Manufacture of Ice. The latest and most interesting novolty in Atlanta, Ga., is the ice manufactory recently erected by the Atlanta Ice Company on the banks of the Chattahoochee river, near the railroad bridge, about seven miles from the city. Excursions to this place are the order of the day, for the purpose of witnessing the mode of manufacture, and how, in these hot and sultry times, the large blocks of clear ice are MILLER & POWELI produced. The process of manufac ciple that evaporation produces cold—the more rapid, the more intense of an Market street, the cold that results from it. The agent adopted to produce the evaporation is aqua ammonia, which is deposited in an upright cylindrical evaporator, some 20 feet in hight.— CAN SELL, Inside of this cylinder are also a number of pipes, the object of which is to evaporate the ammonia, or reduce it to a gas, which is again subsequently compressed into its liquid form, and so on repeatedly, as the same quantity of aqua ammonia will do service over and over again. The evaporation causes cold intense enough to freeze the water in the adjoining tanks, or baths, as they are called, and cakes of clear ice, of a convenient merchantable shape, are made by the machine at the rate of fourteen tons a day. The ice thus made is perfectly pure, being made from distilled water, and is entirely free from any foreign taste.-When first withdrawn from the moulds it is rather harder than natural ice. and as dry as a rock and very brittle, owing to the intense cold by which it is produced. The visitors are shown several curiosities in connection with this novel manufacture, such as blocks of ice, in the centre of which have been frozen bouquets of fresh natural flowers, and bunches of evergreens, that are entirely encased by the ice. The company's cards have been frozen into a great many blocks, and in one block of ice are three catfish, buried completely in the ice, and nowhere touching the surface, yet distinctly visible. The manufactory is a great

THE EMPRESS EUGENIE AND JOSE-PHINE'S RING .- A romantic incident is related of the way in which Fate seemed to decree that the Montijos and the Napoleons should be united. The story is of Josephine's betrothal ring, and is in this wise: Eugenie's father, while serving in the First Napoleon's army, resided in Paris. In 1809, a little girl, Maria Montijo, about three years old, went to play in the Tuilleries with her purse. There she met a little boy who gave her a gold ring. As the children were strangers to each other, and did not Who meet again, the owner of the ring re mained unknown, and so the little seery taste and in every style april, 70 Maria kept it for a plaything. That ring was Josephine's, and the little boy was Louis Napoleon, who had run away with the ring. The loss of the ring was a bad omen to Josephine, for CROCKS: POTS! CROCKS! a year afterward she had to resign in favor of another. Little Maria kept the plaything till she grew up. At sixteen years of age she married, and became the mother of Eugenie, whose birth took place May 5, 1826. Her mother engraved this date on the ring she had worn so long herself, and when Eugenie was older, gave it to her. When quite a child, Eugenie went to London to pay a visit; there she became acquainted with Louis Napoleon, who saw the ring with the a year afterward she had to resign in Napoleon, who saw the ring with the date and Josephine's name on it, and knew it had belonged to her. From this circumstances Louis looked upon the little Montijo as attached to his house, and twenty years afterward, it becames fact. After atime, Eugenie's mother came to regard the tology as Burners east of the mountain, whereby he is easmother came to regard the token as of great importance, and formed a plan of bringing the two families to-gether. That was the secret of so lovely a woman as Eugenic remaining single till the age of twenty-six. A crown awaited her, which was never

How to Save Money. MR times are hard; you'd like to know

How you may save your dollars; The way to do it I will show, If you will read what follows. A man who lived not far from here,

Who worked hard at his trade, But had a household to support That squandered all he made. I met him once. Says he, "My friend, I look thread bear and rough; I've tried to get myself a suit, But can't save up enough."

Says I, my friend, how much have you?
I'll tell you where to go
To get a suit that's sound and cheap:
To REIZENSTEIN & Co.

He took what little he had saved, And went to Reisenstein & Brothers', And there he got a handsome suit, For half he paid to others.

Now he is home, he looks so well, And their effect is such. That when they take their duily meal, They don't cat haif as much. And now he finds on Saturday night, With all their wants supplied, hat he can money left to spend, And some to lay aride.

His good success, with cheerful smile, He gladly tells to all.
