

GEORGE B. GOODLANDER, Editor.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 13, 1875.

Reader, if you want to know what is going on in the business world, just read our advertising columns, the Special column is particular.

Cardinal McCloskey is 65 years old.

Marshall, Texas, had a hundred thousand dollar fire on the 8th.

The Elk county Radicals want 'Leon' Wilcox nominated for State Treasurer.

Battle Creek, Michigan, has 500 ad- vertisers, none of which had gone up at last account, although ready.

President Grant has been invited to attend the centennial celebration of Westernland county, Pennsylvania, on the 15th instant.

The Democrats of Kentucky have nominated ex-United States Senator James B. McCreery for Governor. An excellent nomination.

NAVY RULES.—Elsewhere will be found at length the regulations, adopted by the Navy Department, in the appointment of Cadet Engineers. The outfit is very minutely set forth and footed.

ANOTHER EXILE IN PLACE.—Daniel D. Pratt, who was turned out of the United States Senate on the 4th of March last by the people of Indiana, has been appointed Commissioner of Internal Revenue. Those whom the people discard Grant embraces.

THE HAPPY FAMILY.—Grant has appointed his brother Orville Superintendent of all the Indian Agencies. If Orville is not worth a million of dollars by the 4th of July, 1876, it will be because "the government can't come to time on the Indian question."

RETIRED.—Mr. F. O. Whitman, who has edited and published the Lewing Journal for forty years past, has retired and is succeeded by H. H. Mercer and J. D. Rishel, who promise to still further improve the Democratic organ of Union county. Success, gentlemen.

GET YOU GO.—J. W. Douglas, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, was on Tuesday notified by Secretary Delano that his services in that department were no longer needed. J. G. Hester, special agent under the Department of Justice, who figured so prominently in the political arrests in Alabama last fall, has also been dismissed the service.

A DOUBLE EDGER.—Murray, the Chairman of the Radical County Committee, is one of the sharpest men living. He is up to all manner of strategy and deep laid schemes, and they are not covered by a thin veil, either. To illustrate: Tuesday, May 4th, was the day fixed for the School Convention. Murray was a director. He thought that would be a good time to get up a crowd of the faithful; so he called a meeting of the Radical County Committee on that day for the purpose of selecting a delegate to their State Convention. Before the School Convention was through with its business, Murray jumped up and moved for an adjournment, so as to have "a full house." The presiding officer of the Convention did not entertain his motion, but Murray insisted, and finally secured an adjournment. Scarcely had the adjournment been announced by the Chairman, until Murray called the assemblage to order for the purpose of electing the delegate in question. The meeting looked rather formidable at first, but in five minutes after, the directors had nearly all withdrawn, and when we left the court room, only 14 Credit Mobilier saints (two more than there were Apostles) remained in the room, and they were not of the kind who dwell in harmony and peace. Murray's diplomacy is like Ben Badger's integrity and valor, a little thin for a graduate from the school of "grand moral ideas."

QUEER.—The Philadelphia Press says: The Palace of Hades are strong in the Oregon Legislature, having the sixteen of the thirty representatives of the State belonging to the order.

And yet, that same journal informs us that Attorney-General Williams resigned his seat in the Cabinet for the purpose of being elected to the United States Senate by the Oregon Legislature. The idea of a granger rising for the man who took $1,600 out of the United States treasury and purchased a fancy carriage and horse with it, for his wife to sail up and down Pennsylvania avenue, to the disgust of everybody. Besides, he has illegitimately spent millions of the people's money in a "Bureau of Justice," (C) and for committing similar crimes was recommended by the Board of Examiners. The academic year begins on the 20th September.

VIII. When candidates shall have passed the required examinations, and been admitted as members of the Academy, they must immediately furnish themselves with the following articles:

CADET-ENGINEERS.

REGULATIONS FOR THEIR APPOINTMENT IN THE UNITED STATES NAVY.

I. In pursuance of law, applications will be received by the Navy Department for the appointment of Cadet-Engineers.

The applications shall be addressed to the Secretary of the Navy, and may be made by the candidate, or by any person for him, and his name will be placed on the register. The registry of a name on the register, gives no assurance of an appointment, nor preference will be given in the selection to priority of application.

III. The number of appointments which may be made is limited by law to twenty-five each year. The candidate must not be less than sixteen nor more than twenty years of age; he will be required to certify on honor to his precise age, to the Academic Board, previous to his examination, and no one will be examined who is over or under the prescribed age. His application must be accompanied by satisfactory evidence of moral character and health, with the regular reports of birth and educational advantages heretofore enjoyed. Candidates who receive permission will present themselves to the Superintendent of the Naval Academy on the 1st of September, for examination as to their qualifications for admission.

IV. The course of study will comprise four academic years, also two additional years at sea. All cadets who finally graduate will be commissioned Assistant Engineers in the Navy as vacancies occur. The pay of a Cadet-Engineer is the same as that of a Cadet-Midshipman.

V. The academic examination previous to appointment will be competitive, and will be on the following subjects, namely: Arithmetic; the candidate will be examined in grammar, and the addition, subtraction, multiplication and division of whole numbers, and of vulgar and decimal fractions; in reduction, in proportion, or rule of three, direct and inverse; extraction of square and cube roots. In Algebra, through equations of the first degree. Plane Geometry. Rudimentary Natural Philosophy. Reading: he must read English fluently and intelligibly from any English narrative, for example, Hawthorne's "Mosses from an Old Manse," or "The Story of the United States." In Writing and Spelling, he must write from dictation, in a legible hand, and spell with correctness, both orally and in writing. Geography. In English grammar and English Composition he will be examined as to the parts of speech, the rules connected therewith, and the elementary construction of sentences, and will be required to write such compositions as will show that he has a proper knowledge of the subject. The candidate will also be required to exhibit a fair degree of proficiency in pencil-sketching, and to possess satisfactory evidence of mechanical aptitude. Candidates who possess the greatest skill and experience in the practical knowledge of machinery, other qualifications being equal, will have preference for admission.

VI. Any of the following conditions will be sufficient to reject a candidate: Feeble constitution, permanently impaired general health, decided eccentricity, all chronic diseases, or injury of any kind, which would permanently impair efficiency; viz: 1. Infectious disorders. 2. Weak or disordered intellect. 3. Unnatural curvature of spine, or of either eye, or other convulsion, within five years. 4. Chronic impaired vision, or chronic disease of the organs of vision. 5. Great permanent hardness of hearing, or chronic disease of the ears. 6. Loss of decay of teeth to such an extent as to interfere with digestion and impair health. 7. Impediment of speech to such an extent as to impair efficiency in the performance of duty. 8. Decided indications of liability to pulmonary disease. 9. Permanent inefficiency of either eye, or of both eyes. 10. Hernia. 11. Incurable sarcocele, hydrocele, fistula, stricture, or hemorrhoids. 12. Large varicose veins of lower limbs. 13. Large varicose veins of lower limbs. 14. Attention will also be paid to the stature of the candidate, and no one manifestly undersized for his age will be received into the Academy. In case of doubt about his physical condition, the candidate may be required to undergo a medical examination by the Board of Examiners, and he will be required to sign articles by which he will bind himself to serve in the United States Navy six years (including his term of probation at the Naval Academy), unless sooner discharged. On the contrary, he shall not pass both of these examinations, he will receive neither an appointment nor his traveling expenses, nor can he have the privilege of another examination for admission to the same class unless recommended by the Board of Examiners. The academic year begins on the 20th September.
