

GEORGE B. GOODLANDER, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR, CLEARFIELD, PA.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 1, 1872.

STILL UNWELL.—The Harrisburg papers report Gov. Geary as sick. He has been unwell ever since the Evans-Hartranf exposure occurred last summer.

CONGRESS.—This body is still fighting over tea and coffee, and trying to fix a day of adjournment. The 30th day of May was voted down by a large majority.

NOR MICHLY.—The Pittsburg Commercial says: Pennsylvania must be carried in October if Grant is to be elected—a fact that may well be accepted as a certainty.

No, you don't, honey, Hartranf can no more carry the old Quaker State than he can breathe the breath of life into Mrs. Sarratt, whom he murdered.

No Go.—The Radical reformers are demanding the withdrawal of Hartranf and Allen from the Radical State ticket. If they do not know they will find out that the "ring" will rather die in the last ditch than to swap horses now. It is a death struggle, and the State robbers are going to die game.

POLITICAL JUGGLERY.—The Hartranf newspapers and politicians are making a huge effort to disconnect their candidate from the robber Evans, although he gave Evans all the vouchers with which he obtained the money, and then "borrowed" $7,000 from him and never called upon him to settle.

HEFTY.—A squad of Radical politicians went over to Washington on Friday last to get Grant to appoint Allen, the Radical nominee for Auditor General, Minister to Russia, so that they could get him off their hands, knowing full well that, with him on the ticket, defeat stares the party in the face. What the smokes will do in the premises has not yet transpired, but we guess Allen will "stick."

FULL AGAIN.—Every seat in the United States Senate is now filled, for the first time since May, 1861. Gen. Ransom, of North Carolina, was admitted to his seat on the 23d ult., by a vote of 42 to 10. The ten wanted the carpet-bagger Abbott admitted, who was never elected. General Ransom is a Democrat of the old school, and is therefore an honor to the party and the country.

THE TRIANGLE LOYALIST.—That Radical humping, Harry White, still has his name flying at the head of our large exchanges as a candidate at large for Congress and delegate to the Constitutional Convention, and is at the same time a State Senator; all incompatible offices. It is a pity the ring did not put him up for Governor, too! Is Harry a fool? or, is somebody only "trying him on?"

VIXALITY.—Corruption is so boldly practiced at Washington that Congress is actually debating a new rule, to the effect that hereafter all ex-members shall like other people be excluded from the privileges of the Hall while in session, unless the party applying for admission make an oath that he is not lobbying or pressing some claim against the Treasury. Who or what breeds this general corruption? Who can tell?

OH, GRACEFUL WHO NEED?—Mr. Greeley was invited to Montgomery Blair, and was invited to the National Convention in the fall and the Republican party, and of course he is a candidate for Cincinnati. Now let us see what the "bunch of Union prisoners," whom Grant has taken to his bosom? As a matter of principle, Greeley is far ahead of Grant.

BROTHER DELEGATES.—We learn that Hon. Alexander Irvin, formerly member of Congress from this district and afterwards United States Marshal of the Western District, and S. B. Row, formerly editor of the Journal, and the accredited delegates from this county to the Cincinnati Convention.

WHO STOLE THEM?—Congress has just discovered that all the records and papers used in the trial and court-martial of Gen. Buel have been stolen out of the War Department, and a committee has been appointed to hunt them up. What humbuggery! Unless the people make a change next November there will not be government property and records enough left in the War or any other Department to fill an ordinary wardrobe.

WANT A STIMULANT.—The negroes in their convention at New Orleans, suggested to the President, by a resolution, that he should "stimulate" them by some recognition of federal patronage. All the "stimulants" the darkeys get out of Grant's bottle will be but few and far between. He needs his "stimulants" for himself, and keeps them to himself.

The Boston Post says: Arrangements have been nearly completed for promptly telegraphing the purchase of gloves and white Nellie Grant makes in Paris, the number of diamonds she has "up the Rhine," box of ten such "diamonds" etc.

Vol the Man.—It is seldom that the Radical leaders testify against themselves or their party friends. But Col. Forney, on the 6th of April, previous to his nomination for Governor, in alluding to Gen. Hartranf, said:

We hope more than any voice will be raised in favor of a candidate who is competent in all respects to fill the high office of Governor of Pennsylvania. We do not believe Gen. Hartranf is that man.

This is not all. The day after the nomination the editor of the Press said:

General John F. Hartranf is the Republican nominee for Governor of Pennsylvania. We believe it to be a most unimpeachable selection; a real opening of what promises to be a most exciting and difficult campaign.

This is literally true, every word of it—although it comes from a strange source—and the October election returns will reveal the fact that Col. Forney has, after a fourteen years' vacation, returned to his former vocation of telling the truth. He has evidently become tired of the "loyal" husks upon which he has been feeding. There is quite a "string" of Radical editors who, like Forney, have taken a "new departure," and are telling the naked truth about the ring candidates and professional State robbers.

LOOKING UP.—Capt. William McClelland, now a Democratic Congressman from the Beaver, Green, Lawrence and Washington district, is coming to the surface as a candidate for Governor. We are personally acquainted with the gentleman and know him to be one of the soundest Democrats in the State, and would make a popular candidate.

As an instance of his popularity we need but refer to the fact that the district which he represents in Congress elected J. B. Donley, a Republican, to the Forty-first Congress by a majority of 1,123. Grant's majority in the district was 1,658. The splendid record and great popularity of Captain McClelland overcame not only his majority, but he beat Donley by 772 votes in 1870, only two years later. If he fails to receive the nomination for Governor, and Geary votes the new appointment bill, he will thrash some Radical most gloriously in the old district again.

SENATORIAL CONFERENCE.—The period is approaching when the Democracy of this Senatorial district will be called upon to select a delegate to the approaching State Convention. The Clinton Democrat, in referring to the question, says:

In reference to the Senatorial Delegate, the Chairman of our County Committee informs us that Columbia has instructed Mr. Philip Clinton as the delegate to the State Convention, and that the other members of the committee have decided to support him. Clinton recommended A. J. Quigley of South Point. The action of the other members of the committee is to be determined at a meeting of the delegates, and will be determined by the majority of the delegates, and not by the majority of the voters of the district.

A PUBLIC OUTRAGE.—The National Treasury annually suffers a loss of at least one hundred thousand dollars by the raids of professional contestants for a seat in Congress to which they never were elected. Mr. Forney, of the Philadelphia Press, who well understands this outrage, says:

The practice of counting Congressional seats has grown into an abuse, and we doubt the wisdom of the bill to amend the laws relating to the election of members of Congress. It is a pity the ring did not put him up for Governor, too! Is Harry a fool? or, is somebody only "trying him on?"

NOT ALL GIVEN.—The Radical journals are publishing what they term "Gen. Hartranf's campaign speeches," consisting of a catalogue of the actions he was engaged in during the war from Bull Run to the close. His victory at Washington over Mrs. Sarratt is not among the "speeches." Why her murder is omitted we cannot conjecture, because it was pronounced at the time "a great victory" by the "loyal millions" who inhaled human gore as complacently as "Night Blooming Cereus."

"WHAT ALLES THE PRESS?"—This is now a standing question with the major portion of our Radical exchange. For the life of us we cannot see any difference in the Press, except that the editor, like Democratic editors, tells the truth about the Radical nominees for Governor and Auditor General. This being of such rare occurrence on the part of the editors of that party, Col. Forney's course astonishes that portion of the crew who have started out on the lying line as heretofore.

Who STOLE THEM?—Congress has just discovered that all the records and papers used in the trial and court-martial of Gen. Buel have been stolen out of the War Department, and a committee has been appointed to hunt them up. What humbuggery! Unless the people make a change next November there will not be government property and records enough left in the War or any other Department to fill an ordinary wardrobe.

WANT A STIMULANT.—The negroes in their convention at New Orleans, suggested to the President, by a resolution, that he should "stimulate" them by some recognition of federal patronage. All the "stimulants" the darkeys get out of Grant's bottle will be but few and far between. He needs his "stimulants" for himself, and keeps them to himself.

The Boston Post says: Arrangements have been nearly completed for promptly telegraphing the purchase of gloves and white Nellie Grant makes in Paris, the number of diamonds she has "up the Rhine," box of ten such "diamonds" etc.

Common News.—The population of Johnston and adjacent borough is 14,065. The Labor Reformers hold their State Convention at Williamsport on the 7th inst.

Highly Important Development.—The Harrisburg Patriot of Wednesday last contains a resurrected letter from the pen of Morroy K. Lowry written to certain of his constituents in the Erie Senatorial district, and dated 6th October, 1870. The letter is long, but highly interesting throughout. We have only room, however, for the following brief extracts:

Now, briefly as to my "obtaining the release of the twenty-seven Pennsylvanians which were held by military authority at Harrisburg in the winter of 1865." When I came to power, because I was, and not because I was not, a Republican. The letter of which you complain, which I wrote on the 5th of March, 1865, will live longer than any other act of my life. Mr. Lincoln endorsed it as "creditable to both head and heart," and I am informed by the highest authority that on the back of that letter a general order was made to discharge the twenty-seven Pennsylvanians, and all other similarly imprisoned persons, and to send them over to the civil authorities for trial. This delivered more than a thousand men from military bondage.

Both the Academy of Music and the Philadelphia Convention, have been secured for the sessions of the National Republican Convention. Chicago printers waiting for their type ordered from New York the week of the fire, kept up their spirits by singing "Come thou fast of every blessing."

The constitutional Convention will meet in Harrisburg on the second Tuesday of November. It will probably remain in session for several months. A Debuque woman, who claimed that a married man in Omaha was her husband, withdrew her claim in favor of wife No. 2 in consideration of $100, and went home.

The printed Ka Knox testimony reported by Senator Scott devotes 1219 pages to Georgia, 1479 pages to Mississippi, and about 1200 pages to Alabama and Florida. A Mrs. Dunlap, residing at Mapleton, was committed to the jail of Huntingdon county the other day, charged with the murder of her husband's mother by poison.

Paran Stevens, well known hotel proprietor, and the principal owner of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York, died on Thursday night at his residence in that city. General J. B. McFerrin, chief quartermaster in the department of the south, died very suddenly on the 25th of April, at his headquarters in Louisville, Kentucky.

The appointment bill, passed by the Ohio House of Representatives, allows the Democrats five and the Republicans fifteen districts. Generous Republicans, ain't they? Senator Cameron has engaged a private parlor headquarters during the Radical Convention at the Grand Hotel. General Hartranf and State Treasurer Mackey will also stop there.

Paul Scheppe, who was convicted at Carlisle some two years ago of murder, has been at length granted a new trial. The twenty-ninth of August has been fixed for its commencement. It is a man must not keep his hat or a place of amusement because it is inconvenient those behind him; but a lady can pile the Tower of Babel on her head, if she chooses, and no one dares to object.

The Radicals have distrusted the State of Michigan so as to give the Democrats 1 and the Radicals 5 Members of Congress. A fair distribution would have given the Democrats 4 and the Radicals 5. At a meeting of the Methodist Book Concern on the 22d, the expert appointed to examine the accounts of the Book Concern made a report, which, it is stated, tends to bear out the allegations of fraud in the binding department.

Thaddeus Stevens left a valuable library of 1,200 volumes to a nephew, on condition that he did not drink in five years. The nephew got drunk as a fool, and the executor of the estate sold the library on the 12th inst. for $3,000. The Williamsport Bulletin says, the river is so low that it is impossible to run rafts. A large number of rafts are tied up above the chute. The stock of lumber in the yards is less at this time than it has been for a number of years.

Adolph E. Borie, one of Grant's right-gilt-makers and his right Secretary of Navy, leads the Republican Presidential Electoral ticket in Pennsylvania. Nothing more appropriate. He is now on a tour through Europe exhibiting Miss Nellie Grant. A "rebel" exchange says: Grant ought to be willing not only to pardon the men who fired the first shot on Sumpter, but to give them a good office to boot, for it would still be tanning leather at Galena.

It is a significant circumstance that St. Louis, which in 1868 gave Grant a large majority, at the late municipal election went Democratic by 8,722 majority. Only one Republican out of the twelve aldermen was chosen, and he is an anti-Grant Grant. A Mrs. Ann Eliza Messerall, of Randolph township, Crawford county, on April 1st, gave birth to three little girls, weighing respectively 4 1/2, 5, and 7 pounds. We learn that mother and babies are doing well. We suspect somebody was fooled that day.

RETIRED SENATORS.—The following is a list of the Senators whose terms expire the 8th of October next: Robert P. Dehner, Dem., Philadelphia; A. G. Bradford, Dem., Delaware; W. M. Buckalew, Dem., Columbia; David Munroe, Rep., Dauphin; E. B. Lingfield, Rep., and J. B. Ward, Rep., Lancaster; Hiram Findly, Dem., Fulton; A. A. Purman, Dem., Greene; James S. Rutan, Rep., Beaver; Harrison Allen, Rep., Warren.

The Senate as at present constituted, has 16 Democrats, 16 Republicans and 1 Liberal. Five Democrats and six Republicans will retire, but the probability is, they will be returned to the same political party as they retire, the Democrats gaining one in Montgomery and losing one in Bedford, Blair, Fulton and Somerset; this being caused by the appointment of last year.

AS GOOD AS HIS MASTER.—William M. Mann, the leader of the Radical rowdies in Philadelphia, presumptively declines to retire from the Legislature, which was selected to cast the vote of Pennsylvania for Grant. Being asked to withdraw he promptly declined to do so, saying to those who interviewed him: "Gentlemen, I am as good as the man I have been instructed to vote for." That ended the conversation. Meantime it remains to be seen what Forney & Co. will do about it.

A Stock Gambler.—After seeing his election to the office of Auditor General, Hartranf has been affected with a mania to become suddenly rich. Goaded by this fever he has engaged wildly in stock gambling. Instead of protecting the interests of the public, he has used the office of Auditor General to advance his own personal interest. Charles F. Yank, Jr., testifies that on the 20th of December, "two thousand seven hundred dollars, which sum was derived from 'profits on purchases of bonds of the Commonwealth,' and sale of the same to the sinking fund, which sale was made on the 25th of April, 1870."

The same witness testifies that he also "paid to John F. Hartranf various amounts of money for profits arising from stock speculations with money deposited with this department by the State Treasurer at the instance of said Hartranf."

As Auditor General, and ex-officio commissioner of the sinking fund, General Hartranf found his opportunity to speculate with the money of the people of Pennsylvania. The funds which were employed by him in stock operations belonged to the commonwealth. These funds are what is known as the "unexpended balance."

In the chair of Governor of Pennsylvania John F. Hartranf would have still more extensive opportunities of indulging in his favorite pastime. The people of Pennsylvania have been justly jealous of the office of Governor. They have always sought in its incumbent an example of the homely and sturdy virtues which have so long distinguished the citizens of this commonwealth. The question they are now asking themselves is whether a stock gambler who carries on his dishonest operations with the public money shall receive the highest office in their exclusive gift. No amount of service in the field, if it were as brilliant as that of a Prince Eugene or a Marlborough, can gild this sordid speculation of a public servant with the funds of the commonwealth.—Harrisburg Patriot.

BOILING OVER.—The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin says: On Thursday last there was a little piece performed at the White House in the presence of a few persons, but the principal actors on the occasion were General Ulysses S. Grant, representing himself, and Col. A. Fuller, of Fayette county, Pennsylvania, representing the honest Republicans of that section of the State. The performance was commenced by Fuller, who gave his Excellency to understand that in the appointment of a collector in the Twenty-first district of this State, he had indicated the word in sending to the Senate for the name of a man that the Republicans of that Congressional District were unanimously against.

The President replied that he did this at the request of Senator Scott, of Pennsylvania. Fuller replied that Senator Scott represented neither the Republican party nor anybody else in that State. He gave the President to understand that he would no longer grant to such treatment, and that henceforth he would be against him and his Administration, and that this act of duplicity of his would cause hundreds more to forsake him. The President throughout the performance sat as mute as a mouse, and the only evidence that he still lived was the volume of cigar smoke that issued from his mouth.

STRENGTH OF GRANT'S OPPOSITION.—The Albany Express, an anti-administration Republican journal, significantly says: In our own State it is safe to assume that at least 150,000 Republican voters are opposed to Grant's re-nomination. In fact we believe a still larger number would hold with satisfaction the candidacy of some statesman who could better command the support of the party. But, in order to seem moderate in our claims, we put the number at 150,000. Of course, at least 100,000 will accept the action of the Philadelphia Convention as final, conclusive and binding upon them. The remaining 50,000 will hold the balance of the power, and will, practically, determine for whom the thirty-three electoral votes of the State shall be cast.

It is also safe to say that a majority of the people of New Hampshire are opposed to Grant, yet his corruption feud carried the State for him.

BORED TO GO UNDER.—That the Radical State ticket sits heavy on the stomachs of some of the loyal leaders, is being manifested every day. Colonel Forney does not like the dictatorial tone which is assumed by the Harrisburg Telegraph, and other organs of the Treasury Ring. He says, "there is an air of authority here which hearken is really the arrogance of the Buchanan dictatorship." That expression shows how deeply the wound rankles by "Forney's" clinic. He proposes that disaster will inevitably follow a refusal to reconstruct the State ticket, and strikes out this warning: "If the decree is ex cathedra—if it proceeds from Mr. Russell Errett, as Chairman of the Republican State Committee, we simply enter upon the great campaign of 1872 with our right broken." Such being the case, both Forney and the Republican party would be proper objects of pity, if their past conduct had not placed them beyond the pale of compassion.

COMMISSION RETURNED.—Colonel D. D. Morrison, of Illinois, forwarded on Tuesday to Jefferson Davis the original commission of the latter as Colonel in the United States army, signed by Andrew Jackson, President, and Lewis Cass, Secretary of State. The document came into the possession of the Illinois troops after the capture of Jackson, Mississippi, and was returned to Davis, accompanied by a cordial letter from Col. Morrison, his old commander in the Mexican campaign, terminating at Buena Vista.

TRIAL POSTPONED.—The second trial of Mrs. Wharton, before the Court at Annapolis, has been postponed until October next, in consequence of the illness of that lady, as certified to by her physician. An opinion is expressed that it is extremely doubtful whether she would ever recover from the feeble health and great debility produced by the excitement through which she has passed. Mrs. Wharton is desirous that the case should proceed, but her physician protests against it, and the State Attorney and Attorney General do not feel disposed to press it under the circumstances.

There are in the United States two hundred and sixty-one soldiers who have lost both eyes, one hundred and eighty who lost both legs, eleven who lost both feet, five who lost both hands, thirty-two who lost an arm and sixteen who lost an arm and a leg.

THE IRISH NOMINEE.—From all parts of the Commonwealth still come up loud and deep denunciations of the ring nominations on the radical State ticket. Warren county, the home of Harrison Allen, the ring candidate for Auditor General, is in open revolt against his election. The best of the public of the neighboring county of Gloucester declare that they will not support him. No nomination could be more distasteful to the people of the old regions, who point to his record as proof that he has always been hostile to their best interests. Grant's nomination is the straw that will break the camel's back.
