Revenge of Doubtful Propriety.

On a recent Sunday, as the Rev Garman, of the United Brethern church in York, Pa., was conducting the ser- Has just opened, at the KEYSTONE STORE, vices at the Union church at Yocumtown, York county, the sexton banded him a note. After the sermon was completed, the minister announced that he had the pleasure of stating that a couple of the congregation desired to be united in the holy bonds of matrimony, and that the candidates should immediately present them-selves. There was a considerable flutter in the assemblage—every eye staring around to see the happy couple. After some delay a buoyant couple came marching up the aisle to the altar. The reverence gentleman im-mediately proceeded with the core-mony and the groom answered promptly, "Yes, I will," but to the dismay and astonishment of the dergyman and the audience, when it came to the bride's turn, she answered just as promptly, "No, I will not," and smil-ingly left the church all alone, leaving the half married man in a quandary as to what to do.

The young lady has since stated that she thus treated the man out of revenge for his conduct toward her. Years before they were engaged, the night arrived for the wedding, the lady and her friends were waiting, but the groom failed to appear. Time passed and she had another suitor. The deceitful one returned and for a long time endeavored to regain the affection of the lady. At last she com-menced to receive his attentions (as she says to have revenge for his former treatment). Months slid by and she agreed to be married to him in church; when she so cruelly became even with the false hearted one. Public opinion J. F. WEAVER. is with the young lady.

A CURIOUS PROPHECY .- "A Positivist," who, there is every reason to WEAVER & BETTS suppose, was Andrew Jackson Davis, of New York, in November of last year published in the Modern Thinker the following predictions which, to say the least, were curious:
1. 1 predict that within the coming Are offering, at the old stand of G. L. Reed & Co.,

This panie will be precipitated, in all probability, by the failure of the Northern Pacific Railroad, and perhaps of the bankers who manage it. This will bring to light such an amaz FLOUR, FEED, SALT, &c., &c. ing amount of fraud in connection with our railroads, as to discredit all stocks, good or bad. The bridge across the Ningara River from Buffalo to Fort Eric is finished, DRY GOODS, NOTIONS, placed in the position only a few days These spans or trusses are from 197 to 240 feet in length, are made of iron, and of the pattern known as the Pratt tress; these rest on eight piers and two abatments, all buit of masonry, the piers being incased in an armor of half-inch iron plate, to protect them from the ice, which forms in great quantities in the river, and with re-enforcements from the lake makes a very formidable destructive

The funds for the build ing of the bridge are furnished by a stock company of Canadian and American capitalists, and is leased to the Grand Trunk, Great Western, Air Line, the Canada Southern, and the New York, West Shore and Chicago Railroads. There is only one track on the bridge, as when the contract was made three of the roads now using it were not thought of in time to alter

FEMININE INDIGNATION .- The ladies of Nebraska City, while they do not hesitate to raise money for charitable purposes by gambling, unlike their FINE WINES, BRANDIES AND GIN, BRASS, COPPER, OLD METAL, RAGS Eastern sisters, do not hesitate to call what they do by its right name.— They have published the following eard: "The indignant ladies of the Home Relief politely request the Revs. Lemon, Green, Taylor, Kerr and Warren, to cease interfering with their af-fairs as a society. Two of the gen-tlemen aforesaid having already accepted silver gotten the same way as

In his ser-mon, on a recent Sabbath, as publish-ed in the New York Herald, this Rev. erend Humpty Dumpty says—"I be-lieve that if you would roll Old Hun-dred and the Doxology through Wall street it would put an end to the pan-that we wished to gamble off, it would to have kept still." lieve that if you would roll Old Hundred and the Doxology through Wall street it would put an end to the panic." Mr. Talmage may be right, but the bears of that region would notlet him get more than seventy-five out of Old Hundred. However, Talmage's theology is just as sound as Jay Cooke & Co. system of banking. Both dog.
