THANKS.—Hon. R. M. Speer, member of Congress from the Huntington district, has returned for valuable public documents. Representative James, of Harrisburg, ditto.

A QUESTION.—A correspondent asks: "Can our School Board appoint the District Treasurer Collector of school tax?" We think so provided he will accept and file his bond as such. His bond as Treasurer would not cover a definition as Collector.

Marshall Hall, of the Western District, passed through Altoona, Wednesday morning, on his official business to Clearfield County. Whether if there have another Knox township rebellion out there?—Altoona Sun.

JUDGE MAYER.—We regret to learn of the serious indisposition of this gentleman. He was unwell during the term of our Court, but succeeded in holding Court until Saturday noon, when he left for his home in Look Haven. He was unable to proceed to Bellefonte on the following Monday, but was there on Tuesday, and was compelled to adjourn Court in the evening until Monday of this week.

No Reduction.—The business portion of our community has often debated the high freight rates of the Baltimore & York railroad. It was understood that a reduction would take place this year. But we notice by the Weekender that a meeting of the Directors of the road was held at the Bush House, in Bellefonte, on last week, but no reduction of freight took place.

How Jas. T. Leonard, of Clearfield, has presented the site, and made a proposition to advance $10,000 for the purchase of the site for a school building in that place. His generous proposal has been accepted, and the building is to be built on the site, and a free lot will be given to the school. We are informed by a friend that he contemplates "going $10,000 better," should it become necessary to pay a first class building. What say you to that, Ellsworth?

A CADETSHIP.—The Brookville Register says: "Hon. C. B. Curtis, Congressman elect from this district, is empowered to select a cadet to fill a vacancy which will occur in the naval academy on the 15th of March. Candidates for the position should make early application, and file in the best letters they can command. Congressmen have been applying to the late Mr. Curtis, and several have been named. It is believed that the late Mr. Curtis will select a cadet from among the names of his constituents. The poor boy will therefore stand an equal chance with the rich."

LIFE OF GALATHEE.—The Johnstown Democrat says: "Miss Brown, daughter of the editor of Brown's Review, has now in press a 'Life of Prince Gallatin, the Apostle of the Alleghenies.' The authors spent several weeks in Loreto and vicinity, collecting material for the biography, and as many are still living who were familiar with Father Gallatin, we have no doubt that this interesting life has compiled a faithful history of this missionary's life during his arduous labors in the then nearly uncharted mountain districts where he labored so early as 1795."

The card of the County Superintendent, Mr. Gregory, will be found in this issue. It is really remarkable that so many directors, teachers and other persons expect to find him at any time in his office, while all the schools are open and he is busy visiting schools throughout the county. He has previously designated the first Friday and Saturday of each month as stay-at-home, or office days. Persons bearing this in mind will avoid making unnecessary inquiries and find Mr. Gregory at home in his office.

HALF OUT OF OFFICE.—It is proper for all parties to understand that the School Treasurers have been superseded as receivers of public money by the election of District Treasurers. The old Treasurers can pay out money until their accounts are settled, but they are not competent to receipt to the County Treasurer for uncollected school tax. This may disarrange the programme of some, and, like all other changes, will produce some confusion for the time being.

JUPITER, HOW COULD!—The Bellefonte Weekender of Friday says: "We are indebted to the enterprising lighting manipulator of this place for the following observations of the mercury, registered on Thursday morning last: Look Heaven!... Clearfield... Altoona... Waterbury... Milton... Bellefonte... The 'solid meteorologist' tells us how these compare with other observations within the scope of his recollection?"

A SUCCESS.—One of the most successful entertainments that ever came off in the Court Room, was that given by the pupils of Miss Swan's school, on Friday and Saturday evenings. The crowd on Friday evening was as great, in proportion to the size of the respective rooms, as on a former occasion, when an attempt was made to hold the exhibition in the school room. A large number were unable to obtain seats in the Court Room, hence the entertainment was continued on Saturday night, when the spacious room was nearly filled again. Miss Swan and her assistant, Miss James, are entitled to great credit for their efforts in setting before parents and children, so successfully, those higher planes of education and social life. Prof. Parker, of Birmingham Academy, who was on hand and played a conspicuous part, and we have no doubt proved an able assistant to both teachers and pupils. Our Orchestra seemed a little dull on Friday evening, but it showed off well the next evening, and gathered fresh laurels. Miss James' exercise on the piano developed the fact that she had perfect control of the instrument. And the dear little girls, "they look so sweet," was the remark made on her hearing, by a number of the young men, whose eyes glistened as brightly as the jewels and ornaments on the dresses of the ladies. And, from the singing and feeling around about the close of the performance, we have no doubt but that some of them "knew all about it" ere this time. Let us have some more performances of the same kind. Let us everybody feel.

LUCKY.—We notice by the Times of last week that a little girl would have been killed in Curwensville, had she remained standing in the street and allowed a team, drawing a pile of stick of timber, to run over her. The Times says, "she did get out of the way, and narrowly escaped, and appears to have been fortunate in avoiding a serious injury." The Times and the Times committee secured a $1000 bond.

NARROW ESCAPE.—The Philadelphia Journal of Saturday says: "Mr. Owen Hancock, superintendent of the Lock Lomond Saw Mills of Jones, Allport & Co., met with a painful accident on Wednesday afternoon, escaping almost miraculously with his life. A short distance above the mill a large bush tree had been felled which by reason of the wind, being supported by its limbs, which were up against the trunk of the tree was blown over and fell above the tree which covered the creek. It was thought that when the ice broke up, the tree would be carried down the stream into the broom, where its branches would render it an obstacle, and Mr. Hancock took an axe and began cutting off the obstructive branches. After lopping off a few, the tree suddenly swayed and fell upon him, throwing him with such force that the ice upon which he was standing gave way beneath him, and he found himself half immersed in the chilling water, held in that perilous position by the weight of the heavy trunk that lay across his body, helpless and brained. Although not seriously injured, his situation was indeed a dangerous one, for if the ice had broken any more or if the weight of the tree had caused it to sink in the four or five feet of the most public place, the water would have been of no use to him. In this condition he called for help, but was conscious that the men in the mill could not hear him on account of the noise of the machinery, and it was only possible that some one might be on the outside. Fortunately, about fifteen minutes after the accident a belt in the mill broke, the engine was stopped and his cries were heard. The men hastened to relieve him and he was soon extricated, furnished with dry clothing and brought home. His condition is now much better than could have been expected, and he is to be congratulated upon his fortunate escape."

RECAPITULATION.—There are few persons who are aware of the importance of attending to a cough or cold at its first appearance. The thousands who die annually of consumption, were first attacked with an "alligh" cough or cold, which they thought would soon "wear" itself off, and therefore neglected to use the proper remedies until they became incurable. Every day that a cough, cold, or any kind of disease is neglected, makes the chance of a cure more uncertain. We would recommend all suffering from any disease of the lungs, whether it be an "alligh" cough or cold, or any kind of consumption, to use HANCOCK'S GREAT PEPPERMINT CURE. It never fails in curing the worst cases of coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, croup, and asthma. It is an infallible remedy for Whooping Cough, and prescribed by some of the leading physicians in the Northern and Southern States, and being prepared under the immediate supervision of a graduate of the Pennsylvania Medical College. The proprietors beg leave to inform all that it is an "alligh" remedy, and made strictly in accordance with the advanced principles and theory of medicine. Price 50 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. H. F. BIGLER & CO., Philadelphia. Sold by A. I. Shaw, Clearfield, Pa., and by all Druggists. oct16-6m

Read It.—The Auditors' report of the Road and Poor funds of Lawrence township, for 1872, will be found elsewhere in this issue. This is just the kind of statement that every borough and township should publish. If the auditors do not want to patronize the printer, let them print a statement of their own, at four or five of the most public places, so that all may examine the statement. Suppose the County Commissioners and Auditors should fail to publish their annual statement of the county expenses for one or two years. What a howl of "fraud!" would go up. The same rule applies to School, Road and Poor accounts. The moment that township and borough auditors give publicity to their accounts, that moment half the surmises and half the suspicions are dispelled. Substantiating about these public matters will be removed and everybody feel better. Shut the road leading to fraud, backbiting and general neighborhood slander, and you leave but little room to either practice or talk about fraud.

FREE BRIDGES.—Nothing would please us better than to see every bridge in the county made free, either by a surrender of their respective charters, or by being purchased by the county and then declared free. The new price is now built and paid for, so far as the mated property holders are concerned. Now, let the county embark in purchasing and restoring free bridges over the large streams, and at the same time the largest subscribers can be obtained. We learn that the stockholders of the Curwensville bridge propose to surrender their charter, provided subscription enough can be raised from citizens and the county to rebuild it. The bridge was so badly damaged by the late flood that it could not be taken down and rebuilt. Let the citizens now rebuild it, and a free bridge will be the result. We have no doubt the county will subscribe liberally, provided the citizens in the immediate neighborhood manifest a similar disposition.
