New York and pleasant to take. Its use is to cure disease Eccning Post intimates that "astute and it will not create an appetite for spiritum politicians," are leading Grant in this liquors, but will sure the effects of dissipation. San Domingo business and continues: "if the President's desire is to cultivate and maintain peaceful relations with other nations, he will do wisely to cast adrift the bad counsellors who are leading him in this San Domingo business, and other matters, to essentially warlike measures. Let him ask himself what we really want with San Domingo, an outlying island-or, rather, half and island-far distant from our shores? Its territory we need not covet, while we have mitlions of acres of our own uninhabited and undeveloped. A naval station we do not need-unless we are going to war; but we cannot go to war | Sold everywhere, at $1.00 per bottle, Manu without being the aggressors, for we factured exclusively by are too strong and powerful for any European nation to attack." In connection with these views the Brooklyn Eagle asks: "Why in the world is President Grant so anxious about | Who offers liberal inducements to the trade. the annexation of San Domingo? It is intrinsically a petty matter, even by his own showing. Aside from the fact that the people are opposed to it, even defeat on that issue would not lost to tail pears of oscarbolt county, Pa., and also lost to tail pears carried to make the finite of and hurt or damage the Executive very scriously, unless his adherence to the project is based upon worse reasons than he has seen fit to adduce. The Domingo business is known to be a job and a corrupt job. The people would prefer to believe the Chief Magistrate's associates, not himself, were interested in the special proposition of the sound of the Moshanum coal basin, and large bodies of the Moshanum and Beauceton than the property of the Moshanum and Beauceton than the property of the Moshanum and Beauceton the Moshanum and Beauceton than the property of the Moshanum and the Moshanum and the property of the Moshanum and were interested in the matter from pecuniary motives. No DISTAN'S CROSS-CUT, MILL, DRAG AND doubt General Grant is anxious for a re-nomination, and now that he has Boynton's Lightning Cross-cut Saw. promoted General Butler to the lucrative position of ring master in all monster jobs, the latter will have no PATENT PERFORATED & ELECTRIC SAWS. objections to such an arrangement. It would put money in his purse." If a war is necessary to accomplish that end, General Butler will provoke one, and General Grant will allow the plan NEW TIN SHOP: to ripen, and bring forth bloody fruit. But the present end and aim of the San Domingo business is pluder. The Tin, Copper and Sheet-Iron Ware. dark gamsters are playing for a heavy stake. They cannot afford to lose a single trick. The New York ring have "cornered" the President, and he is working in their interests. This accounts for the passion and feeling COOK STOVES: displayed by General Grant when his plans are interfered with; his tender corns trodden upon by Senator Sumner and others. The swindle may be pushed through the two Houses. But it will be at a terrible cost to General Grant. It will stamp his administra-
