The Court House at Winterset, Iowa, which cost $10,000 was burned on the 3d instant.

Jones of the Tyrone Herald is now running a Hartman club. Well, three weeks will wind the machine up when the "club" and H. will both be shelved.

Auditor General Temple is creating consternation among the Radical rings and roosters about Harrisburg. One job or steal after another is being exposed.

Ohio.—Tuesday Oct. 12th was election day in the buckeye State. As we are compelled to go to press on the evening of that day we will be unable to give the result in this issue. But we expect a glorious Democratic victory.

The soldiers' front and our War Governor Andrew G. Curtin, has been stamping eastern Ohio the past week for the Democrats. Show us the Clearfield Radical who would have been great enough to admit this fact two years ago. The ex-Governor is now canvassing this State.

The stupid falsehoods about Judge Pershing and Victor E. Pilotte, now going the rounds of the disreputable Hartman organs, of which Mackey's Pittsburgh Commercial is the head, will only add to the majority of these garrulities in November. State parties and falsehoods manufactured for political purposes have had their day.

TURN THEM OUT.—The Radical party may be an excellent organization to carry on a war to manufacture a huge National debt; but it is unfit to regulate a free government, which has been demonstrated most completely during the ten past years of profound peace. Turn them out. Why be cheated and robbed any longer.

A COMPROMISE FROM AN OPPONENT.—The editor of the Philadelphia Press, in his issue of Saturday last, said:

Senator Wallace delivers an address this evening at Concert Hall, under the auspices of the Americans Club. Those of our city readers who desire to hear him, will find him in the lobby of the Democrats of Pennsylvania to be estimated with the administration of the State which they have so well in store. The Senator is a dispassionate and clear-headed man, as well as an astute politician, and if they can't make him do what he wants, he will be a good man to have.

That is nearly as sound a compliment as Hon. Leon Bartholomew paid the Senator two weeks ago, during his able speech in the Court House.

We have nowhere seen it better put than in a private letter from Cassius M. Clay to the editor of the New York Sun. He writes:

"I am against inflation, but still more against deflation. I should hardly have turned my back on the 1776 because of Contingent money."

Mr. Clay is well remembered as an old Abolitionist and Republican. But he sees the dangers ahead to his country from Grantism and is willing to forego past party affiliations as well as present minor political considerations in view of the great necessity of a better government more honestly administered.

Trix Tauck.—As usual the National debt has been reduced during the months of August and September, and, of course, will be in October. This is the annual trick played off on the taxpayers just before election time by the Radical leaders. As the reduction is no greater than it was last year, and the year before, the trick needs an explanation, because the Radical Congress in March last, before breaking up, passed an act by which forty millions of additional revenue was to be raised by our agents. This additional amount of revenue should have brought about a larger reduction of the debt than formerly; yet, such is not the fact. What has become of the money taken from the pockets of the people? Having announced the small reduction in glowing terms, it will now be in order to state what has become of the money.

TURNING EVERY DAY.—It begins to look as though the Radical county of Blair, which heretofore has been good for an opposition majority of from 800 to 1,500, would give a Democratic majority at the next election, because a large number of leading Radicals, who have become disgusted with their party leaders, are going to vote the Democratic ticket. The Altoona Mirror, in alluding to the last contest, says:

"At the time of the Pakington Club last evening, the Radicalism and excitement was overshadowed by a speech given by Dr. Herman Bow. Dr. Bow is a well-known physician of this city, and a man of great energy. He has always been a Radical—not a silk and water member of the party, but an energetic, bold, and fearless Radical. In 1861, suggested the name by which it is now known, and wrote the first hand manuscript of the Radical platform, and the Radical paper, and most of his relatives train in that school. It is not surprising then that his appearance as a Democrat has caused a great stir, and excited the Radical leaders. After being introduced the Doctor explained the reason for his change of faith by saying that the Republicans had been robbing the people and plundering the United States Treasury of thousands of dollars, having been arrested at length, is now pronounced insane, and not responsible for his acts. He was soon enough to hold a commission from Grant and a very loud mouthed stamp and roar now when caught the government "takes its cheap plan of putting up the price of insanity, so as to enable the loyal scoundrel to escape." The Father was simply removed, but may be pronounced crazy too should some interested party have him arrested for his crimes. Our National Capital is without doubt the corruptest hole outside the State of Mississippi, and the symptoms are decidedly in favor of it, and shall be more than disappointed if it is not crowned with grand results."

EXACTLY SO.—The Times of Philadelphia alludes to Senator Wm. M. Evens' speech at Concert Hall, in that city, on Saturday last, as "so scholarly effort from the political stump—unusual" as discussed from an elevated stand-point, etc. Ex-Mayor Foye, president at the meeting in question, who was the "most frequently applauded." His audience showed a careful consideration of the lecture, and his remarks were principally upon the subject of the "peculiar species of insanity" and "with a decided and forcible emphasis."

THE DEMOCRATIC RALLY.—The legislative Committee, now investigating the Treasury and Auditor General Departments has discovered that A. S. H. Walters, formerly Superintendent of the Public Buildings and Grounds, is out of the State Treasury, between June 1873 and April 1873, the sum of $22,400 for which no voter is to be found, except a refund of $562.92, what the balance of the $22,400 was used for no one in either office is able to tell. Walters is dead and of course cannot be heard from. But it is pretty evident that he took the people's money with his for old paid it into his till. It is not in the State Treasury at all. Probably Gen. Allen, former Auditor General who is now rustication in Colorado could explain this little irregularity called upon by the Committee. It is a pity that this excellent officer has moved so far away from the scenes of his boyhood and official operations General Harrison Allen, formerly of Warren county and lately Auditor General could a tale unfold if he were present with the Committee in Harrisburg. It would be well enough for the Committee to intimate to him that his presence was desirable.

RATHER SUSPICIOUS.

THE NEW YORK OFFICE.—The New York State Centennial Board has organized by the election of M. Frank Leslie as chairman, Mr. Samuel Wheelwright, of the Wheeler & Wheelwright Sewing Machine Company, has given the free use of a large suit of rooms at No. 625 Broadway, New York city, where ex-Governor Bigler will also have his office. It will be the general headquarters of the Centennial movement in New York. The board will go to work at once to secure a complete representation of the manufacturing and general interests of the State. They have also secured a space on the Centennial ground, adjoining the British Commission's buildings on the east, for the erection of a suitable building for the accommodation of the committee and New York exhibition. The plans will be ready this week.

Mr. Test mounted the stage and delivered one of his enjoyable short speeches.

At the conclusion of his remarks, J. B. Walters moved that the following motion be made as Vice President of the State.

Joe Thompson, Frank Bolger, Anthony Hill, James Savage, Austin Kern, Philip Dotts, J. L. Campbell, Geo. Weaver, John Diming, Samuel Lansberry, Dr. Wm. A. Means, John Hockenberry, Jesse Goss, Robert E. Fiegel, W. H. Hooper, Capt. John S. McKenna, E. C. Bowman, James W. Johnson, F. E. Conforti, P. A. Howley, Sam'l Clyde, John B. Kyler, M. M. Flynn, Jas. A. Bloom, Goo, Bowersox, Geo. Wood, A. H. Newcomer.

The motion was unanimously agreed.

Mr. Luther, of Woodward township, moved that the following gentleman act as Vice President.

Geo. M. Briskin, of Oneida, Frank Reed, of Houghtaling, Johnston, Hamilton, of Brady township, Dr. Isaac Johnson, Jas. C. Keagy, of Beaver, and Daniel Gordan could a tale unfold if he were present with the Committee in Harrisburg. It would be well enough for the Committee to intimate to him that his presence was desirable.

THE SENATORIAL DEAD-LOCK.—We are no little mortified at the conduct of our friends in this Senatorial district at this place, they adjourned to meet at Tyrone on Thursday of last week, where the balloting was continued until Saturday evening, when another adjournment was had until this (Wednesday) evening, when it is hoped a result will be reached and the conferees return to their homes wiser and better men. We have refrained from meddling in this question, from the fact that we did not believe that either Clinton or Centro was in earnest about that matter, because those two counties already have three of the four nominees in the gift of the party. The former has President, Judge and Congressmen, and the latter Assistant Law Judge, and if Senator is imposed upon them, those two counties will each have two important offices, while we will have nothing. Clearfield is entitled to the Senate, and there should have been no debate over the nomination of his speech, the Committee on Resolutions, the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, and the Committee on Finance, all of whom are distinguished by a record of integrity and probity.

During the absence of the Committee on Appropriations, the Hon. Francis McIlveen introduced the bill for an hour, discussed the financial plan of a very able and dignified manner.

At the conclusion of his speech, the Hon. T. J. Jeff. Boyer, of Clearfield, and the Hon. Wm. F. Fielding, reported, that the bill had been referred to the Committee on Appropriations, and the bill was referred to the Committee on Finance, and the bill was referred to the Committee on Appropriations.
