Maxims for Working Men. good advertisement for a working man is a seat in church.

The savings-bank is a safe debtor.
Fifty cents for a good lecture, is better than half that sum for a circus.

Dress neatly. A well-clothed man commands favor and respect, while one in slovenly attire can hardly borrow his neighbor's saw-horse.

If you wish to personally comprehend the completeness of the old adage—a fool and his mency are soon parted—buy a lettery ticket.

Never sacrifice money for what people will say. It is better to buy a fair piece of beef for fifteen cents a pound and leave the sirloin for some other man, who would buy your kind except for the name.

The man is always most honored man, who would buy your kind except for the name.

The man is always most honored who is most excellent in what he undertakes. It is better to saw wood well, than to plead law poorly.

Be honest: a stove cold is better than hot with stolen fuel.

The laboring man holds the same relation to the merchant, manufacturer, attorney, physician and minister, that the locomotive does to a train of elegant and well-filled cars: they would stand still forever if the engine did not move them.

There is many an honest, hard-working poor man, who rises himself and calls his family before sunrise three bundred and sixty-five days in a year. In nine cases out of ten, when his children arrive at his age, they will be called up by servants.

A MASKED BALL.—The Oakland News tells the following funny story: A dapper little fellow at Alverdo at-tended the late mask ball at Livermore, and chose the character of a monkey, in which to shine at the fes-tive entertainment. He doffed his habiliments at a hotel two blocks dishabiliments at a hotel two blocks distant from the ball room, and donned the disguise, intending to walk in costume to the hall. It was about ten o'clock when he set forth, snugly clad in his tight fitting suit, and playfully swinging the caudal appendage, but he had not proceeded far when two huge dogs espied him, and taking him for a huge monster of some kind, started for him. The barkeeper concluded that the better part of valor would be to climb the bigh board fence at Stevens's Mills. He did so with marvelous agility, and the statement marvelous agility, and the statement comes from reliable authority that he was compelled to sit on the sharp edge of that fence, shivering in the cold night air, for two hours, before he was released from his predicament by people passing within hailing distance.

A LITTLE FAST,-The Huntingdon Journal takes exceptions to a portion of Judge Dean's remarks when pass ing sentence upon Prof. Guss at the recent term of court, and it has abundant reason for so doing. It is certainly not the Judge's province, or at least very unbecoming in one occupying his position to threaten what he will do A Proclamation against High Prices! position to threaten what he will do if certain parties are brought before him. It is quite enough for a Judge to pass upon that which is before him, and not attempt to pass sentence upon others before conviction.—Tyrone Democrat. That's so.

Doe Eating Doe.—The Pittsburgh Post says: "The Commercial wants to know our opinion about the Arkansas imbroglio. It wont take us long to give it. The matter as it stands is simply a case of dog eat dog. A quarrel between the Radicals, carpet-baggers and scalawags, as to who shall have the right to draw salaries and plunder the public. Neither party represents the honest people of the State.

Russia is engaged in the pastime of shooting down the peasants in Poland because they refuse to worship in the Greek Church. One of the most ridiculous things in this age of intelligence, is the attempt to force people to go to Heaven in a particular way. 'Hardheaded' religion nover did do any good and never will. It is the breeding house of infidelity.

The most hearty and prolonged applause at the last army reunion, at Harrisburg, was in response to the expression in the speech of Gen. Wilcox, proposing to invite Longstreet's corps to most them at the next reunion, and thus have the north and south unite under one flag.

ROUGH ON SAMBO.-The Norfolk branch of the Freedman's Saving Bank owes its depositors $128,000 and has $7,000 to pay it with. It has been managed by "Christian statesmen," and the friends of Civil Rights. But where is the money?

Is HER EYE.—A gentieman who rather suspected some one was peeping through the key hole of his office door, investigated with a syringe full of pepper-sauce, and went home to find his wife had been cutting wood and a chip had hit her in the eye!

TICKET AND PLATFORM.—The St. Louis Republican submits the following: "Inflation ticket for 1876: For President, Oliver P. Morton of Indiana; for Vice-President, John A Logan of Illinois. Platform—To get out of debt go in deener."

RECOLLECT THIS.—An exchange says; No corpse is admitted on the Pennsylvania railroad, unless those in charge of it have, besides a ticket, a physician's certificate, reciting what disease the person died of, and that it was not contagious.

At last there is something like a practical motion in Congress to imposch Judge Storey, of Arkansas. It seems strange indeed that such men as Storey and Durrell are permitted to disgrace the Federal beach, with no attempt to bring them to trial

The inflationists in Washington say that on Monday Gen. Grant had drawn up a message to Congress giving his reasons for approving their bill, and then on Tacsday he drew up and sent in another message with his veto. Ahal
