One of the employees was injured, but not severely. The mail west was delayed some two or three hours by the wreck. That watchman ought to be impris-oned for his criminal carelessness in leaving the track without signaling the passenger train; it was not his fault that it passed over in safety.

BURGLARY.—On Saturday night, 8th inst., the Adams express office in this place was entered by forcing the front door, and the safe blown open. The thieves, however, get nothing for their trouble, Mr. King, the agent, having rebefore closing for the night. The burglars first attempted to force an entrance at the back window, but failed. A hammer was left on the prem ises, and two chisels were found in the lot of D. McMurtrie, Esq., near by, one of which was stamped with the name of our townsmap, Alex. Armitage, from whom they were evidently stolen. The thieves have thus far escaped detection, as usual. Huntingdon Monitor.
