THE REPUBLICAN.

CLEARFIELD, PA.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC. 25, 1872.

Sacriligious Toadying.

It was regarded as at least one step in advance of propriety, when President Grant, in his Thanksgiving proclamation, urged the people to return thanks for the blessings of such an administration as his; but Gov. McCook, of Colorado, has outdone his political chief by officially inviting his constituents to be thankful because "the nation had just vouchsafed four years more of Republican rule." This was not only asking the people of Colorado to return thanks for Grant, but also for Casey and Cramer and Cameron and McCook—which is really a little more than ought reasonably to be expected, even of a people who have such a remarkable man for their Governor. But, if the Colorado Governor is extravagant in his thanksgiving ideas, he is himself eclipsed by the Rev. Dr. Newman, Chaplain of the United States Senate, who is a zealous partisan, as well as a strong personal friend of President Grant. Some of his efforts to advance the interests of the party to which he has attached himself have been of a character not exactly calculated to reflect credit upon his cloth. Some excuse may be found for his political efforts to advance Gen. Grant's interests, but no excuse whatever can be made for such servility and adulation as was exhibited by the Rev. Doctor in the course of his prayer at the opening of the present session of the Senate. We quote the words from the official report in the Washington Globe:

"May the blessing of the Highest rest upon our Chief Ruler. May wisdom divine, the gentleness of Christ, firmness of purpose and impartiality characterize the administration of the future as of the past, that he may enjoy the approval of mankind, and the approbation of God."

The sooner this kind of prayer is stopped the better.

MINISTER CURTIN'S SUCCESSOR.—Hon. James L. Orr, who has just received the appointment of United States Minister to Russia, is a native of South Carolina, born May 12th 1822, at Craytonville. He was educated at the University of Virginia, then studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1843. In 1844 he was elected to the State Legislature and was re-elected in 1845. He was elected to the United States House of Representatives in 1848, and by re-election served in that body until March 4th, 1859. He was Speaker of the House in the Thirty-fifth Congress.—He was a member of the South Carolina Secession Convention, which met in December, 1860, and in that body voted for the immediate and separate secession of the State. He was also one of the three Commissioners sent to Washington to negotiate for the surrender of the forts in Charleston harbor to the State of South Carolina. From 1862 to 1865 he was a member of the Confederate Senate, but after the Rebellion he became reconciled to the change in the position of the State, and in 1865 he was elected Governor by a majority of 607, the vote being 9776 for Orr against 9109 for Wade Hampton, Democrat. He held office until 1869, when he became a Judge of the Circuit Court.

A NEW FEATURE.—The Custom House manner of carrying an election in Louisiana is rather an improvement on the style in vogue in Philadelphia and less expensive. We call the attention of the "Cameron Ring," to this fact. In Philadelphia the means used are "rounders," "repeaters," "personations" and "colonization," involving a great expenditure of money. But in Louisiana all this is avoided, and the cash saved. There they count all the registered votes not polled, after the election is over, and add them to the administration column. After the recent election, the Custom House party counted 32,000 votes, which they alleged would have voted their ticket had they been polled. This gave Grant the electoral vote, elected the Radical Governor, State officials and Legislature. Backed by the U. S. soldiers under the control of the Federal court and the U. S. Marshal they have revolutionized the government of Louisiana. If the Republicans will allow the Democrats and Liberals to count the unpolled votes at the recent Presidential election Grant would be beaten out of sight.—Indiana Democrat.

WAS ANYBODY BRIBED.—In reference to the developments being made in the Credit-Mobilier case, the Tribune seems to assume as a fact that Mr. Oakes Ames has admitted the authorship of certain letters which have been widely construed as plainly avowing a plan for bribing Congressmen by "placing" Pacific Railroad stock among them "where it would do good," and significantly suggests that the Credit-Mobilier Investigation Committee has then two things to determine. Was that the true intent and meaning of those letters, as interpreted by the affidavit of Col. McComb, and the very suggestive letter of Senator Bayard? Did Mr. Ames bribe the men whose names Col McComb swears to his having furnished? If the first be true, Mr. Ames is certainly no fit member of Congress. If the second be true a number of its prominent members deserve the same fate with Ames. Col. McComb, we see, denies that he has the remotest intention of flinching from the examination; and the Committee has summoned him.

NO AMNESTY YET.—General Amnesty had a vote in the House of Representatives on Tuesday, and received 102 Yeas to 84 Nays. That there should be 84 men in the House who favor the policy which politically disables a handful of ex-Rebels may seem amazing and even discouraging. But, then, the affirmative side of the question received an unprecedentedly large support. It takes a two-third vote to give us General Amnesty, so the bill did not pass; but, taken with the vote on the bill to remove Mr. Lamar's diabilities, the tone of the proceedings shows that the day is not so very far off when a wise and just measure will sweep away these last relics of an old revenge.

Senator Ferry has introduced a bill into the United States Senate to repeal the "iron clad" oath of 1862. This is a good following after Sumner's resolutions to strike all names of battles of the late civil war from the army register and colors of the United States regiments. But there is too much hate in the Senate to pass either.

WISHART'S PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL,

NATURE'S GREAT REMEDY FOR THE

Throat and Lungs.

It is gratifying to us to inform the public that Dr. L. Q. C. Wishart's Pine Tree Tar Cordial, for Throat and Lung Diseases, has gained an enviable reputation from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and from thence to some of the first families of Europe, not through the press alone, but by persons throughout the States actually benefitted and cured at his office. While he publishes less, so say our reporters, he is unable to supply the demand. It gains and holds its reputation—

First. Not by stopping cough, but by loosening and assisting nature to throw off the unhealthy matter collected about the throat and bronchial tubes, which causes irritation.

Second. It removes the cause of irritation (which produces cough) of the mucous membrane and bronchial tubes, assists the lungs to act and throw off the unhealthy secretions, and purifies the blood.

Third. It is free from squills, lobelia, ipecac and opium, of which most throat and lung remedies are composed, which allay cough only, and disorganize the stomach. It has a soothing effect on the stomach, acts on the liver and kidneys, and lymphatic and nervous regions, thus reaching to every part of the system, and in its invigorating and purifying effects it has gained a reputation which it must hold above all others in the market.
