

George B. Goodlander, Editor

It-starred Pittsburgh! She has shown to the world for years, and now the whirlwind comes in its unspeakable terrors.

The Democrats of the Buckeye State last week nominated, R. M. Bishop, of Cincinnati, for Governor, and Gen. J. W. Fitch, of Cleveland, for Lieutenant Governor.

Full details of the late riots will be found on our first and fourth pages and below, up to yesterday, so that if the reader desires to "read up" the outrages committed by the rioters, he can do so at his leisure, if not ordered into the field by the Governor.

The engineer of our train had not discovered the plot, but at the signal of the commander of the troops had shown up his engine, but not sufficiently to avoid the accident entirely.

The most diabolical conduct was displayed on Sunday by a Sunday newspaper of Pittsburgh, called the "Crisis."

A Washington telegram to the Associated Press, on the 23rd of July, gives the following:

Senator Wallace, of Pennsylvania, is now in this city, and he is the present trouble in that State to the detriment of business prevalent in all mining, manufacturing and lumber localities.

CLEARFIELD, PA.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 11, 1877.

MAXIMS FOR THE DAY.

To man worthy the office of President should be willing to hold it if elected, or to place his name forward.

GRAND FRENCH ANNA.

Under the form of a letter to the States was declared President of the United States in this report.

ANASIS OF DEMOCRATIC M. C. A.

One hundred years of human depravity and sin have been concentrated into a climax of crime.

HOW TO DEVELOP MANHOOD.

We boast of being Freeman (F) on this Continent. There are no slaves among us.

WHOLESALE RUIN.—Mob rule is a fatal to commerce and trade as poison to the body.

How to TREAT MOB.—The editor of the Baltimore Gazette, in alluding to the recent riots in that and other cities, gives our views of dealing with a mob, in a single paragraph.

NONSENSE.—The battery which we frequently hear raised against capital, is nothing less than cheap nonsense.

TO THE POINT.—The editor of the Philadelphia Times, in discussing mob rule, closes an article on that subject with these words:

THE EASTERN WAR.—The confusion, riot and murder entailed on us through the "strike" in our State, and elsewhere.

CREATED AGAIN.—Fornay, with "my two papers, both of" coaxed several of the members of Hayes' Cabinet over to Philadelphia.

PRACTICAL.—An exchange says: "When Pittsburgh goes to sleep, millions of dollars for the property destroyed by the mob, the pecuniary value will be understood."
