The sentence of the Baltimore court, in the late case, was a fine of one dollar, the costs of prosecution and one year's imprisonment in the county jail.

The loss in buckets during the late fire was heavy. We put out and got one back. If anybody has a cedar bucket with brass hoops and a handle, and has no particular use for it, we can use it.

When the town council of Tyrone would enforce its ordinance providing for the muzzling of dogs it very sensibly repealed it.

What a flexible and considerate council this is.

CHURCH DEDICATION—St. Mary's Church, at Frenchville, will be dedicated on Wednesday, October 8, 1873.

The Williamsport Sun says: Philadelphia, Centre county, gives "grand lops" on Sabbath evenings. A few missionaries are needed over there.

Elitish, go for that six-o'-a-gun. Place your town right upon the moral record.

The County Commissioners are in session this week. Their office is in the vicinity of the borough, who have very business to lay before the board, but better attend to it this week, as Court week invariably brings business enough from the distant portions of the county to engage their attention.

RAILROAD EXTENSION—Superintendent Wilkins and his forces are actively at work grading and putting down the track from this place to Carversville, and it looks as though the road will be completed westward, as fast as circumstances will allow, as far as Carversville.

"Picking Cherries down the Lane," and "Happy Hours," are two new songs by the renowned Millard, both containing all the elements of popularity and both really excellent.

They can be had at any music store, for the price of five cents each, or will be sent free of post and receipt of price, by the publishers. LEE & WALKER, 222 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.

Clearfield base ballists came to grief at Gettysburg, the score standing 28 to 41. It is not as we know not with any much truth—that $200 was betted on the game—Philadelphia Journal.

Yes, and there is another rumor, that after coming to play the Clearfielders in a game last week, the Oscoscans got sick and failed to come to time.

The dedication of the new and beautiful M. E. Church, in West Clearfield, will take place October 26, 1873. A number of distinguished ministers will be present on the occasion, prominent among whom will be the Rev. Dr. J. McCreedy Biley, of Williamsport, Pa. An exceedingly entertaining and profitable time is anticipated. The public generally are most cordially invited to attend.

Henry Barnhart, an esteemed citizen of Centre county, and well known to us of our citizens, died near Millersburg, on the 14th inst., aged 85 years. The Belleville writes, in alluding to his widow, says:

The venerable Mrs. Barnhart, relict of the late Henry Barnhart, is now 85 years of age, and has always resided within a hundred yards of the place where she is now residing. She was here, there, was married to the Judge there, and has never had a residence away from it. This is an instance of home attachment seldom met with.

CENTENIAL MEETING—We are authorized to announce that a meeting of the citizens of Clearfield county will be held in the Court House, on Monday evening, Sept. 23, for the purpose of organizing a committee in view of the approaching Centennial celebration, which is to come off in Philadelphia. Ex. Gov. Pattick, of Philadelphia, and Judge Barrett will be present to address the citizens. Let there be a general turn out of the people. The ladies are particularly invited to be present.

GREAT GAS WELL—The greatest gas well in the world is located on the Campbell farm, about two miles from Moseley City, Butler county, in a northerly direction. It is certainly one of the wonders of the world. It was struck about three weeks ago, and a volume of gas has ever since been pouring forth with a force like the rush of mighty waters. The gas comes out with most tremendous force. The attempt was made to lower a set of tools in the well, the weight of which was twenty-five hundred pounds. The attempt was futile, for the gas forced them up and away from the hole. It is the intention to lay pipes and run the gas into Moseley.

ANOTHER OVER THE RIVER—On the 13th of August last, three expired, at the residence of his son, Mark, in Bradford township, Jacob Klyler, one of the oldest settlers, in the 85th year of his age. The deceased was born in Franklin county, and in 1799, with his father, moved to Belleville, and it is claimed, he built the fourth house erected in that borough. In 1803 the family removed to this county, near Philadelphia. The deceased was the father of five sons and four daughters, all of whom survive him, as well as twenty six grand children. His burial at Moseley is the largest number of people ever seen together in this vicinity. We are told that Mr. Klyler at one time was personally acquainted with several citizens in this county. He was a Democrat and neighbor who knew no guile, and for over fifty years led an active business and political life. As a politician he was very valiant and consistent, and squared his politics, as he did his business, by a true moral code.

WHAT WE DRINK—Some days ago a citizen of our borough sent several specimens of water, now used by the citizens of this place, to Philadelphia, for the well established firm of Booth & Lorentz, for analysis. Below is the report:

REPORT.—W. W. WALKER, Esq., Dear Sir—We have made a chemical examination of two waters which you forwarded to us by express, and which we analyzed on the 10th inst. The water marked "No. 1," from "Pump at Moseley House," contained 22 to 100 grains of solid matter per gallon. "No. 2," from "Henry Snyder's pump," yielded 12 to 100 grains solid matter.

We consider the two waters as very similar, and we consider both waters objectionable by reason of the large amount per gallon of solid matter. They are both objectionable for domestic use, in view of the contents, especially the presence of organic matter, some traces of which are present in both. We are not prepared to say that either is more objectionable than the other, but we think it best to prepare the mixture which we will drink it with, not greatly to the injury of his health.

Respectfully Yours, BOOTH & LORENTZ.

Let an individual take a glass of pure water and then add a proper proportion of fine 5th brand of RICE & CO'S. It will be found that, because he does not prepare the mixture himself, he drinks it with, not greatly to the injury of his health.

People expecting to be in town during Court week will do well to read Kerr & Co's advertisement and boat notice in this week's paper.

Kerr & Co. have received a large stock of Clothing.

R. H. Shaw has just returned from the east with the largest and best stock of Tobacco, Cigars, Meersmoke and other Pipes, Cigar Stumps, Cigar Tubes, and other articles ever brought to town, which he will sell wholesale and retail at prices that defy competition.

OUR ESCAPE.—A little before four o'clock, on Thursday afternoon of last week, the alarm of fire!

It was given by the workmen on Mr. Wallace's new building, on Front street. Like an electric shock, the alarm spread over the town, and soon all gathered in the vicinity of McCumber's livery stable, where the flames were bursting from the roof. No hooks, no ladders, and but few buckets were on hand. About this time it looked as though the whole square north of Market street and between Front and Second streets, including the Shaw House and Mansion House, might as well be surrendered to the fire. But after the corner of the people settled a little, they went to work, and by dint of efforts, stayed the fire from spreading southward to the stables of the Shaw House and the Mansion House and the adjacent buildings on Market St.

Sheep Pie's stable and wood house, just twelve feet from the burning livery stable, was used as a water-work. The fire burning the boards on the outside, and the citizens deluging the inside with water until water prevailed. As soon as the fire was stayed in this direction the mass moved to check it from spreading northward. But by this time Mr. Leavy's and Mr. Wallace's stables were enveloped in flames, and the heat became so intense that no one could approach within fifty feet. Then it was evident that the fire could not be checked until it reached Locust street. So the handsman for office and stable of T. J. McCumber's livery stable, Mr. Leavy's, Mr. Wallace's and McCullough's stables were established in Calhoun and the gymnasium were established in flames. The stables burned like tinder boxes, but Mr. McCullough's office, the walls of which were so compactly built, burned very slowly, and a large portion of it was torn down before it was consumed, and in this manner his large fire-proof safe was saved without sustaining any injury.

McCumber's livery stable, which was pushed over and rolled down Front street, and of which the flames, and McCullough's pump shop was demolished by the fire, so as to prevent the fire from spreading to Mr. Adams' feed store. Mr. Nangle's stable, on the west side of the alley, opposite Mr. Pie's, was also torn down, thus preventing the fire from attacking Mr. Row's and the Shaw House stables. The property consumed were Mr. McCumber's livery stable, Mr. Leavy's, Mr. Wallace's and McCullough's stables and the latter's law office and the gymnasium. The "barred district" looks very desolate. Ten thousand dollars will not replace the buildings and the material destroyed. Several families on the west side of Second street had all their furniture moved from their dwellings, having delivered them up to the fire. Had there been any wind at all, we have no doubt the whole square would have been burned up, and the salvation of at least half our town would be a miracle. The fire originated in the livery stable, and why that should occur in the middle of the afternoon, when no light was needed, we cannot define. None of the property destroyed was insured.

FIRE—WATER—Had our town been blessed with water, Thursday's fire would have destroyed no more property than Mr. McCumber's stable, and we have no doubt but that the fire would have been checked out before it got into the livery story of Row. Let the fire imagine a fire plug at each end of the alley, and in ten minutes from the time the alarm of fire was made, hose would have been attached to each, and two streams of water would have been flowing. Besides, two lines of hose would have been brought across the lots from Front and Second streets. By such an arrangement fire in an ordinary sized building would be drowned out in two or three minutes. The fire in our town is a miracle. The fire originated in the livery stable, and why that should occur in the middle of the afternoon, when no light was needed, we cannot define. None of the property destroyed was insured.

MOVING.—The citizens of Pike township in the vicinity where the new bridge across the river was raised early last spring by the local, have raised nearly $1,000 toward rebuilding the bridge, appointed their committee and are busily at work, as though they were in earnest. The amounts are to be raised five feet higher, and they have hauled all the timbers of the Curlewville bridge, 64 for use upon the ground, and expect to have the bridge ready to cross within two months. Mr. Harry Hooper has the contract for putting the structure upon the abutments. The rebuilding will cost between sixteen and eighteen hundred dollars.
