ing people lied, and instructed her to say that they were mistaken. A few days after, her grandma, to amuse her, told her a bear story, which was hard to believe. After she had finished, the little grand child looked up in her face and exclaimed : "Grandma, that's the biggest mistaken I ever heard."

Horace Greeley has said many good and true things in his lifetime, but

"Incredible as it might seem, the fact is but too apparent that there are men who aspire to be called statesmen, whose love of country and ro-gard for justice and truth are subordinate to their desire for political promotion and the 'loaves and fishes' of office, and who do not acruple to put in jeopardy the peace of the world, if they thereby promote their selfish and personal ends."

save her life, drank a quart of raw whiskey. After she became sober, she found that a broken steel in her hoop skirt had scratched her ankle, and she had her drunk for nothing. "Unders your give me aid" and a

"Unless you give me aid," said a beggar to a benevolent lady, "I am afraid I shall have to resort to something which I should greatly dislike to do." The lady handed him a dol-lar, and compassionately asked, "What is it, poor man, that I have saved you from ?" "Work," was the mournful answer.

NACKEL MINES .- Located in the midst of the fine agricultural county of Lancaster, is the only nickel mine now being worked in the United States, and which yields the ore from which many of our small coins are made. the ore-bearing portions varying in width from one to forty feet, and pro-ducing from 400 to 700 tons per month. ment of this ore, it is roasted and subsequently smelled in small blast furnaces, producing a crude product, which is shipped to the refining works at Camden, N. J.—the only works in the United States where metallic nickel is refined-yielding about 51 per cent of nickel. The refined metal and for many purposes takes the place of silver, particularly for steel and iron ware, table wares, etc. It is fast finding a commercial demand, and while it is not as expansive as silver, it is maxing with great moments. it is meeting with great success as a the market. exclusively silver platers using nickel largely.- Columbia Herald.
