

GEORGE B. GOODLAND, Editor.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JAN. 28, 1875.

A. T. Stewart, the great New York merchant, has subscribed $10,000 to the Centennial. We should say that is coming down handsomely. Who has imitated his example in amount?

CONSCIENCE-KEEPER.—Conscience-keepers are the last things that seem to trouble the editors of the Lancaster Intelligencer. Colfax, Henry Wilson, and that class of "Christian statesmen," were always haunted by the same ghost; but when 400 cent Credit Mobilier stock was offered them, conscience went stone dead. Such is conscience.

NOT READY.—We have not been authorized to say so, but we understand that Theodore Tilton, Frank Moulton and several prominent New York lawyers have so annoyed Henry Ward Beecher, during the past year, that he has been unable to bring out his second volume of "The Life of Christ," but he can get rid of this pestiferous trio, he will complete it by the time the dog days come around.

SAD INDEED.—We are in receipt of a number of circulars issued by relief associations in Kansas, Nebraska and Minnesota, calling upon the public for contributions to relieve the drought and grasshopper ravages during the past summer. The details are awful. Those who can, should give liberally. But see that it goes into the proper hands. Scores of irresponsible agents are abroad collecting funds which will never reach the sufferers.

CONSCIENTIOUS BUSINESS.—The conscience vendors who preside over the Lancaster Intelligencer have now opened an office dedicated exclusively to that business. Sub-offices will be opened in Pike, Sullivan, Columbia and Westmoreland counties, where the afflicted can apply for remedies. No charge for consultation. "Grave constitutional questions" will be manufactured to order at all these offices. Headquarters, however, will be at Lancaster. Senators Clark and Rowland and Representatives Bedford and McHenry, will however be consulted, where a square question of conscience arises.

MODERN MORALITY.—A sale of pews took place in Henry Ward Beecher's Church last week, the proceeds amounting to seventy-two thousand dollars. This is $12,000 more than was ever realized before. We presume if some body would get up another charge of adultery against Henry Ward Beecher, the proceeds would run up to at least $100,000.—Financially, Beecher's church seems to be a success, but the "moral edge" of morality which seems to surround that religious club house must eventually bring it into disrepute with all who prefer the old moral code, without the Beecher improvements.

THE SUBSIDY BUSINESS.—If the lobby agents at Washington are an index to the members of the present Congress, things must be in a pretty plight, indeed, at Washington. It comes out, little by little, what was done with the three-quarters of a million dollars bribe money to get a subsidy bill through Congress. Albert, one of the witnesses, told the investigating committee on Monday that J. W. Forney received $25,000, A. W. Randall, $5,000, J. G. Barrett, $7,000, E. G. Pugh, $9,000, D. Platt, $5,000, and W. B. Shaw, $25,000, and other patriotic and shrewd citizens of lower note got their little dividends.

THE OFFICIAL COUNT.—The Senate and House met in joint convention on Wednesday, the 13th, for the purpose of counting the returns of the late election for State officers. The following is the report of the tellers:

FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR.
John Latta had 277,195 votes.
A. C. Overstreet had 276,616 votes.
FOR AUDITOR GENERAL.
John Latta had 277,195 votes.
A. C. Overstreet had 276,616 votes.
FOR SECRETARY OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS.
Wm. McCandless had 276,325 votes.
R. B. Heath had 277,310 votes.

CLERICAL CORRUPTION.—A New York clergyman, named Tallage, saying that Beecher's star is about setting, is moving strongly to the front, to his place. He is an imitator of the latter, (in the pulpit we mean), and through hired reporters and subsidized newspapers is spreading his name and name throughout the United States. He pays for newspaper puffs, just like small politicians, and contributes liberally towards having his sermons reported and published in the secular press. Although twenty-five years the junior of Beecher, he is that many years ahead of him in buffoonery and clerical jugglery, with less than half the native talent that Beecher possesses. He is a very fast preacher, and a cheap Radical newspaper called the New York Witness, is the channel, or gutter through which this excoommunicated and flat and unprofitable theology flows to the public.

We advise Democrats to kick this Radical Witness, containing those God-seekers, out of doors. There is enough hypocrisy practiced by the laity and gratuitously spread before the public. It is therefore unnecessary to purchase that ignominious compound manufactured by Beecher-Tallage theologians and Radical politicians, which is only another serpent in our Democratic Eden. Tallage is to the Radical party just what theory is to the circus, and his theology is about as beneficial, in a moral point of view, as the jokes of his coadjutor, while the Witness takes the place of the "diagrammer" and does the cutting and shading.

MR. WALLACE FOR SENATOR.

The nomination of Hon. William A. Wallace, of this borough, for United States Senator, by the Democratic caucus on Thursday last, was not unexpected by us; but it is a high tribute paid to the Democracy of the western part of the State, and particularly gratifying to his friends and neighbors in this county.

The unanimity with which he was nominated is unparalleled in the history of politics in this State. The vote stood:
William A. Wallace.....10
James S. Black.....10
Before the result was declared, five of those who had voted for Judge Black changed and cast their ballots for Mr. Wallace, making his vote 10.

Leaving the combined opposition—Black, Bucklew and Clymer—only 17 votes out of 123. This is a glorious victory.

Today the members of the Senate and House met in joint convention and cast their ballots for United States Senator for six years from the 4th of March next. Of course Mr. Wallace will be elected. His overwhelming nomination settles that question.
