

The acquired ignorance of "the Government" is being beautifully illustrated every day through Grant's own acts and the testimony of his confederates.

Yesterday when the veto message on the salary question was read in the Senate, one of the official reporters noted the gross and inexcusable errors the President had fallen into where he said, "when the salary of the President of the United States was fixed by the Constitution at $25,000 per annum."

It seems that the "crooked" whiskey business has been carried on far more extensively in San Francisco, than in St. Louis, or Chicago.

Bayard Taylor is to be the Centennial correspondent of the New York Herald. No other gentleman will be on the ground.

Read "Nothing to Blame or Apologize for" on our fourth page. Grant and Davenport's last stunts are not in the catalogue.

General Harrison Allen, has returned from Colorado, to his former home in Warren, Penn'a. The poor health of Mrs. Allen necessitated the change.

Brothers Moody and Sankey want just $250,000 more cash, so as to make their revivals run easy. Send it along all you who have plenty and to spare.

SEATS AND IDEAS.—Considering the number of United States Senators who stole their seats there should have been no objection to confirming Dana on the ground that he stole ideas.

Gov. Hayes, of Ohio, loometh up as a Republican candidate for President. Very likely the struggle will be between the Governor and Senator Conkling in the Cincinnati Convention.

Ly-not, is a good name, but we fear that the member of the Legislature who was furnished with that name by his father, lies like all blazes, or, it tells the truth, John B. Beck lies like thunder. This we do know, because one tells some hoisting lies.

If ever there was a dead cock in the political pit it is Blaine. Ever since he made his "blood and thunder" speech at the opening of Congress, he has been dropping like a sick chicken with the gaps.

When George H. Pendleton was charged with taking an exorbitant fee as attorney in a railroad case, as reported in the country that he had taken $20,000 for his services, there was no paper in the country that showed how he or forer put him down, than the Philadelphia Press.

California will erect a "memorial lamp," costing $5,000, on the Centennial grounds.

The paddle-wheel of Robert Fulton's first steambot will be exhibited at the Centennial.

A horse dealer says that mules are not in demand now, and are a very dull article of sale.

Lake Pontchartrain threatens to overflow and inundate New Orleans. The danger is imminent.

Iron can be manufactured in Texas in quantities sufficient to build all the railroads in the State needs.
