The Late Election.

The first Tuesday of November was a glorious "field day" for the Democrats. The old "Union Savers" on that day routed Radicalism in New York, Virginia and Wisconsin, and go...

The reader may ask, why is it that Ohio, New York, Maryland, Virginia and all the States of the North-west, are forsaking Radicalism and voting the Democratic ticket, and yet Pennsylvania still adheres to its Radical idols? There are several reasons for this.

Just look at Kansas, Illinois, Minnesota and Wisconsin, where there was scarcely any Democrats for ten years past. This fall nearly turned things upside down for the Radical hosts, notwithstanding that all the powers of Grant's Administration and that of the State was wielded against the Democrats.

A Worthy Example. Recent investigations, made by the Canadian Parliament, establish the fact that the United States is not the only territory where "Christian Statesmen" combine to rob and plunder the people of their lands, through Credit Mobilier and railroad schemes.

A CANDID CONFESSION.—The Philadelphia Press of the 6th in alluding to the defeat of its party and the triumph of the Democracy at the late election, blundered on the following short story:

Our National Degradation.

Although the laws of trade and commerce are as simple, fixed and unalterable as the laws of animal life, few seem to have studied the former, and none appear to practice them at this day.

The physician who would prevent, or oppose the circulation of pure air in the chamber of his patient, would be denounced as a quack, or a very poor doctor, if not charged with the premature death of his patient.

Now, what is to be thought of the economist who attempts to drive a heavy business without money? If the economist would be pronounced a humbug, what shall we say of those at the head of public affairs, who practice the same folly?

If it takes no more wisdom to regulate trade and commerce, than it does a sick room, why has this young, vigorous and prosperous nation of ours been rushed into the vortex of universal bankruptcy, to the degradation of every citizen in it? The individual must be very blind and stupid, if he does not comprehend and see that our government has fallen into the hands of a set of political gamblers and freebooters, and the injuries which they have entailed upon all classes, by the infamous policy that those at the head of the National and State governments have pursued the past ten years, in its results has been as detrimental to the prosperity of the country and the happiness of its people as it is possible to make them, short of an epidemic or a scourge.

The American Congress has for six years past been practicing a species of brigandage upon our people, never exceeded by their Spanish allies in their most prosperous days. In fact, it seems as though our public servants supposed that the government was instituted for their special or personal benefit, if the actions of the leaders of the majority party in the Cabinet and Congress is to be taken as an index. Those in authority not only rob the people of their lands and secrets their money, but they have morally debauched both Church and State.

The financial manuever at Washington must demonstrate to the world the fact that the men at the head of public affairs are unfit to manage anything, except a sump per cent. Credit Mobilier arrangement, or to double and grab their own salaries.

What a heritage for America or any other country! Whether the language quoted is that of the Director of the Mint, or the great Finance Minister of the Cabinet, or the Mighty Ulysses, himself, we do not know; but this grand concession to the people cannot fail to be regarded by all future generations as the crowning glory of Grant's Administration, as well as the death of Caesarism.

The Philadelphia Ring Bank.

The People's Bank of Philadelphia is commonly reputed to be the Ring bank. It is largely owned and managed by the notorious W. H. Keble, the author of the principles of addition, division, and subtraction applied to political finances.

It is incorporated Feb. 25, 1870, with a capital of only $100,000. It is merely a bank of deposit and discount, having no authority to issue notes. In its capital and the amount of business it controls, it is one of the smallest banks in the city.

Thus it appears that this insignificant Ring bank always has more of the State money in its charge than any other bank, and frequently has more than all the other banks of the city combined. In the month of April last it had nearly twice as much as all the others put together; while in the month of July, which is the latest month of the year, it has nearly as much as all the others put together.

It is a first-rate family paper, full of entertaining and instructive reading of every kind, and containing nothing that can offend the most sensitive and scrupulous taste. It is a first-rate agricultural paper, the most fresh and instructive articles on agricultural topics regularly appear in this department.

Some of the creditors of the banking firm of Wm. M. Lloyd & Co. held a meeting in Altoona, on the 8th, to agree upon a plan of concert of action. The following statement was submitted to the meeting:

After reading the statement Mr. Keble called attention to the exhibit showing the amount of the bonds and alluded to the fact that while the southern and western lands had been put in at $2.50 per acre, more or less, it was worth $10.00 or more per acre, and none less than $2.50 per acre.

Emigration from England is being turned southward. A flourishing colony has been established at Staunton, in the beautiful and fertile Valley of Virginia.
