Miss M. E Walters will open a select School at Room No. 2, on Monday, the 6th day of May, 1872.

A Hot Summer.—Farmer Greeley, of the Tribune, predicts a hot summer, and he may be correct if the last few days are to be taken as an index.

Preaching.—Rev. Hartsook will preach in the Lutheran church, in this place, on Sabbath next, May 5th, at 11 o'clock a. m. and 7½ o'clock p. m. All are invited.

On next Tuesday the School Directors of this county will assemble in the Court House, in this place, to elect a Superintendent of Common schools for the next three years.

Mr. F. Leitzinger left in our office, a few days ago, a very pretty hanging vase, made of clay. Mr. Leitzinger is an excellent moulder, and makes a specialty of articles of this kind. Read his advertisement.

Resumed Work.—We notice that the contractor, Mr. Thorn, has opened heavily on the new prison. A large force of hands are employed upon the building, and it looks now as though the institution would be completed by the first of August or September, at the farthest.

Fire.—We learn that the dwelling house of David Hensel, of Woodward township, was destroyed by fire, one night last week. Nearly everything was destroyed, the family barely escaping with their lives. It is supposed that the fire originated from the stove pipe communicating with the floor.

Returned Home.—Colonel Eli Slifer, who has been absent in Europe for nearly a year, returned home last evening, rather unexpectedly to most of his friends. The Colonel is greatly improved in health, and expresses himself as being as well as he ever was in his life. This is agreeable news to his many friends throughout the country.—Lewisburg Journal.

Proved Fatal.—The Philipsburg Journal of the 27th says: Mr. Richard Atherton died at his residence yesterday morning, from the effects of the assault upon him by J. A. Lukens, on Tuesday, the 16th inst., of which we spoke last week. This is the most melancholy affair that has happened, considered in all its bearing, since we have known Philipsburg. Mr. Atherton was a grey-haired old man, sixty-three years of age.

Going Ahead.—We notice by our exchanges that the railroad from Lewisburg, via Mifflinburg, Hartleton, Aaronsburg, Millheim, etc., to Tyrone, called the Lewisburg Centre & Spruce Creek Railroad, is to be put under contract at once. The road is already in running order nine miles out from Lewisburg, to Mifflinburg, and work is to commence at both ends—Tyrone and Mifflinburg. The completion of this line will add much to the facilities of our lumbermen, as it will make an effectual "short cut" to the Shamokin lumber and coal depot.

Almost a Fire.—On Saturday evening last, about 7 o'clock, an alarm of fire was heard, and a general rush was made in the direction from which it came. It proved to be in the house of Mr. R. Mossop, where a lamp had been let fall by his little son, who was in the act of lighting one of the side lamps. The lamp burst and covered the boy with oil, which took fire. He ran into the street, and but for timely assistance might have been seriously burned. The bursted lamp set fire to the shelves and the articles thereon, but was extinguished by the aid of a few buckets of water. The loss is estimated at about two hundred and twenty-five dollars.

Sad Case of Drowning.—The Gettysburg Compiler of the 19th has the following: On Saturday last, Mr. Harrison Bender, a resident of Reading township, one mile east of East Berlin, met with a sad and unexpected death. Mrs. Bender went to town in the morning to spend the day—Mr. Bender remaining at home intending to plow. They were without children. In the evening, when Mrs. B. returned, she noticed one of the horses geared, tied to the house, and expected to find her husband in the house. But he not being there, she went to the barn, and still failed to see anything of him. Becoming uneasy, she informed one of the neighbors of Mr. Bender's unaccountable absence. Search was instituted in different parts of the premises, which resulted in the finding of his lifeless body in the well. The supposition is that he went to the well for a drink of water, and whilst in the act of pumping, the curb suddenly gave way, (by the breaking of the cross timbers), precipitating him to the bottom. A large cut in his head was probably caused by a piece of timber falling upon it. The well is twenty-seven feet deep, and it is thought that death was produced by the fall. Mr. Bender was an upright man, and generally respected. His age was about 47 years.

Bad on Newspaper Borrowers.—An exchange warns people in regard to the danger of borrowing newspapers and not subscribing for them. It assures its readers that borrowing their neighbors' newspapers is not safe, and adds that it once knew a poor but honest man who borrowed a paper innocently but inadvertently from a wholesale neighbor. Fatal act! That terrible contagion, the small-pox, was conveyed insidiously into the fibres of the sheet. Of that extensive and interesting family—a doting father, a fond wife, several intelligent and heroic sons, thirteen lovely daughters, two popular mothers-in-law and three beautiful aunts—not one remains to tell the tale.

A Grain of Corn in the Windpipe.—A daughter of Mr. Charles Davis, of Waynesboro', aged 11 months, whilst playing with some corn, on the 9th inst., got a grain of it in its windpipe. After remaining in the air passages 48 hours, and all hopes of its being coughed up abandoned, and grave constitutional symptoms taking place, the Record says that Dr. E. A. Hering and other physicians in attendance "made an artificial opening into the windpipe a little above the breast bone, when by a fit of coughing the little sufferer expelled the grain through this opening, it flying out on the floor. The wound was carefully closed and the child is rapidly convalescing, there being every hope of a rapid recovery."—Chambersburg Valley Spirit.

A Child Hung.—The Hanover, York county, Spectator of last week states that on the Friday afternoon previous, a little child, five months old, of Mr. Emanuel Mittsell, residing at the Junction of the Hanover Branch and Baltimore Valley Railroad, came to its death in the following singular and distressing manner: The mother, it appears, having some work to do in the garden, left the child sleeping on the bed, and would occasionally go to the window to learn if the child was crying, and not hearing it, she entered the room and found the child suspended by the neck between the bed and the wall. It had slipped from the bed, and the back of the head was against the wall and the chin resting on the bed post; the feet did not quite touch the floor. In this position it was found dead.

COUGHS AND COLDS.

There are few persons who are aware of the importance of attending to a cough or a cold at its first appearance. The thousands who die annually of consumption, were first attacked with a "slight" cough or cold, which they thought would soon "wear itself off, and therefore neglected to use the proper remedies until they became incurable. Every day that a cough, cold, or any lung disease is neglected, makes the chances of a cure more uncertain. We would recommend all suffering from any disease of the Lungs whatever, to use Hasson's Compound Syrup of Tar. It never fails in curing the worst cases of coughs, colds, hoarseness, sore throat, catarrh and asthma. It is an infallible remedy for Whooping Cough; being prescribed by some of the leading physicians in the Northern and Southern States, and being prepared under the immediate supervision of a graduate of the Pennsylvania Medical College.—The proprietors beg leave to inform all that it is no "Quack" preparation, but made strictly in accordance with the advanced principles and theory of medicine. Price 50 cents per bottle.
