Our Special column is decidedly interesting in a local point of view, and profitable reading to outsiders who want to save money.

An "independent" journal contained a typographical error last week. Wonderful!

Nearly all our country exchanges say that chestnuts, walnuts and hickory nuts will be abundant this fall. Glad to hear it.

The editor of the Modoc organ threatens the "half-breed Republicans" in Curwensville and Pike township with future vengeance! It's awful!!

NOVEMBER 22D, 1865.—Friends, we wish to procure several copies of the REPUBLICAN of the date of November 22d, A. D. 1865. We will credit fourfold for this number. 2t.

A RELIC.—The Lewistown Democrat says: Mr. John D. Miller, residing near Newton Hamilton, has a German Bible printed in 1730—145 years ago. It is in good order, and was bought at a sale a few years ago for $1.

A queer genius in Mansfield, Tioga county, Pa., has a chain, seventeen and a half feet long, composed entirely of copper coins. In the chain there are one hundred and seventy coins, no two of which are alike.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 1ST, IS THE LAST DAY ON WHICH YOU CAN PAY TAXES.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 2D, IS THE LAST DAY FOR TAKING OUT NATURALIZATION PAPERS.

There is a married couple in Huntingdon county who have been pulling along together in the matrimonial harness for more than sixty years, and they do not even know of such a thing as a divorce court.

The Williamsport Gazette & Bulletin says that you can add a hundred volumes to your library every year for what your beer and tobacco costs you. That may be done in Williamsport, but in this part of the country people don't use so much beer and tobacco.

OVERBOARD.—Wm. M. Lloyd, of Altoona, who three years ago was considered one of the wealthiest men in the Allegheny mountain district, made an assignment on Saturday a week. Hon. John Reilly, John Louder and Max Kinkead are the assignees.

BUD ON THE WING.—The Huntingdon Monitor says: Bud Doble's special car passed through here attached to the Pacific Express, on Sunday morning. The car contained Goldsmith Maid, the famous trotter, and four other fast horses, all on their way to San Francisco.

Three quacks practicing medicine at Bethlehem, Pa., without diplomas, have been arrested and sent to jail. Good enough; the same principle should be adopted with every quack doctor that can be found. The life of a human being should not be exposed to the malpractice of a quack.

PILL BOXES VS. BLACKSTONE.—A game of base ball, between the "Pill Boxes" and the "Blackstones," two Altoona clubs, representing the doctors and lawyers, was played recently in that city. The game lasted two hours and a half, and resulted in the demolishing of the "Pill Boxes" to the tune of 40 to 18.

MISSED FIRE.—The young man Todd, from Indiana county, who succeeded in receiving the appointment as a cadet to West Point Academy at the competitive examination held in Brookville, a short time ago, was not so fortunate at his examination for admittance at that academy, having failed to pass. Another appointment will be made next June.

THE SAW LOG TOWN.—We infer from the revelations in the Auditor General's office that Williamsport has been troubled with Tweedism for a number of years. Well, who would have supposed that such a "boil," temperate godly city would have anything to do with such wicked people as it seems dwell in their midst and rule them.

STATE GAME ASSOCIATION.—A meeting of those interested in the forming of a State Game and Fish Association, will be held at Harrisburg, Pa., on Tuesday, Oct. 5, 1875. It is expected that each local game society will send one or more delegates. The object of this organization is the protection, preservation, propagation, etc., of game and fish throughout the State.

HOW POTENT.—Had the enemies of the "Ring" exerted themselves a little earlier and used more truth (?) and issued another pictorial, he would have carried every district in the county. We advise these libel manufacturers to close their establishments, and in the future pursue a proper and legal pursuit, and thereby avoid injuring their friends, and conceal the fact, too, that their movements are not controlled by malice and in the interest of the common enemy to our party.

VILLAGE CAMP MEETING.—Rev. B. F. Stevens, in charge of the M. E. Church in this place, has announced a "village camp meeting," commencing in that church on Wednesday evening the 26th of October, to continue for some time. There will be prayer meeting in the morning, at 9 o'clock, preaching at 10 o'clock and at 3 and 7 o'clock in the afternoon. We understand that a number of clergymen in other charges have made arrangements to be present on the occasion.

IT SHOULD BE STOPPED.—At least half a score of our citizens have complained to us about the miserable habit of playing ball in the streets of our borough. This sport should be transferred to some other field. It is very offensive to aged persons, who are often rendered excessively nervous when they encounter one of these games on the street. If good manners does not stop the nuisance, the town council should take some action and see if it cannot be abated.

THE TROUT RUN IMPROVEMENT CO.—We learn that this corporation, located in Goshen township, has recently undergone a change in its management. The chief stockholders, Messrs. Finley, Young & Co., Dodge, James & Stokes and E. B. Campbell, have sold the stock owned by them in the company to Messrs. W. W. Walker, Hubbard and S. M. Foreman, prominent lumbermen of Williamsport, and in consequence Messrs. Finley, Young & Co., on the 20th instant, resigned, the former as President, and the latter as Director of the corporation. Who the new officers are we have not learned, but presume they will be as responsible as their predecessors.

THE CENTRE FAIR.—For the benefit of those who propose to attend the annual exhibition of the Centre County Agricultural Society during the continuance of the fair, that is to say—on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, October 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th,—excursion tickets to Bellefonte and return, good until Saturday, October 9th, will be sold on the Tyrone and Clearfield, and the Bald Eagle Valley Branches, and on the main line of the Pennsylvania railroad at Lewistown, Altoona, and all intermediate stations. Let all interested avail themselves of the low rates of fare.

The officers of the Society have our thanks for a complimentary ticket; but having thoughtlessly fixed their fair on our Court week, we will not be able to use it.

A CHALLENGE TO BIFLEMEN.—The various Rifle Teams of Centre county send challenge to the riflemen of Mifflin, Huntingdon, Blair, Clinton, Clearfield and Union, to come to Bellefonte and contest with them on Thursday, October 7, 1875, for the elegant gold prize offered by James Milliken, Esq., through the Agricultural Society of Centre county—for the best three shots off hand, one hundred yards range, with open sights—and for either them to take the prize from this county if they can. By order of the Rifle Teams of Centre county.

D. H. HASTINGS,
Supt. Amusement Department.

Bellefonte, Sept. 22, 1875.

TOO FAST.—We submit that the fast mail train lately put on the Pennsylvania railroad is too fast for comfortable riding. At least, we don't believe that we should like to take passage on it. The Altoona Mirror says: When the "limited" mail train arrived at Elkhart, Ind., at 3:20 Thursday morning, it was twenty-five minutes late—a delay caused by the heating of a journal box on the sleeping car. The distance to Chicago from Elkhart is 161 miles only, and the engineer who took charge of the train looked doubtfully at the time table. His name is Francis Osgood, and his work in carrying the train into Chicago fast enough to recover the lost time so strained his watchfulness and nerves that when he shut the throttle of his engine in Chicago, eight minutes ahead of schedule time, he fainted away, and for a few minutes it was reported that he was dead. The announcement caused great excitement. A large portion of the Chicago delegation breakfasted with the postal officers, when complimentary resolutions were passed and pleasant replies were made. Ten thousand letters for Chicago were brought by the fast mail train for distribution. The New York newspapers, only a day old, were sold in the hotels at the same price as the Chicago dailies.

A DARING ROBBERY.—A Callensburg correspondent of the Clarion Democrat relates that on Friday evening, the 17th inst., between seven and eight o'clock, two masked robbers entered the house of an old couple named Sweeny, in Licking township, about a mile and a half north of Callensburg. Each robber presented a revolver, one at Mr. Sweeny, who was in bed, and the other at the old lady, who was still sitting up; and demanded their money. Mr. Sweeny got his pistol, and refused to deliver up, when he was attacked by the villain and a desperate struggle ensued. Finding the old man was getting the better of him, the robber called for help from the outside. Thinking he would be only worse off by further resistance, Mr. Sweeny gave up, and let them take his money—some twelve dollars—and a pistol. In the meantime the other rascal threw the old lady on the floor and choked her almost to death. In the struggle the mask was torn off one of the robbers, and he quickly threw a table cloth over his head, then asked Mr. Sweeny if he knew him. He replied that he did not. And it is perhaps well that he made that answer, if he had named him, the villain would likely have killed him. The old folks were pretty badly used up in the struggle.

COURT WEEK NO. TWO.—This is the busiest term of the year. Business and politics being blended together, and nearly everybody seems to have time to attend September Court. Court called at 10 o'clock, on Monday morning, Judges Orvis, Foley and Read in their places. But little business was transacted in the forenoon. At 2 o'clock, P. M., the list of Constables was called over, and those who had returns to make handed them in. The Grand Jury list was called and twenty-two answered to their names. Ex-Sheriff Miller was made foreman and after they were sworn by Prothonotary Bloom and charged by the Court as to the business which would be laid before them, they were sent to their room in charge of Tipstaff Shugart, where they will remain, no doubt, until Thursday. The calling of the names of the Traverse Jurors was next in order, and five failed to answer. At about three o'clock Court proceeded to business, and we left the room.

From the Altoona Mirror we learn that Robert Hewitt, a wealthy bachelor, committed suicide by shooting himself, on the 17th inst. He lived with a man named Joseph Seguin, who worked his farm, which is situated in the mountain near the Wopsononock Hotel, seven miles from Altoona. On the morning of the 17th, he took his gun and said to his family that he would take a day's hunt, and in the evening he was found about a mile and a quarter from the house dead, having shot himself through the heart. He left a letter stating that, being weary of life, and feeling that he had lived long enough and done enough "for good and for evil," he had deliberately taken his own life. He left a will, bequeathing all his property to his farmer.

A SAD CASE.—We regret to learn that the body of George W. Shoff, Esq., was found in Clearfield creek on Wednesday morning last, about midway between the mouth of Muddy run and the bridge at Pusseyville. It seems that in passing up the bank of the creek towards his home, several nights previous, that he must have fallen over the bank, which is at least fifteen feet high, and landing in the water was, of course, drowned. He leaves a wife and eight children, whose grief at this sudden and unnatural bereavement can be imagined but not described. The deceased was one of our most active and industrious citizens, and will prove a real loss to that community, as well as throughout the county.

It is gratifying to us that we are enabled to chronicle the fact that such distinguished lawyers and statesmen as Hon. Matt. Carpenter, of Wisconsin, and Hon. Frank W. Hughes and Linn Bartholomew, of Pottsville, are tarrying in our midst this week. Besides, we have such celebrities as John Siney and Xingo Parks, also, re-alizing with us. The latter gentlemen have a case of some interest in our court, and they have persuaded the other three distinguished gentlemen to enter into a co-partnership with them "to see them through." How the matter will turn out we are not prepared to say, as twelve other gentlemen are being consulted in the matter, while we are entirely ignored. However, we will try and render ourself comfortable.

GRAND PITTSBURGH EXPOSITION.—Readers must not overlook the advertisement of the First Grand Exposition of the Pittsburgh Tradesmen's Industrial Institute. The immense building, which can accommodate 50,000 persons, covers twelve acres of exhibiting space, almost every inch of which has been taken up. Excellent music, machinery, fine art, live stock and agricultural displays in abundance. Excursion tickets can be had at low rates. The premiums amount to $50,000, and competition open to the world for everything. Freight one way free. Those desirous of exhibiting should address at once A. J. Nellis, President T. I. I., Pittsburgh, Pa.

TAKEN OFF.—The extra construction train which has been running over the Tyrone and Clearfield railroad for a month past has been taken off. A large number of ties were gathered up along the line by this train and taken to New Jersey for a new road which is being built from Trenton up the Delaware river to Phillipsburg, opposite Easton. The tie trade will bring considerable revenue to our county in the future, if the fire is kept out of the woods, so that the young oaks will be permitted to grow.

An effort is being made by some of our sportsmen to get up a grand hunting tournament some time about the middle of October. The party is to consist of sixty hunters—thirty on a side—and a great slaughter of game is anticipated. The losing party is to pay for a supper for the entire crowd. We hope they may be successful in getting up a good party for the sport. A meeting is to be called to make the preliminary arrangements as soon as a sufficient number of marksmen enter the list.

ANDERSON MURRAY, a highly respected citizen of Girard township, died on Saturday last, aged 51 years, 11 months and 15 days. The deceased enjoyed excellent health until a week previous to his death, which was caused by inflammation of the bowels. Mr. Murray leaves a wife and a large family and a numerous circle of relatives to mourn his sudden demise.

If secret societies and other organizations continue to meet Philadelphia at their place of meeting next year, there will not be much room left for Centennial purposes. The Army of the Cumberland has resolved to meet in that city July 6th and 7th, 1876.

Our weather prophet predicts a hard winter on the strength of muskrat holes. Subscribers on the hardness in cows' tails.

PHILIPSBURG JOURNALISMS.—The old Union church was broken into one night this week by a thief who received for his labors an old umbrella, some coal oil and a box of blue-headed matches. The burglar must have been "hard up."

The saw mill of Jones, Allport & Co., we are happy to be informed, will run all winter. The firm has a large contract to furnish hickory lumber to a large manufacturing company in one of the lower counties of the State. This will give employment to many hands during what bids fair to be a season of extreme depression.

SHIPWRECKED.—Dr. J. Oscar Lorsine, of this place, who, as many of our readers are aware, is largely interested in the lumber interests of North Carolina, started for home, on Tuesday the 7th inst., accompanied by his son Harry, and was shipwrecked off Hatteras. Through the kindness of a relative to whom he wrote giving the particulars of the disaster and his escape, we are permitted to lay before our readers his letter detailing the circumstances, as follows:

HATTERAS INLET, Sept. 12, 1875.

As I wrote you that I would start North with Capt. Doughty on "Schooner McCulley" I did so on Tuesday afternoon, from Lewisville, taking Harry with me. We had a nice run and pleasant trip to, and through, Hatteras; were delayed one day there on account of no wind. We ran up on Friday to within 10 or 20 miles of Cape Henry where we encountered northwest winds and had to lay to; this was at dusk. We lay beating against it all night, although it increased to a hurricane, almost. At 4 o'clock A. M. (Saturday) we hoisted sail and attempted to beat up against it; pumps were sounded then and no water, at 6 P. M. pumps again sounded and three feet of water found in the hold, and as we were making no headway against the gale, the Capt. decided to run back to this place for a harbor. We turned about, manned the pumps, and made the run back, having gained on the leak so that there was but fifteen inches of water in the hold. We crossed the shoals all right and were about making the last tack to run in and were congratulating ourselves that we were almost in, when the fore sail blew off and the jib boom sail went with it, and of course this lost the would not obey her rudder and we were cast up high (not dry) on the south bar with the waves breaking clean over us. Sounded the pumps and found the water gaining and expected to be broken to pieces in a short time. The schooner's boat was lowered, but was not fairly in the water till it was dashed to pieces against the schooner. The Capt. hoisted signal for pilot boats to come to our relief, and three started, but only one got near enough to hail us. The breakers were so rough and the waves and wind were so high that she could not do anything, so she put back to shore and we prepared to spend the night as best we could, nailing up windows, doors, etc., to prevent the waves from bursting in and filling us, trusting in Providence to bring us safely through the night. There was not much sleeping done except by Hallie who did not know the danger he was in, and some by the Captain, he was worn out, being up the night before and being at the wheel all that day—all the rest being at the pumps. But "He who notes even the sparrow's fall" shielded us and brought us in safety through that long night. In the morning as soon as we could see anything we had the pleasure of seeing a boat near us and another coming. After a great deal of trouble they got near enough to get a line, but dare not come near the schooner for fear of meeting with the same fate our boat did, but got the rope out at the end of the bowsprit and ran the boat under it, and called out, "we want the boy first," (some of them had been on the vessel before we went out of Hatteras and knew Hallie was aboard.) We had to tie a rope around his waist and the Capt. took him out on the bowsprit and lowered him, and the boat ran under and took him in. You cannot imagine the relief it was to me to see him safely in that boat, although he was still a long distance from shore; but I felt that he was safe. He did not seem the least frightened until the Capt. commenced to let him down into the boat, then he held on to him and wanted to "come back to papa." After he was in the boat he was perfectly at home, although it was coming up and down sometimes as high as the schooner's side, sometimes away below her. We then got all the loose things, bedding, compare, etc., belonging to the ship, and all baggage, and sent it aboard the boats by throwing it into the sea, having a rope attached by which it was drawn through the breakers. Then we got off by going out the bowsprit, sliding down a rope and being drawn into one of the boats and passed from thence into the other until it was loaded, the Capt. coming off last. I was separated from Hallie in this arrangement, but Capt. Doughty took charge of him, wrapped him in his overcoat and brought him to shore dry—the only one that was so. I had several wave break over me while on the forward deck of the schooner, and some after I got into the pilot boat, wetting me completely. When I opened my trunk I found everything in it wringing wet—have been trying to dry them today. There was five feet of water in her hold when we left the vessel this morning. Had we not got off just as we did, we would have had to stay until she broke up and gone to shore on the pieces, if we could, but, thank God, we are safe on shore among a very, very kind hearted people, who are anxious for us to partake of all they have. We, the Capt., Hallie and myself, are quartered with Mr. Stowe, a merchant here. Will get a pilot boat to take us home to-morrow, or day after, and as soon as we can get our clothing in order will try it, overland route.

J. OSCAR LORSINE.

CLINTON DEMOCRATIC SAYINGS:—DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.—On the 16th inst. Moses Frank died in Lock Haven, aged 78 years. Deceased was buried in the Jewish cemetery on the 19th, by the Hebrew Beneficial Association (to whom the family request us to express their thanks for many kind acts). Deceased was born in Germany and came to this country about fifty years ago. He had been blind for 16 years. He lost an eye about 25 years ago by being struck in it with an awl or some sharp instrument, and about sixteen years ago, while cutting wood before daylight, a piece struck him in the other eye and thus made him blind.

BUSINESS FAILURE.—The dry goods house of J. G. Harris of Lock Haven has suspended business. The result took every one by surprise, as Mr. Harris has been justly regarded as one of the safest of our merchants, being very careful and widely known for his fair dealing. So far as we have been able to learn, the trouble he is in does not arise from his connection with the lumber firm of Shaw and Harris of Williamsport, which has gone under and carried him with it. Mr. Harris has the sympathy of all who knew him, and it is the wish of all that he may soon retire and be again in his old line of business.

ATTEMPT TO BURN A CHURCH BUILDING.—Some fiend in human shape attempted to set fire to the Presbyterian church at Troy, Jefferson county, by throwing powder through the window, on the night of the 21st ult. On Sabbath morning following, a large bundle containing about twelve pounds of powder, was found lying on the floor of the church, some distance from the wall, having been dashed through the window. Burnt matches were found outside, showing the object of the villain. The powder had been previously dampened, in order to make it burn slowly, so as to give the fire a good start. Fortunately, the dash must have extinguished the fire, otherwise the church and several other dwellings contiguous would have been in ashes. One who would attempt the destruction of a house consecrated to the worship of God, would not scruple to destroy human life. It is hoped that the scoundrel will be sought out and duly punished.

DEATH OF JOHN DOUGHERTY.—On Sabbath night, at about 12 o'clock, Mr. John Dougherty, one of Brookville's earliest and most respected citizens, closed a useful and honored life. For the past two years his health has been failing and although formerly blessed with a rugged constitution, it commenced to give way, and it became quite apparent to himself and friends, that his race on earth had about come to a close. A few weeks since he took sick, and his illness became more and more serious until the end, which occurred at the time above stated in the presence of his family and friends.

Mr. Dougherty was born in Donegal, Ireland, in September, 1800. He came to this country in June, 1822, locating in Red Bank township, Clarion county, (then Armstrong county,) and commenced selling goods near the old Mohney Stone house, where he remained until Brookville was located. He attended the first sale of lots in this place, purchased property and immediately moved here, making this his residence up to the time of his death. In 1829 he was married to Grace Kerr, of Mount Pleasant, Westmoreland county, who still survives. He had but one child, Mrs. Kate D. Martin, wife of Col. S. J. Martin.

As honorable and conscientious business man, he took pleasure in doing those good with whom he came in contact, and his many kind acts will be remembered as long as a remnant of the work of his hands remains amongst us.

He was the first member of the Catholic church residing in Jefferson county, and for over twenty years church services were held in his house. In his death Brookville loses another of her pioneers, and soon they will all be gathered home.—Brookville Republican.

A SHOOTING CASE.—The Indiana Democrat says: On the evening of the 13th inst., Alex. M. White, brother of Gen. Harry White of this place, who resides on the Grave Ferry Road, Philadelphia, shot a young man named Wm. Boyd, aged 19 years, in the breast, inflicting a serious wound. The report in the Times says that the young man was trespassing on White's land. White ordered him off the place and he refused to go. White then shot him, the ball entering the right lung. Justice Collins held White for examination.

Since writing the above we have been informed of the facts in the case. Mr. White had a controversy with a family named Boyd, together with others, about some property. A party of young men, among them young Boyd, attacked Mr. White on his own premises, striking him on the breast and over the head with a club, inflicting quite an ugly wound. He warned them to desist, but they continued the assault, and he, in self-defense, fired his revolver at one of his assailants with the result above noted.

List of letters remaining unclaimed in the Postoffice at Clearfield, for the week ending Sept. 27th, 1875:

The gunning season last year was characterized by a large number of accidents, resulting in the death of a great many hunters, and now that the season has been opened for this year, we hope that the accidents may be confined exclusively to thumbs and fingers—or, better yet, no accidents at all. The exercise of a little caution will greatly reduce the number at least.

The boss of the weather has declared straw hats to be a little below par, and goods of that description are to be sailed in and reduced with shoestring a little more substantial.

LETTER FROM CURWENSVILLE.

CURWENSVILLE, Sept. 24, 1875.

MR. GOODLANDER:—I want you to give me a little room in your columns for the purpose of calling your attention to a few facts which you may have overlooked. You know, of course, that this is the vicinity where the pictorial Times is published, and where the editor's great influence is felt. The result of the primary election established a stubborn fact. You are well aware that Brainerd championed Mr. Worrell's cause in this borough fervently, and the vote in this borough and Pike township shows the influence of the fellow. Here is the vote:

Curwensville, for Treasurer	62
Pike twp. " "	94
Total	157

Of this vote, Mr. Worrell received 8 votes in the former and 2 in the latter, while "the Boss" carried both, something he did not expect. It is clear to me that the influence of the Times is felt in this community, especially by the "half breed Republicans." To receive TEN VOTES out of 157 shows that Mr. Worrell selected a bad agent to see him through the primary election. If you were a little smarter down in your town, I would give myself a Latin title, but as it is, I will say

Yours truly,
CURWENSVILLE.

[Our correspondent assumes that Mr. Worrell employed the individual named to champion his cause. This we cannot believe. He is too shrewd a man to employ those who cut his throat two years ago to see him through the primary contest. The alliance is too unnatural to be true, and to that extent we dissent from his conclusions.]

A COUNTER-STATEMENT FROM PENN.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:—Dear Sir: The undersigned school directors of Penn township, in looking over the Auditors' statement of the financial affairs of said township, as published by you, concerning the school funds of this district for the year ending in June, 1875, find them to be erroneous, and far from correct. Partly by including funds of the present year and by charging the Treasurer with funds in the hands of the Collector, and which had already been charged. The following is a correct statement:

DR.

To whole amount of duplicate	$1,908 95
To State appropriation	113 15
To am't rec'd from J. Flynn, ex-Treas	419 45
To money borrowed	200 00
	$1,742 55

CR.

By teachers' wages	$817 00
By furnishing stoves	45 00
By repairing houses	78 00
By furnishing fuel	45 00
By Treasurer's per centage	34 74
By Coll's per cent. and abatement	35 00
By Secretary's salary	15 00
By contingencies	117 84
	$1,237 58
By outstanding orders	$260 00

We certify the above statement to be correct.

RETNOLDSVILLE HERALDINGS.—The Beechwood cheese factory is reported as being in a flourishing condition.

The bush meeting which had been held near Prospect has closed. We know not whether any good was accomplished or not.

It is astonishing to see how many young men are willing to stand guard at the entrance of our church on Sunday evenings.

The Lutheran congregation of this place hold services appropriate to the laying of the corner stone of their new church on last Sunday.

The Adams Express Company has bought out the Union Company, running on the A. V. R. R., and Low Grade Division, and assumed control of its business.

A grand concert will be given in the Beechwoods Presbyterian church on Saturday evening, October 2d, 1875, consisting of vocal and instrumental music by the choir of said church.

A Second Adventist preacher in Scranton has fixed upon the 10th to the 15th of October as the exact time when the world will be destroyed. That parson must be a Radical, who is trying to avoid the certain destruction of his party on the 2d of November.

CHARTER NOTICE.—Those interested will observe by referring to our advertising columns that the Penn Lumber Company is applying to our Court for a charter of incorporation.

Is your Life worth 10 Cents?

Sickness prevails everywhere, everybody complains of some disease during their life. When sick, the object is to get well; now we say plainly that no person in this world that is suffering with Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and its effects, such as indigestion, costiveness, sick headache, sour stomach, heart-burn, palpitation of the heart, depressed spirits, biliousness, &c., can take Green's August Flower without getting relief and cure. If you doubt this, go to your Druggist, C. D. Watson, and get a sample bottle for 10 cents and try it. Regular size 75 cents. Two doses will relieve you.

G. G. GREEN, Sole Manufacturer,
sept 21 '75-1y, WOODBURY, N. J.

Fall Goods at T. A. Fleck & Co's.

Have You Dyspepsia, with its train of disorders, billiousness, constipation, water-brash, loss of appetite, headache, distress after eating, &c? If so, go to C. D. Watson, Druggist, and get a bottle of Dr. Costa's Radical Cure. Take it and be well. It acts as no other medicine ever did, and sure relief is guaranteed in every case where directions are followed. It tones up the stomach, restores the natural appetite, strengthens the weak, and as a liver regulator it has no equal. A Clergyman of Philadelphia says "It is the very foundation of health." To all who are suffering from a disordered stomach or liver, we say try it: A few doses will relieve and a little perseverance cure the worst cases. Trial size 10 cents. Sold also by P. Curley & Co., Williamsport; T. H. Forney, Grahamton, and P. Moyer, Kylertown. mch17-1y
