Our Special column is decidedly interesting in a local point of view, and profitable reading to outsiders who want to save money.

The hydrophobia days have come, the maddest of the year.

The trout fishing season does not expire until the 15th of August.

The fields of wheat are attractive in their golden hue, and many of them are ripe and ready for the reaper.

A. A. Jackson has superseded Mr. Wm. M. Philips, who resigned on the 1st inst., as Assistant Superintendent of the Low Grade Railroad, with headquarters at Brookville.

Rev. Thomas Barnhart, lately of Philipsburg, who quit preaching a year ago, moved west and went into the farming business, has had all of his crops confiscated by the Iowa grasshoppers. Bad luck.

Rev. B. F. Mundy, of Port Chester, New York, will preach in the Presbyterian Church, in this place, for four Sabbaths in succession, commencing next Sabbath, July 18th. Mr. Butler, the pastor, is absent from home.

Important.—Mr. J. K. Bottorf desires us to say that although he is making better photographs now than he has done at any previous time, he has this week reduced the price, so that he now makes them cheaper than they have ever been made in Clearfield. 2t

Look for It.—The card of Messrs. Hansell & Bro., Druggists, 2060 Market street, Philadelphia, will be found in this issue. Those who desire to keep a reliable remedy for all summer disorders had better read it, and "keep it handy," because you know not, the day nor the hour when you may need it.

Removed.—The Reynoldsville Herald, in alluding to the removal of Dr. Alexander from Curwensville, says: "Dr. W. B. Alexander, late of Clearfield county, is now a resident of our town, and Governor Hartranft has appointed him Notary Public. He is now prepared to do everything in his line of business."

The Brookvillians are agitating water works. They have a $40,000 and $45,000 site. The interest on this sum would be $2,780 per annum. The annual revenue is set down at $7,400 for every one hundred consumers, and they expect to have four hundred consumers in a year or two. That will certainly pay—on paper, anyhow.

In Position.—We notice that A. A. Carlile, a former "devil" in this office, is writing up the local "diggins" of the Fair Play (Colorado) Sentinel. Al informs his readers that the chief of the establishment is President of the Young Men's Christian Association; but he fails to state that the local is in any way connected with the Association.

Oil Fire.—Ten oil tanks were consumed on the 2d inst., on the Low Grade railroad, just east of the tunnel, at Winterburn station. The cars became uncoupled, and when the train stopped at the station the uncoupled cars ran into it, and the result was a first-class smash up and fire. Each tank contains about 80 barrels of oil. Who would have supposed, three years ago, that Huston township would consume 800 barrels of oil at one "fire." How times do change!

Killed Accidentally.—Benjamin Butler, of Lawrence township, engaged at chopping for Messrs. Putnam & Co., in Huston township, this county, was fatally injured by a falling tree on Wednesday morning of last week. He cut down a tree which in falling struck a dead one, the tops of which struck him on the head and injured him so badly that he died the same evening. He was married but a short time since, and leaves a young widow to mourn his sudden and terrible fate.

Postoffice Changes.—Joseph R. Arnold has been appointed Postmaster at Beckton, in Union township, vice Daniel E. Brubaker. The death of Thomas W. Fleming, of Curwensville, makes a vacancy in the office at that place. Who will be appointed in his stead is not so well settled at this time.

P. S.—Since the above was in type, the controversy has been settled by the Postmaster General commissioning Ed. Goodwin, who will make an excellent P. M., barring his politics. Not having interviewed him, we cannot say whether he favors a third term or not.

The Ninety-ninth Fourth.—Had there been a real Fourth of July, in this place, we might chronicle the fact. Although happening on Sunday, it was the most universally celebrated of any Fourth within the past fifteen years. In this borough it was celebrated on the individual plan. Many left the town for Philipsburg, Osceola, Tyrone, and other places south along the railroad, while a few enthusiastic and patriotic fellow-citizens commenced on Saturday morning and held over until Monday evening. There latter, we presume, will be ready for the Centennial any time after the 1st of April next.

Hold on, Young Man!—A Kylertown correspondent has had his "indignation highly raised by the ignorance of some people here," and he proposes to ventilate the characters of the "poor, ignorant dunces, who think themselves wise," through the columns of the Republican. Your proposed ventilation would be a first-class libel in our columns, but it would only be ordinary amusement to repeat the same language in a school-room or on the street. We seek local information, and are always thankful for all sent us; but we must be allowed to be the judge as to what should be printed, because the penalty is always visited upon us and not upon the writer.

Nearly a Fire.—Some godless creature attempted to burn the M. E. church building in West Clearfield, one day week before last. The emission of smoke led to the discovery that the building was on fire, but where the fire was doing effective work was not so evident. The building was considerably damaged before the fire was extinguished. The fiend, it appears, gained admittance to the church, and by a trap door let himself down to the ground beneath the floor, and there deliberately kindled two fires, of pieces of boards and shavings. The one fire did not prematurely, and the escaping smoke led to the extinguishment of the other. A hatchet was found which had evidently been used by the incendiary to split up the pieces of boards.

Good Prospects.—It was our luck to get a little airing, on the 1st and 2d of July, by a trip to the new borough of Burnside, thirty-one miles up the river from this place. We passed through Pike, Curwensville, Penn, Lumber City, Greenwood, Bell, New Washington and the lower end of Burnside township. Everything looks thriving and prosperous, except the lumber business. We have often passed up the river "after rafting," but never saw things so ragged. A large number of rafts and logs are "hung up" everywhere, besides a large amount of timber not yet rafted in. It would be better for the owners if none of it was in the river. They will be compelled to "draw it" or run it east this fall, should there be a flood, and sell it for less than the stumpage is worth, spending their time and money besides.

The depression of the lumber trade is a success. It can get no worse. Neither floods nor money. However, our people need not depend wholly on this trade. The prosperity in the coal business will assist a large portion of our citizens to raise enough to pay their taxes and to use for other incidentals. Besides, our agricultural interests were never so rigidly cared for as they are this season, although a late one. The quantity of fall grain and corn, oats, potatoes and garden truck is greater than ever before, and the preparations in fallows and making clearings is conclusive evidence that a large crop of wheat and rye will be sown this fall. We have frequently passed over the route named, in the past twenty years, but we never saw the farming interests so prosperous. The numerous fields of wheat and rye we passed were excellent, and the corn and oats crops indicate a magnificent yield. We never looked upon better oats prospects at this season of the year, and from the way the farmers and gardeners are making war upon the potato bugs, that crop will pay handsomely, although the boys, who must make two daily raids on them, may think they will be dear, if the enemy does not surrender before the close of the dog days.

It is seven years since we passed over the country above Lumber City, and we were very much gratified to notice the substantial prosperity on every hand; the most marked was the pulling of thousands of stumps by the farmers and the removal of elders, briars, etc., from the fences. The erection of new and excellent dwellings since the time indicated we also noticed on every hand. Quite a village has sprung up at the mouth of Bell's run, and Lawsville, at Thorp's run, is also assuming borough proportions. So is Franklin, at the mouth of Chest creek, where dwells our esteemed friend, Robert Mehaffey, and two of his sons, who have made rad havoc among the stumps of that locality. Ostend, Chest, Cush and New Washington are just about "as they used to was," while the original store, grist mill and saw mill, entitled Burnside, has grown into a borough, and they talk about Burgess, Council, etc., just like we do here in "Old Town." This young borough contains excellent buildings and will, in a few years more, make a populous and prosperous community.

Samuel H. Shaffner, Esq.—It will pain many of our readers to learn of the rather sudden and unexpected demise of this prominent citizen, which occurred in Lawrence township, a few miles north of this borough, on Friday last, in the 63d year of his age.

Mr. Shaffner was an active local Democratic politician, well and favorably known to a large number of the people of this county, with whom he associated more or less in a majority of our political contests within the past twenty years. He was elected County Commissioner and served in that office from November, 1868, to November, 1871, and we believe once, if not twice, served as Mercantile Appraiser. He was an honest, industrious citizen, and raised a large family, nearly all of whom reside in this vicinity. He was a widower, his wife having died a few years ago. A large funeral cortege followed his remains to their last resting place at Mount Joy on Sabbath morning.

Poisoned.—Too much care cannot be exercised in the picking of potato bugs, to prevent them from coming in contact with any part of the body where the skin is broken or scratched, and the hands should not be used about the body in any way until after a thorough washing. John Harwick, a citizen of this place, has had some experience in this line, a relation of which may prove of benefit to others. While at work in his potato-patch a week or two since, with his shirt-sleeves up, slaying the bugs by the hundreds, a small abrasion of the skin on one of his arms took a notion to itch, and he carelessly scratched it with his nails, thereby introducing the poison into his blood and he has been suffering since in a terrible manner. His arms first, and finally his whole body became covered with poisonous eruptions, the irritation from which has deprived him of sleep for a number of nights. We are happy to state that he is improving.

Judge Woodward.—The remains of ex-Chief Justice Woodward, who died recently at Rome, reached Wilkesbarre on Thursday night, having been brought to New York direct from Leghorn. A committee of the bar of Luzerne county received the remains at New York and escorted them to Wilkesbarre, where the funeral was held on Saturday last.

He acted as President Judge of our Court for many years previous to 1852, when the younger Burnside was elevated to his place, and Woodward promoted to the Supreme Bench, which he adorned as brilliantly as any of his predecessors.

Back Again.—Daniel M. Doherty, who is well known to most of our citizens, has returned to Clearfield, and having purchased his old stand from Mr. James Cleary, as well as the shop in the Old Western Hotel corner, occupied by Thomas J. Cleary, will again be pleased to see all his old customers and many new ones. For the present, he will occupy the room next to the First National Bank, the other shop undergoing a thorough renovating and changing, and move to it on the 22d of this month. See his card in this issue.

Accidents.—The Brookville Jeffersonian, of the 7th inst., says:

Max Shrodes, a conductor of an oil train on the Low Grade Division, was killed a few days since in the following manner: He was standing on the engine looking back watching some loose cars that were heating, when the engine ran into bridge No. 3, a short distance west of Reynoldsville. His head struck the timbers of the bridge, knocking him off the car, when he fell into the stream below. Death was instantous.

James Osborn, son of Robert Osborn, of this place, was killed on Wednesday last, while passing up the railroad on an oil train. It appears that on that morning he had applied for and received permission to take passage on the train to which there was a caboose attached. Passengers when permitted on these trains are required to keep within this car; but young Osborn had got out upon an oil car, and passing a point called "dance-hook," several of the cars jumped the track, upon one of which he was riding. On removing him from the wreck it was discovered that he was fatally injured. He was taken to Reynoldsville and his family notified; but before the arrival of any of his friends, death had put an end to his sufferings. His remains were brought home the same evening.

The Philipsburg Journal says: "White & Son, proprietors of the Osceola tannery, destroyed by the great fire, have leased the Philipsburg tannery of Munson, Holt & Co., for a term of five years and taken possession. They were both original members of the firm which built the tannery, and were for some time residents of the place, so we welcome them back as old citizens."

"Two frame buildings, a dwelling, wagon shop and blacksmith shop, were burned at Woodland, on Friday night. As is usual with wooden structures, they burned very rapidly, but most of the contents were saved. The fire was kept from spreading by the efforts of the citizens."

"The latest information from the Pennsylvania and Western projected railroad is that the Company is in a fair way to negotiate its bonds, and there is a prospect that the road will be built, although it is a difficult matter to build a line of road in these times of depression."

We have been listening for that whistle for some time.—Ed. Rep.

A Mishap.—A Frenchville correspondent says: "A couple of your Clearfield highflyers—lady and gentleman—came down here to spend the Fourth, but were considerably put out the next morning on noticing that their buggy had but three wheels. The absent wheel, after a whole day's hunt, was found on an oak tree. These 'French boys' are full of fun down here about the Fourth, but they never hit their mark on the nose when they start for home, and always sit on the right side." Independence.

Osceola Relief.—At a meeting of the Osceola Relief Committee, held July 2d, 1875, it was

Resolved, That the Secretary, through the newspapers, request all who have money in their hands, collected for the Relief Fund, to remit the same at once, so that a general distribution of said fund can be made at as early a day as possible.
Geo. M. Reeder, Secretary.

Rev. Mr. Gray, President of Dickinson Seminary at Williamsport, preached in the M. E. Church, in this place, last Sabbath.

LETTER FROM CHEST.

Mr. Editor:—It is months since there has been a communication from Chest appeared in your columns. There should be at least one person in each township and borough in the county to weekly chronicle the transpiring events, which would make your local columns interesting. The drought has greatly retarded vegetation; wheat on high, gravelly land is considerably injured by this cause, but there is more than an average crop in the township. Oats short, late sowing may improve by the late rains; grass short; corn getting over the freeze, with a favorable season may make an average crop; potatoes, early planting, look well. The bug has advanced with increased force, but is not in every patch by sunries and destroyed by picking, which I believe to be the only sure remedy. The potatoes are gone over daily by most people—some as often as four times a day. So far as I know, the average planted is fully up to former years; with a favorable season, we may expect a full yield. The bug deposits its eggs or larva on the grass, on leaves and in so many different places, that they hatch out and get their growth before they are seen. In this latitude they feast on thistles, butterweed, onions, tomatoes, and many other vegetables beside the potato. Their depredations are becoming general, and their unaccountable increase will tax our exertions to their greatest capacity to keep even with them. So far they have not made much headway.

Our School Directors have decided on a six months' term, with a slight reduction on teachers' wages from last year. This does not look as if hard times had reached Chest. Some of the tax payers object to it, considering the tightness of the times.

On last Sabbath, as Luther Barrett and William Hunter were returning from church at Westover, their horse became frightened at the hoisting of an umbrella and became unmanageable. The lines, being old, broke, and the horse ran off. Mr. Barrett jumped out and fell to the ground, putting a shoulder out of place, breaking a rib and bruising himself considerably. Mr. Hunter was badly cut in the head, the buggy striking a rock, breaking a front wheel and throwing him out on his head and shoulders. He experiences considerable pain in arms, shoulder and breast. Both suffer great pain. Their injuries were attended to by Dr. A. D. Bennett, of New Washington, and a physician from Glen Connel, whose name I do not recollect. Both old gentlemen are doing as well as could be expected, considering their age and bodily infirmities. The accident occurred near T. F. Dunbar's residence, to which the injured parties were taken and cared for, in the most christian manner, until they were removed to their homes, Mr. Hunter on Monday evening and Mr. Barrett on Tuesday morning. Mr. Dunbar and lady deserve great credit for their treatment of the injured parties and their friends and neighbors who called to see them. There was no request but was cheerfully complied with, and everything was done to make all as comfortable as the circumstances would admit of. There are several christian people in Chest township, the opinion of a certain disciple of Dogberry to the contrary notwithstanding. We were blessed with a very heavy rain this evening, soaking the ground well for the first time since early spring. A few more such showers, and corn and potatoes will do well. The gust was a little hard on side hill corn fields. Yours, &c. Chest.

UNION AHEAD.

Rockton, July 1, 1875.

Mr. Editor:—You were good enough to give our neighbors over in Bloom township a puff, because they were so well off that they need not pay any school tax this year. We are well off, too, in Union. We are compelled to pay a higher school tax than ever, although we have $1,871.72 in the hands of our District Treasurer. I understand that the Board has assessed 16 mills school tax for this year. That sum, together with the cash in the treasury, is nearly money enough to build each of the Directors a new house. Besides, I see by the Auditors' statement that we have $258 road funds and $298 poor funds in the Treasurer's hands, making a total of $2,483. I claim that we are very rich, or we would not allow so much money to be lying around loose. Talk about Bloom township having $372 in the Treasury! Why, we are four times better off, and expect a double tax. This arises from having good men to regulate our affairs.

Yours, Inquirer.

Read! Read!—At the store recently occupied by Mr. L. Fiegel, and under the superintendence of the new proprietor, you will find the largest stock of Boots and Shoes, of the latest styles and greatest variety, at lower cash prices than before offered in Clearfield.
Ladies' fine French Kids a specialty.
Misses and children's gaiters, fine lasting, tipped and trimmed, 20 per cent. lower than heretofore.
Within the past week, in addition to our already large stock, we have opened $4,000 worth of new goods, bought at "bottom" prices, and will be sold the same way.
Our new Hats, just opened, cannot be excelled in the city, as we have purchased the finest fur and straw hats, of the latest summer styles, in the market. You need not go to Philadelphia to see the "Centennial," as we have it at the store, in the shape of the nicest little hat of the season.
We have just opened a new and complete line of Gents' Furnishing Goods. Gents' fine Shirts in every style; and if you can't be suited, you can select the goods from samples, leave your measure and have them made to order. A perfect fit guaranteed.
Of Trunks, valises, and umbrellas we have a splendid line, just opened.
It is easy to say that all these goods are sold low, but the skeptical are requested to call, and I will convince them of the truth of the assertion.
We shall take special pains to accommodate all classes of customers, but the farmer especially. We will take in exchange for goods wheat, rye, oats, corn and other grain, potatoes, butter and eggs; so none need complain they cannot buy goods for want of something to buy with.
To say that I feel thankful to the public for their large patronage extended in the short time I have been in the business, does not express my feelings. I am truly grateful for their custom. My sales having already more than trebled, I shall try to deal in such a way in the future, as to continue to merit the liberal patronage of the people.
Remember the place. Fiegel's old stand. The old sign is still up, but it will shortly be replaced with a new one.
Your most obedient servant,
PETER McGEORGE.

Have You Dyspepsia, with its train of disorders, billiousness, constipation, water-brash, loss of appetite, headache, distress after eating, &c? If so, go to C. D. Watson, Druggist, and get a bottle of Dr. Costa's Radical Cure. Take it and be well. It acts as no other medicine ever did, and cure relief is guaranteed in every case where directions are followed. It tones up the stomach, restores the natural appetite, strengthens the weak, and as a liver regulator it has no equal. A Clergyman of Philadelphia says "It is the very foundation of health." To all who are suffering from a disordered stomach or liver, we say try it. A few doses will relieve and a little perseverance cure the worst cases. Trial size 10 cents. Sold also by P. Curley & Co., Williamsgrove; T. H. Forney, Grahamton, and P. Moyer, Kylertown. mch17-omly

CAUTION.

We have for the last three years been sending out sample bottles of Boschee's German Syrup for coughs, colds, consumption, and all diseases of the throat and lungs. We now find other parties advertising sample bottles in the same way. All we have seen of these little sample bottles contain ether or chloroform, intended only to dry up a cough for a day or two. Be careful to call for Boschee's German Syrup, which contains no ether, chloroform or opium, but the secret of its success is in a German extract of native principles of Gum Arabic, and physicians buy our medicines and use it in their practice successfully. Sold by C. D. Watson, Clearfield, Pa. mch17-3omly

Come Forward and Settle.

I take this method of informing our customers and the public generally, that I am about removing from Leconte's Mills, and desire all who are indebted to the estate or to me, and have unsettled accounts to come forward and settle without delay. Those who do not come soon and comply with my request, may be compelled to travel some distance to adjust their accounts. The business, from the 26th day of June, 1875, will be carried on by Messrs F. A. Mignot & Bros., who will do all in their power to accommodate old and new customers.
CAROLINE LECONTE.

To the Farmers

—OF—

CLEARFIELD COUNTY.

No more excuses for not buying a Mowing Machine on account of no rain.

M. G. BROWN & BRO.

Have just ordered a car load of machines.

Farmers, push your business. It is the only business in which there has not been a prostration of prices and scarcity of money. Counties that depend on farming are full of money. Lancaster City Banks refuse money on deposit, as farmers have filled their coffers.

Business is reviving in the east. Give heed to farming. Do not let us send out of our county for produce any more. Cease to lumber until merchants are compelled to come here to buy your timber, then you are sure of a fair price.

Remember that BROWN & BRO. are selling The WOOD and the BUCKEYE MOWERS and REAPERS.

COATES' OHIO LOCK-LEVER HAY RAKE, and others.

Five different kinds of HAY FORKS.

Ellis & Hoffman's ONE-HORSE THRESHING MACHINES.

BUCKEYE GRAIN DRILLS.

CIDER MILLS, WIND MILLS, CUTTING BOXES,

and anything else in the line wanted by farmers.

They will sell for cash on easy terms, or exchange for trade.

Call on M. G. BROWN & BRO., Market street, Clearfield, Pa., adjoining Moore's store.

ESTABLISHED 1837.

BAILEY'S

PURE RYE WHISKY.

We again call your attention to the above celebrated brand of goods, and we do so with the conviction that there is a great want existing among a vast number of persons who are compelled to use, medicinally or otherwise, a pure whisky.

To supply this want we offer Bailey's Pure Rye, an article which has been before the public for a number of years, its reputation standing high as a thoroughly reliable stimulant among medical men. As an evidence, quite a number of our eminent physicians prescribe it to the exclusion of all others.

Being made on the best known scientific principles, from the choicest grain, and by practical distillers, it retains a delightful flavor, and, greatly improved by age, makes it largely sought after by first-class hotels and druggists.

Should you desire to give this whisky a trial, and are in doubt as to whether your hotel or druggist keep it, (not having one of our signs displayed,) write to us and we shall be most happy to direct you to the persons who handle our goods in your neighborhood.

We are also sole proprietors and manufacturers of the well-known DR. STOVER'S TONIC HERB BITTERS, which has been successfully used for over thirty years as a Blood Purifier, anti-Dyspeptic and Tonic.

HARD TIMES

HAVE NO EFFECT

IN FRENCHVILLE!

I am aware that there are some persons a little hard to please, and I am also aware that the complaint of "hard times" is well nigh universal. But I am so situated now that I can satisfy the former and prove conclusively that "hard times" will not effect those who buy their goods from me, and all my patrons shall be initiated into the secret of
