WEDNESDAY MORNING, FEB. 12, 1873. A Bachelor on Babies.

There are a great number of babies ever, kept out of sight in cradles, ben-A man once told me that the reason of this is because, if they were allowed our friend Bergh.

Babies are nearly all the same size. When very small, they are called infants and fed on butter, brown sugar, and turpentine. Sometimes turpentine rises to their heads, and they behave in a most outrageous manner. I once saw an infant who had drunk too much turpentine sitting on a pillow on the ground, at a respectable looking old lady's the infant's grand aunt, who had a lot of money in the funds. Whenever she pointed her finger at the infant, it yelled louder than ever, and tried to bite. The grand aunt left the house, and settled all her money on an institution for elderly unmarried women.

The education of babies is generally in a very backward state; indeed, calling. they do not seem to know much of the English language beyond the words "papa," "mamma," "me," "go," "by." Their attempts at French are of all kinds of Merchandics ever brought to Clear even worse : they are continually us. field county, which we intend to sell at such fig. ing such low French as "ajou," "day ures as will make it an object for all persons to day," "ba-ba," and "by-by." A man purchase from us. Families laying in winter once told me he had no doubt that supplies of Groceries, Dry Goods, &c., should not babies are descended from negroes, for fail to give us a call, as we feel confident our they always say me for I.

Babies do not differ much in temper, satisfy all. Our stock of size, or disposition. They are violent, about the size of a pillow, and covetous.

I once saw a baby with a corkscrew, a pair of tongs, a hand-bell, and a broken hearth-brush, and nothing could to, &c. Our stock of induce it to part from any of them, although it had got the corkscrew halfway into its ear and the handle of supply any article in that line, without enumer the hearth-brush altogether down its ting. throat .- From Science of Health.

Even Ben Butler, we are told, is getting dis- to jobbers. gusted, and has announced that the party cannot afford to retain criminals. as he calls them, like Dawes and Garfield, at the head of the most import ant committees, and that these positions must be transferred elsewhere. DRY GOODS, NOTIONS, Meanwhile the question appermost in the public mind is, what will the committee say? What will Congress and the Senate do? Dare they trot out those old, well-worn white-wash brushes and again begin the work of plastering on the limy liquid, in the vain attempt to hide the hideous eraptions which cover the persons of these shamelessly recreant Senators and Congressmen? Will they dare tell the outraged and indignant people who have the facts before them that Colfax and Wilson, and Patterson, and the whole list are less dishonors. and the whole list are less dishonorable than the one solitary Democratic READ THIS! scape-goat Brooks? Let us fairly but anxiously wait and see how these questions will be answered .- Lancaster Intelligencer.

Or Course Nor .- Oakes Ames, the beguiler of his congressional brethren, was approached by a friend the other day, in the House hall, who remarked to him: "I suppose they will expel you, Mr.

Ames?

"Expel me, sir! expel me !" exclaim ed old Hoax, "what do you mean, sir? Expel the honestest man in the House! Pehaw, they won't do it, no, sir," and he put his hand into his side pocket to Co.'s brand of Family Flour, which is the best in see if the old wallet was still safe. The impression prevails among leading members of the House that Hoax is right. If arraigned he will ask the member whose hands are clean of a job Alexander Irvin's residence to east the first vote. No one knows how many pledges the old pawnbroker has got, and sure as fate Unclo Hoax TERRA COTTA STANDING VASES, will discover"that memorandum book" if he is pressed too hard.
