

GEORGE B. GOODLANDER, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR. CLEARFIELD, PA. WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV. 4, 1874.

Assessments. Elsewhere in this issue will be found a tabular statement of the personal property returned by the several assessors in Clearfield county for 1873.

The State tax bill made out against the county for the current year, by the Auditor General and State Treasurer, was in round numbers $2,141,000, which had to be raised by a 3 mill tax upon the personal property returned by the assessors; because there is an Act of Assembly which prohibits a State tax from being laid upon real estate or occupations.

LEGAL TRAGEDY.—The third trial of Edwin S. Stokes, for the murder of James Fisk, Jr., was concluded in New York, on Thursday last. He was found guilty of manslaughter in the third degree, and sentenced to the Penitentiary for four years.

More Good Times.—The suspension of the wealthy banking firm of Wm. M. Lloyd & Co., of Altoona, and the numerous banks with which he was connected, on Thursday last, caused a sensation in business circles.

That's So.—A New Washington "Modoc" has written us a teasing letter, in which among other things he remarks: "George, we played you a pretty stiff game on the 14th."

The Philadelphia Press of the 28th of October gives this interesting information: "It is estimated that over twenty thousand operatives have already been thrown out of employment."

ABOUT CLOSED.—The Constitutional Convention is about closing its labors, and has agreed to submit the new Constitution to the people on the 19th of December next.

THANKSGIVING.—Gov. Harriman has issued his annual Thanksgiving Proclamation, designating Thursday, the 27th day of November, as a day of general thanksgiving and praise.

Deception. To tell only half the truth, is as potent sometimes as a square falsehood. To demonstrate this we will quote from the midwife who presides over the columns of the Times.

Agacuity in business has declined.—The comments on the panic of a portion of the press have shown this clearly. Sharpness and boldness have become prime business qualities.

Under paper money the most profitable form of business is speculation in paper values of all kinds. Money is made by manipulating the stock of a corporation rather than out of its industrial operations.
