A LAMENTABLE FACT .- The Baltimore Gazette, in an article reviewing the events of the past year, notes the following significant fact, which should be well considered by Republicans as well as Democrats, for it is absolutely certain that when the downfall of liberty in this country is complete, all will alike feel the the chains of despot-

It behooves us, nevertheless, to fully understand that we are farther to-day from the old landmarks of the Constitution; more accustomed to un-rebuked violations of law, the exercise of arbitrary power, and the degra-dation of public morals and political honesty, than we were twelve months The decadance has been steady and unchecked, and all the guards that and unchecked, and all the guards that were framed to protect our liberties in the better days of the Republic, with pride in their strength to resist tyrannical power, and with confidence in their ability to repel the storms of political passions, are being gradually broken-down.

Local Taxes.—The Age, of Phila-delphia, bewails the condition of the inhabitants of the City of Brotherly

"The city debt from $19,000,000 mounted to $25,000,000, then $30,000, 000, then $40,000,000, and now it even reaches $50,000,000, and sits like an ill-omened bird upon all the interests of the city. With the increase of debt came the increase of taxation. Starting at one dollar and fifty cents on the hundred, it has now reached two dollars on the same amount, which, when the difference in the rate of assessment is taken into consideration, amounts, in fact, to six dollars on the hundred. This is a fearful leap in ten years. A property which in 1861 paid $600 taxon, is now called upon to pay $2,400. This is a most enormous taxation for local purposes. No such burdens are

THE WASHINGTONS. - Our second Washington, Mr. Grant, might peruse with profit to his morals and dignity, but perhaps at a loss to his cash-box, the following remark of the first, and Dried Fruit, Spices, Provisions, Flour and Feed, we might say of the only original &c., &c. Our stock of Washington, made at the time of his retiracy from public life :

No occasion more fit than the present may ever occur, perhaps, to declare, that nothing but the principle upon which I set out, and from which I have in no instance departed, not to receive more from the public than my expenses, has restrained the boundy of several Legislatores at the close of the war with Great Britains from adding considerably to my peculiar expenses.

We have a large stock of ready-made Clothing

Mr. Grant, however, has never been ombarrassed by receiving donations. He seems to have made it a "principle" never to refuse a gift, and history will no doubt bear him out in the assertion that he "never departed from

HUGE VOLUME.-The United States Census, when completed, will fill three volumes of the size of Webster's Unnbridged Dictionary. The first volume will contain the tables of the popula-tion, churches, schools and colleges, school attendance, libraries, newspapers, pauperism and crime, and persons of the school, military and citizenship ages. The second volume will contain the tables of mortality, dumb, blind, insane, and idiotic. The third New Firm at Wallaceton, Pa. volume will contain the records of industry and wealth in the United ates, and also tables of wealth, taxation and general indebtedness; of agriculture, of manufacturing and mining industry and fisheries, and also the tables of occupation.

THE PRESIDENT AS A PROPHET.—On the 20th of January, 1864, General Grant wrote a letter to Hon. I. N. Morris, of Illinois, on the subject of the presidency, in which he said:

In your letter you say that I have it in my power to be the next President. This is the last thing in the world I desire. I would regard such a consummation as being highly unfortunate for muself, if not for the country.

GROCERIES,

tunate for myself, if not for the country.

That the "consummation" has been unfortunate for the country no one will question; as to himself he must be the judge, after comparing his present reputation with what it was when he made the prophecy.

HARD ON RADICAL GOVERNORS .-Radical Governors fare hard. Holder of North Carolina was impeached and has been for months a fugitive from justice. Butler of Nebraska was im peached. Bullock of Georgia fled and resigned to escape impeachment.— Davis of Texas has been rebuked by 40,000 majority. And now Austin of Minnesota is in court to prove that he did not take a bribe of 5,000 for signing a railroad bill, as charged by the St. Anthony Falls Democrat. Truly, the rascals have a hard road to trave in their iniquitous career.

FIGHT WITH COUNTERPEITERS !- On the 24th ult., G. Tyler, with another notorious counterfeiter, of Fort Wayne, was discovered by United States de-tectives near Willsville, Ohio, on the river bank. Tyler drew a revolver and fired a ball through the coat of one of the officers. The other officer returned the fire, shooting one man shrough the hand. Tyler then made through the hand. Tyler then mans for the river, jumped in and was drowned, leaving on the bank his coat, which contained $1,100 in counterfeit which contained $1,100 in counterfeit and level tenders. The other man show Findings.

Sole Leather, Moroccos, Linings, Bindings and Thread, Showmakers' Tools and Show Findings.

THE DIFFERENCE.-In 1868, Andrew Johnson being President, the expenses for Congress, the Executive, Judiciary; and the Territories, amounted to $11,371,979.

In 1871, Ulysses S. Grant being President, the expenses for the same things, amounted to $18,020,054. How does this appear to the friends of the economical administration of public affairs?

THEY KNOW.—The colored people of New Orleans say that they could stand one attack of a brother in law, in the person of Collector Casey, but when the assault is doubled on them in the shape of a brother in law of Ben Butier, it is more than they can endure. They have no spoons for which they fear, but they think that it is rather hard when their soup is

How to Save Money. The times are hard; you'd like to know How you may savelyour dollars; The way to do it I will show, If you will read what follows.

A man who lived not far from here, Who worked hard at his trade, But had a household to support That squandgred all he made.

I met him once. Says he, "My friend, I look threadbare and rough; I've tried to get myself a suit, But can't save up enough." Says I, my friend, how much have you? I'll tell you where to go
To get a suit that's sound and cheap :
To REIZENSTEIN & Co.

He took what little he had saved,
And went to Reisenstein & Brothers',
And there he got a handsome suit,
For half he paid to others.

Now he is home, he looks so well, And their effect is such, That when they take their daily meal, They don't cat half as much. And now be finds on Saturday night, With all their waste supplied. That he has money left to spend, And some to lay acide.
