THE CLEARFIELD REPUBLICAN. WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 28, 1871. WELCOME!

THE PALACE OF THE LOUVRE. The early history of the Louvre is obscure, but from the great tower which Philip Augustus built in 1214, as an arsenal and state prison, Charles V. fitted up the Louvre of his period as a royal residence, adorning it with gardens and terraces.

THE RED RUIN IN PARIS. The Destroyed Tuileries, Louvre, and Hotel de Ville. THE PALACE OF THE TUILERIES. The magnificent building which has been sacrificed to the insanity of the Paris mob has a history extending over centuries.

THE HOTEL DE VILLE. During the long duel of the feudal ages between the nobles and the nobility, the Commune, the "Hanse," as it was originally called, of Paris, (its origin, like that of the "Hanse towns" of Germany, referring to a community of merchants which assumed legal rights over the navigation of the Seine), made itself the ally of the King.

THROUGHOUTNESS.—Young man, in the flush of early strength, stop and think ere you take a downward step. Many a precipitous and reckless descent has been made by the careless and thoughtless alone.

WOMAN has been accused of making herself a slave to her beautiful art, but the accusation is false. By natural right she mingles with the Graces, and appropriates to her adornment all that can enhance her beauty or add to her charms.

WITHOUT A NEWSPAPER.—Noting presents a sadder commentary upon the present unhealthful condition of our country than the large number of families, both in the town and country, but more especially in the latter, that subscribe to no paper of any kind.

SOME men move through life as a band of music moves down the street—flinging out pleasure on every side through the air to every one, far and near, who can listen.

A MORMON IN THE VALLEY.—The Easton Sentinel says: The Lehigh Valley was graced last week with the presence of a son of the Mormon prophet, Brigham Young. He spent a day or two at Mauch Chunk, as the guest of John Leisinger, Esq.

WIFE, do you know that I have got the pneumonia? "Now mon, indeed! Such extravagance! You're spending more than I ever did see, to go and lay out your money for such trash when I do need a new button so much!"

CONCERNING SLEEP. There are thousands of busy people who die every year for want of sleep. It may be that too much sleep injures some; but in an excited people, and in our intense business habits, there is far more mischief for want of sleep than from too much of it.

NOT ALL IS BRINGING UP. If not all is bringing up, let us see what it will bring down. If you have a better power, you will be better still.

WHAT IS THE WORST SEAT A MAN CAN SIT ON? Self-conceit. Whatever is, is right—except your left hand and foot.

IT IS NOT ENOUGH TO BELIEVE WHAT YOU MAINTAIN; YOU MUST MAINTAIN WHAT YOU BELIEVE, AND MAINTAIN IT BECAUSE YOU BELIEVE IT.

CONSCIENCE IS A SLEEPING GIANT; YOU MAY LULL HIM INTO A LONGER OR SHORTER SLEEP; BUT HIS STARTS ARE TERRIBLE, AND TERRIBLE IS THE HOUR WHEN HE AWAKES.

EVERY MAN MUST SLEEP ACCORDING TO HIS TEMPERAMENT. But each man is the average of his nature. If one sleeps a little more, or a little less, he will find it out for himself.

POPE PIUS IX. ON THE 16TH OF THIS MONTH completed the twenty-fifth year of his Pontifical reign—a term only two of his long line of predecessors have ever attained.

A GOOD STORY IS TOLD OF A LATE COLLEGE president near Boston, on one occasion the students started a volume of the Bible, at the morning devotions. On opening the book he once saw the situation; but he said nothing, and proceeded to the prayer, which he prolonged for an hour.

FAME—After Susan B. Anthony lectured at Ripon, Wis., she wanted some recreation and amusement, so she took a walk on Sunday around the graveyard there.

A FOND FATHER, blest with eleven children, and with a very domestic mother, tells this story: One afternoon, business being very dull, he took the early train out to his happy home, and went up stairs to put the children to bed.

BE BUSY.—To be constantly busy is to be always happy. Persons who have suddenly acquired wealth broken up their lives, and began to live at their ease, waste away and die in a very short time.

ZEAL.—It is often for very individuals, unless they be single endowed to create in themselves fervor when alone. Now and then there is a nature that can generate its own fire; but ordinarily you must stick upon sticks, and spark to spark, and flame to flame, in order to make your fire.

WOMAN has spent time, talent, and money in copying and beautifying this art. She has yielded all other things, home, husband, children, friends, and given all to dress. It is the shrine at which she worships, and nothing is sacred in doing it.

STAND BEFORE THE MIRROR, looking herself for the hall room, where she will either please or offend the fastidious taste of the other sex. Her dress has cost its maker many a weary night, most anxious thought, and upon it she has exhausted all her skill.

LITTLE DOES SHE DREAM OR CARE how many tired hands have been employed, in subterranean vaults, making the most of one single joy; mourning faces and a somber aspect are the conventional affections of the weak-minded.

IN THE HISTORY OF THE WORLD dress has ever held a ruling position. Although its claims to be ranked among the fine arts have been unacknowledged, yet its influence for good or evil has been as great as the greatest.

THE HUNTINGDON MONITOR says: "Senator Scott's Ku Klux Committee, fearing to meet the investigation of individual cases, as reported, are going to rely upon a General Report on the subject, made up from scraps of Northern papers, and unverified statements of negroes, carpet baggers, and scoundrels."

FAME—After Susan B. Anthony lectured at Ripon, Wis., she wanted some recreation and amusement, so she took a walk on Sunday around the graveyard there. While she was enjoying the literature of a tombstone she heard a lot of boys saying, "That's her!" and she thought, "such is fame!"
