The Chicago clergy-man whose name is not given is well known in this city. The following is the story related by one who elaims to have a full knowledge of the facts: Some time in 1873, or early in 1874, Mr. Davis, Land Agent of the Union, Pacific Railroad, Omaha, sold a lot of land and sent to Washington for the warrants. Secretary Delano wrote to him that they would be ferwarded.—After waiting rix weeks and not receiving them, Mr. Davis wrote to an attorney in Washington, asking him to call at the Interior Department and inquire about them. Secretary Delano again promised to send them at once. Six weeks more passed, and as he heard nothing about his warrants, Mr. Davis went to Washington, saw Mr. Delano, and was referred by the Secretary to his son John, saying he would attend to it.
