St. Valentine's day, Feb. 14th, falls on Sunday this year. Bad for the young folks.

"That sleighing party" came off, and if we may believe the participants, was the most recherche affair of the kind that has occurred in this neighborhood for a long time.

The Bulletin man says a Williamsport young lady, whose lover had been bounced by her father, was heard the other night singing, "My father's at the helm."

NOT IN OUR COPY.—The proceedings of the Lumbermen's meeting at Philipsburg, on Monday a week, did not "drift into another column" of the Journal, so far as we could see.

An exciting fox chase came off on the grounds of the Clearfield Park Association last Saturday afternoon. W. D. Bigler's "purp" captured Reynard and now wears the laurels of the victory.

The United Brethren Conference, which held its thirty-sixth annual session at Johnstown, Pa., on the 20th ult., re-appointed Rev. J. A. Clem to take charge of the Clearfield circuit the ensuing year.

A SPREAD.—The Brookville Jeffersonian came to hand last week dressed in a full new suit and enlarged about one-third on the former size. This is a bold move these break-neck times, and shows pluck of the right kind.

RELIGIOUS.—There will be preaching in the Lutheran Church, in this borough, on Sunday, February 7th, morning and evening, by Rev. J. S. Heilig. The public has a cordial invitation to be present. 2t.

Bank depositors would do well to put stamps on all their checks and cancel them by their initials and the dates of their checks. Uncle Sam has his detectives out hunting up the banks and brokers for delinquents in these matters.

GROUND HOG DAY.—Yesterday was Ground Hog Day, and, according to the old superstition, the progonstications were favorable for six weeks more of severe winter weather. Old Sol came out at intervals bright enough for the beast to see his shadow, unless he was blind.

Services will be held in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, in this place, on Saturday, Feb. 6th, at 7 o'clock, P. M., and on Sunday, February 7th, at 11 o'clock, A. M., and 7 o'clock, P. M. Right Rev. J. B. Kerfoot, Bishop of the Diocese of Pittsburgh, will be present.

The remains of George Adams, who was killed on the railroad near Houtzdale, an account of which we published last week, were brought to this place, and interred in the cemetery here on Thursday last, to which place they were accompanied by a large number of relatives and friends.

The members of the Literary Society connected with the Graded School in this place, in commemoration of the kindness of Hon. James T. Leonard towards them, have named the society and the room in which they meet, respectively, "Leonard Literary Society," and "Leonard Hall."

STILL PROGRESSING.—The revival at the Methodist church in this place is still in progress, although, we are sorry to learn, with not as great success as the efforts put forth by the pastor, Rev. A. D. Yocum, and the members would seem to deserve. The meeting will continue every night during this week, and probably longer.

From the Osceola Reveille, of last week, we learn that the pastor of the Presbyterian church of that place expects, with the aid of clerical assistance from abroad, to open a series of interesting religious meetings next week, or at farthest, during the week following. The announcement is inexplicit, from the fact that the arrangements were not definitely concluded.

George W. Childs, publisher of the Philadelphia Ledger, will accept our thanks for a copy of the Ledger Almanac for 1875. It is presented to every subscriber of that paper free of cost, 116,000 copies having been printed for that purpose. It is a book full of valuable and useful information, and gotten up in a neat style.

ATTENTION.—Members of the Pennsylvania Reserves who served in the late war, are requested to mail a postal card, with name, regiment, and postoffice address, to Major Chill W. Hazzard, Corresponding Secretary of the Pennsylvania Reserve Association, Monongahela City, Pa., in order that circulars and reports may be regularly mailed to them.

LENT.—The season of Lent begins this year February 10th, much earlier than in any other year since 1868. The high festival of Easter will, therefore, occur on the 28th of March, within six days of the earliest period upon which it can come. Easter has fallen as late as the 29th of April. In some years as many as nine Sundays intervene between Epiphany, or the manifestation of Christ, and Ash Wednesday. In 1875 only five Sundays intervene between the jubilee of Epiphany and the solemn feast of Lent.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE AT NEW WASHINGTON.—A programme has been issued for a Teachers' Local Institute to be held in Odd Fellows' Hall, at New Washington, commencing on Friday morning, February 19th, and closing on Saturday evening, February 20th. All the teachers of Bell, Burnside, Chest and Pike townships, and Burnside, New Washington, Lumber City and Curwensville boroughs, are cordially invited to attend and take part in the exercises, which will consist of class drills, lectures, essays, readings and discussions. The exercises will be interspersed with vocal and instrumental music. As this will be the first Local Institute ever held in the county, it is earnestly hoped and expected that all interested will do their utmost to make it a success.

Able and instructive lectures will be delivered in the M. E. Church on Friday and Saturday evenings, when a fee of 15 cents will be charged for single admission, or 25 cents for both evenings. Tickets can be obtained in New Washington at the store of J. R. McMurray, or at the office of Dr. A. D. Bennett.

THE K. & K. RAILROAD.—The Lock Haven Enterprise, of the 22d ult., in alluding to the building of the proposed Keating & Karthaus Railroad, says:

"Since the attention of the public has been directed to the proposed route as a most desirable and feasible one for a road, assurances have been received from various sources sufficient to make the building of it a foregone conclusion. A considerable portion of the coal land lying in the region through which the road is to pass, is owned by persons living in distant parts of the country. Several of these parties have already come forward and subscribed liberally. Citizens of Lock Haven who are interested in lands in Keating township have also pledged themselves to do their part, and a number of the citizens of Keating township, this county, and Karthaus township, Clearfield county, have expressed a willingness to aid to the extent of their ability in the construction of the road; and now it remains for others interested in the success of the undertaking to do their part.

"It is a well known fact that lands lying remote from railroads, or other important lines of travel, are almost valueless, as compared with land of the same quality and character lying in proximity to great thoroughfares. This rule especially holds good in regard to mineral lands. There have been instances where certain tracts of land known to contain vast deposits of coal or other minerals, could have been bought for less than one dollar per acre, but owing to their inaccessibility were considered dear at any price. The same lands, however, after having been thrown into market by the construction of a railroad near them, was eagerly sought for at several hundred dollars per acre. This is a conclusive argument in favor of every land-owner doing his utmost to secure the construction of a railroad near his property, providing he wishes to have it advance in value.

"We know of no region in the State that would be more benefitted by the construction of a railroad through it than that through which the K. & K. Railroad is to pass. Therefore, it behooves all the citizens of Keating and Karthaus townships who own land to act at once with a view to the early completion of this much needed road."

A meeting of the friends of this road was to have been held at Lock Haven on Thursday last, but up to Monday we are without the proceedings.
