O, the snow, "the beautiful snow," the past week, and the mud, the infernal mud—sing.

Jones, of the Tyrone Herald, is going to Hollidaysburg court next week and wants everybody to notice him. Give him a puff, Traugh.

Bellefonters have subscribed and offered as a bonus $10,000 for the location of car shops in that village. Clearfield will go $10,000 better.

Rev. Robert C. Bryson, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Pine Grove Mills, Centre county, died on the 12th. He leaves a wife and four children.

Re-appointed.—Gov. Hartranft has re-appointed Josiah Evans, Esq., of Curwensville, as Notary Public. This is the third time he has been commissioned. He makes a faithful officer.

A Long List.—It will be observed by the advertisement in this issue that the Mercantile Appraiser publishes a long list of names for 1873, and that appeal day comes next Friday.

It will be noticed that the citizens of Lumber City are making proper efforts to open a high school in their midst. This is commendable. For terms, etc., see advertisement in this issue.

Yesterday was circus day in our town, and although the day was rainy and wet, the usual amount of pleasure seekers were on hand to see the elephant, the big "snaiks" and the other wonders.

The Hollidaysburg Standard says: Clearfield has local option, and yet some of her citizens drink something stronger than water.

You imagine that Clearfielders practice the Hollidaysburg game.

Tyndall, one of Brookville's escaped jail birds, was captured near Butler, Pa., and returned to limbo, and the Commissioners and Sheriff planked down to his captors $300. Robison is still at large.

Treasurer Wilson's tax levee commences in his office in the Court House, on Friday and Saturday next, for Clearfield and Lawrence, after which he repairs to the country, commencing at Karthaus on Tuesday.

Wm. Bridgens, one of the first settlers in Karthaus, died at the old homestead on the 16th, in the 80th year of his age. He was highly esteemed by his neighbors and will long be remembered by the rising generation for his amiable disposition.

If the editor of the Osceola Reveille expects to pocket $5 per day as a juror, when he comes over to June court, he'll be fooled. "Bris," you had better bring $3 per day with you, because the Commissioners will only allow you what other people get—$2 per day.

We presume it is wholly unnecessary for us to announce in detail to our readers the fact that we have had extremely unpleasant weather in this section during the past week, because those who have any feeling on the subject have fully realized what we refer to..

Can't Go In.—We have lately received quite a number of communications relating to different subjects; among them two marriage notices, but no name being attached to any of them they cannot appear in our columns. Friends, we want news, but we must have the name of the writer.

Another "Tribune."—We have before us a number of a new daily paper started at Altoona, entitled the Morning Tribune, published by McCrum & Dern. It is the best sample of a country daily we have ever seen. It is very newsy and mechanically executed in the best style of the art. Only $6 per annum.

The Tyrone Herald says:

Four games of base ball, at different points, and at the same time, were played in Altoona on Sunday last.

It is evidently very lively in the mountain city on Sunday, but we will have to Bear with it, Jones.

Judge Mayer.—We are gratified to learn that his honor's health has been greatly restored. The Clinton Democrat of last week says: "Judge Mayer has returned from Philadelphia in improved health. He is looking much better and appears ready to proceed with the business of his circuit with his usual vigor and dispatch."

On the Ground.—On Monday afternoon last, Superintendent Wilkins and his engineer corps drove their stake at the depot, and in compliance with the advice of Horace Greeley, started west, toward Curwensville, with the intention of extending the Tyrone & Clearfield railroad. And from the appearance of thing we would not be subprised to see the road continued to the Alleghany river, or even farther west. Curwensvillians will be made happy, anyhow.

Announcements.—Next week we will begin to announce the names of candidates for the several offices to be filled by the voters of our county at the October election. The fee will be $10 each for Assembly, Sheriff, Treasurer and District Attorney, and $5 each for Commissioner, Auditor and Jury Commissioner. This charge is for the card and 6,000 tickets for each candidate. Those who want more tickets will be charged $2 per thousand extra. No name will be announced nor tickets printed until the cash comes to hand.

Sudden Death. — F. C. Cromm, merchant tailor, who formerly resided at this place and lately at Franklin, died at Brookville, where he had just removed, on the evening of the 24th, of congestion of the brain, aged 34 years, 9 months and 9 days. His demise was sudden and unexpected, he having been assured by his physician, a few hours before, that he would be able to attend to business by the next morning.—The friends of the deceased, in this place, have the sympathy of their neighbors in their day of grief.

The New Municipality.—Wallaceton, covering a portion of the territory of Boggs township, on the railroad, 10 miles east of this place, has been erected into a borough, and is now ready for business. An election for borough officers took place on the 24th, at which 28 votes were polled—rather a small pattern, but plenty of room to grow. Justice, James H. Turner; Constable, Andrew Klear; High Constable, M. V. Turner; Burgess, Isaac Shimel; Town Council, A. V. Mulson, T. M. Holt, John Bumbarger, John Shaw, Andrew Klear, James K. Turner; School Directors, J. H. Turner, H. Quigley, A. V. Mulson, S. Chapman, Wm. Learish, Phineas Thayer; Judge, T. M. Holt; Inspectors, David Turner, Wm. Learish; Auditors, T. M. Holt, David Quig, J. G. Gaffney; Overseers, J. K. Turner, F. Chapman; Treasurer, James H. Turner.

Important Laws.—On our first page will be found several Acts of Assembly passed last winter, relating to Clearfield county. The further supplement regulating the boroughs in this county is particularly interesting to the citizens thereof, as the change is radical. The next authorizes the voters of this county to elect two Assistant Assessors at the October election. The Sheriff is to give notice to that effect in his general election proclamation. The other two supplements relate to the District Treasury question, regulating the compensation and preventing them from holding any other office. This latter feature is too broad. It would be proper to exclude them from the office of Auditor, Supervisor, Overseer and School Director, because all these officers are more or less concerned in assessing and handling public money, and should have no voice in settling or adjusting the public accounts. But why a Justice of the Peace, Constable, Assessor, Judge or Inspector should be disfranchised we cannot understand. To our mind there should have been added to the last supplement relating to the District Treasurer the words: "not exceeding three per cent." Then if there was anybody patriotic enough to discharge the duties for nothing, he could have done so. Now, if by neglect or design no amount is fixed, the Treasurer can play George O. Evans, the State agent, and charge the borough or township ten per cent. It will not do to say that this will not happen, because the Evans lesson is conclusive on this point. And if State officers can defraud the treasury out of three hundred thousand dollars, under a similar act, what is there to prevent a borough or township officer from taking three thousand dollars out of his treasury, if so disposed? A limit should have been fixed in the bill.

A Gigantic Speculation.—A heavy sale of coal and timber lands was closed two weeks ago between Robert Osborn, A. F. Baum, John Carrier and Nathan Carrier, all of Brookville, to Col. Wm. Phillips, President of the Allegheny Valley Railroad, who purchased from the party named, about 2,700 acres and the half interest in 800 acres, for the sum of three hundred thousand six hundred and seventy-five dollars, being over $125 per acre. These lands lie in Brady and Huston townships, on Sandy Lick creek, along the line of the Low Grade Railroad, where Falls Creek empties into Sandy. To our mind, this settles the question as to where the shops of the Allegheny Valley Railroad will be located, and fixes the junction of the Buffalo road with the Low Grade road at the mouth of Falls Creek.—The pine trees in that section are less than 200 feet high and the coal vein not over 20 feet thick. It is, without doubt, one of the grandest speculations that ever occurred in this section of the State.

Behind the Scenes in Washington: Being a complete account of the Credit Mobilier Investigations, the Congressional Rings, Political Intrigues, Workings of the Lobbies, etc. Giving the secret history of our National Government, in all its various branches, and showing how the public money is squandered, how votes are obtained, etc. With sketches of leading Senators, Congressmen, Government Officials and an accurate description of the splendid Public Buildings of the Federal Capital. By Edward W. Martin, author of the Secrets of the Great City. Illustrated with numerous fine engravings of the public buildings and noted scenes in Washington.

Such is the somewhat lengthy title of a work published, specimen sheets of which are now before us. Mechanically the work is well done, and we believe the author treats his subject fairly and the public should patronize and thank him for producing in book form some of the "scenes" enacted at our national capital. We shall refer to this book again, at some future time. It is sold by subscription, and agents are wanted everywhere. Address National Publishing Company, Philadelphia.

How to Go West.—This is the expressive title of an eighty paged pamphlet issued by the agent of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad. A number of excellent maps accompany the publication, together with some splendid views of scenery along the line of this road. "Go west, young man," was the standing advice of the late Horace Greeley to the numerous young men who used to inquire of him what to do, or where to go. Any one disposed to try it should secure a copy of this pamphlet before he starts. Much anxiety is overcome and trouble avoided by obtaining correct information, and this publication contains much of what the western bound traveler should know before starting. Sent free to any address upon application to the General Passenger Agent C., B. & Q. R. R., Chicago, Ill.

Clearfield county was the first in the State to declare against license. The new law works admirably. Every night in the week the denizens of the capital of the county get howling drunk, if we have been correctly informed by a well-known lumberman, who arrived in this city last evening.—Altoona Tribune.

That's a lie—kly story. You have not been informed correctly. Your "well-known lumberman" was either drunk or has little regard for truth.

A. J. Young, a highly respected citizen of Spring Mills, Centre county, committed suicide on the 17th by opening a vein in his arm and bleeding to death. He leaves a wife and two children. On his person was found a short note, written with a lead pencil, in these words:

Dear wife and children, I am the innocent victim of a conspiracy.

What this conspiracy is no one knows.

Attempt to Rob.—James Thompson, a young man, attempted to rob John Askey, of Clearfield, at the depot a few days since. Askey is an old man. Thompson grappled him, run his hand into his pocket and took out his pocket book, but he didn't get away as he expected. The old man held him till assistance came. He was taken before Alderman Batebeler and committed for court in default of $300 bail. Askey wanted the Alderman to let him get at Thompson and give him a good drubbing in satisfaction for the offence, but declared his intention to come down and prosecute if he was not allowed to settle the case in his own way.—Clinton Democrat.

Those who disbelieve this in these times of muddy roads and bad weather (for nothing keeps us back) will find it to their advantage by calling at our store in Curwensville and lay in their spring supply of goods now offered cheaper than ever before. CLASSIFICATION OF LIFE INSURANCE CO'S.

Mr. Editor:—It is doubtless still fresh in the minds of your readers, the effort the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York made near the end of the year, 1872, to reduce the rates of insurance, but had to relinquish for the time being only, on account of the earnest requests of all the second, third, fourth and fifth classes of Mutual Life Insurance companies of the United States, who were under the impression that they would have to quit business, or at least a large number of them would have been compelled to have reinsured their risks. If the Mutual Life of New York had succeeded in reducing the rates as it proposed, say from 15 to 25 per cent., and still be a mutual company, and declare larger dividends than many of the lower class of mutual life companies are now doing with the present high rates charged.

During the time the Mutual Life of New York had this reduction of rates under consideration, it was widely discussed among Life Insurance men, Actuaries, Bankers and all classes of other financiers, what other Mutual Life Companies would be able to reduce their rates with the New York Mutual, and still declare dividends and protect their policy holders, and there has been a general concurrence that all Mutual Life Companies could have joined the Mutual Life of New York in reducing their rates where their ratio of gross expenses to gross receipts did not exceed 12 per centum, and then have a surplus to protect their policy holders, fully one million of dollars.

And it is further concurred by these leading financiers that such Companies should be presented to the insuring public as first class Companies.

And we may very justly continue this classification on a duo-decimal system, and those other Mutual Life Companies, whose ratio of gross expenses to gross receipts are between 12 and 24 per centum, should rightfully belong to the second class companies, and those whose ratios are found between 24 and 36 per centum belong to third class, and so on at a duo-decimal ratio.—And according to this system, the undersigned has thought proper to present to the insured and insuring public of, Bellefonte and vicinity, the following classification of Life Insurance companies, carefully taken from the official tables from the report of the Massachusetts Insurance Commissioner for the year 1872, and by this classification enable the policy-holders of Centre county to determine what class of companies they are insured in; also to direct those about to insure where they ought to insure. And, Mr. Editor, as Life Insurance is fast becoming an important part of our Finance, these official reports should appear in our county papers often, so as to direct the Life Insurance Ships to the right port.

Hence we have the following classification according to the above rule:

FIRST CLASS COMPANIES.

Mutual Life Insurance Co. of N. Y., Connecticut Mutual, Mutual Benefit of Newark, N. J., New England Mutual, Ætna, of Hartford, New York Life and the Penn Mutual.

SECOND CLASS COMPANIES.

Charter Oak, Northwestern Mutual, Manhatten, Knickerbocker, Equitable Life, Association of the U. S., Mass. Mutual, Home Life, Providient Life, North America, Washington, Security, John Hancock Mutual, Germania, New Jertey Mutual and several others.

THIRD CLASS COMPANIES.

Metropolitan, N. Y., Continental, N. Y., Continental, Hartford, Eclectic, American Popular, Asbury, Brooklyn, Globe Mutual, Government Security, Guardian Mutual and several others.

FOURTH CLASS COMPANIES.

Anchor Life, Empire State, Hartford Life and Annuity, Merchants', National Capitol and a few others.

A rule how to find a good Life Insurance company: Go to the office of any good Life Agent, and ask him for a copy of the New York or Massachusetts Official Life Insurance Report—pay no attention to what may be said to you by any one about any particular company; but examine the official report yourself, (and be sure that the report is official), and when you find a company whose ratio of expense to income smallest, gross assets largest, and with the largest surplus as regards policy-holders, ask the agent to obtain a policy for you at once in this company, and when you invest in such a company you make the best legitimate investment that can be made in the United States.
