THE REPUBLICAN.

CLEARFIELD, PA.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 7, 1878.

THE RAPE OF THE BALLOT.

We agree with the Philadelphia Times that the confessions of the Florida ballot thieves who returned the electoral vote of that State against Tilden by fraud, are of little moment. Like the confession of Mrs. Tilton, they come when the judgment of the world is irrevocably made up as to their guilt, and the penitential or contract admissions of those who had already added perjury to crime, are but repetitions of the old, old lesson that wrong has no refuge from just retribution. It is now, and for months has been, the accepted conviction of the dispassionate men of all parties in this country, and of intelligent people throughout the world, that Florida and Louisiana honestly voted for Mr. Tilden for President; that their votes were perverted by the most deliberate and monstrous fraud of history, and that the Nation bowed to the decision of the Electoral Commission because it was created in good faith and gave peace to the Republic in the name of law. Already much of the truth of the fraud in detail has come to the surface, and from week to week there are criminations and confessions from the degraded actors in the great crime against free government, which cloud every honest instinct of Republicans and Democrats with shame. The decision of the Electoral Commission will stand, because it gave President Hayes a lawful title untainted by any fraudulent act of his own; but this Government is not strong enough to bear the strain of a repetition of the Florida and Louisiana frauds, and unless most carefully guarded against by just and unambiguous legislation, the struggles for the offices and plunder will speedily make government "of the people, by the people and for the people to perish from the face of the earth."—Baltimore Gazette.

SHAMELESS THIEVERY.

The audacious recklessness that has characterized many of the stealings of our Republican State officials during the last dozen or more years is simply astounding. It is not to be doubted but that if the vouchers of the men who have served as State Treasurers since the war were to be carefully gone over, there would be developed evidences of expenditures aggregating hundreds of thousands of dollars made without the faintest tinge of authority in the law. To be sure there would be but little to be gained by entering into an investigation of the kind at this time. The indications are clear that the people have decided to have no more Republican State officers in Pennsylvania; and of but few of the rascals could anything be recovered, no matter how plain the proofs of their guilt might be made. The exposition would simply put us, as a people, in a still more mortifying position before the country and the world than that we already occupy.

We have in our possession a copy of a receipt in the handwriting of ex-Treasurer Rawle, for "traveling expenses during my term, $800." This money he paid himself on the 4th day of May last, just three days before the law required him to vacate for "Square Timber." The law is explicit. It allows a State Treasurer $5,000 per year, and nowhere in it can be found excuse for the payment to one occupying the position of another penny. It is true that each department is provided with a contingent fund, and that out of said fund, under certain circumstances, traveling expenses might be paid. But Henry, despite the fact that he is a wealthy man, took $800, out of moneys in the Treasury "not otherwise appropriated," and receipted for it on the tenth of a sheet of ordinary foolscap to himself, when there was but a little over $5 left in his contingent fund. In just such a shameless way have millions of the money of the people of Pennsylvania been appropriated by their officials and their officials' friends. It is a good thing that they have resolved upon a change of rulers. It would be almost impossible for any change to be other than an improvement.—Luzerne Leader.

THE LABORING MEN'S CHOICE

As between Mr. Dill and Gen. Hoyt for next Governor, it appears that the laboring men prefer Mr. Dill, and many of such men, who have hitherto voted with the Labor party, will, at the coming gubernatorial election, vote for Mr. Dill. We infer this from the circumstance that Hon. W. H. Stanton, of Luzerne county, has recently expressed himself strongly in favor of Mr. Dill's election. Our readers will remember that Mr. Stanton was elected Judge of the Courts of Luzerne county last Fall, by a large majority of votes over both the Republican and Democratic parties. He may, therefore, be regarded as a representative of the Labor movement, and his views with respect to supporting Mr. Dill, undoubtedly are shared by them embers of that party, not only in his own county, but also throughout the State. Judge Stanton regards, we think with good reason, the contest for Governor as resting solely between Mr. Dill and Gen. Hoyt, and hence concludes that all votes which may be cast for other candidates than those named, are thrown away. He does not hesitate to announce his own preference to Mr. Dill, and believes him a better friend to the interests of laboring men than any other candidate in the field. Judge Stanton, in announcing his intention to vote for Mr. Dill, says:

"I sat beside Mr. Dill in the Senate for two years, and I know him to be a good man. There is nothing of the sanctimonious hypocrisy of some of the latter-day statesmen about him. He is the honest, sincere man that he appears. A man's nationality or creed makes no difference with him. I have heard some politically opposed to him call him, since his nomination, a corporation man. I certainly always found him on the other side. He always aided me with his counsel and support in my efforts to get protective legislation for the laboring men. The measures I introduced to this end in the Legislature went to the root, and yet he did all he could to aid me in getting them through that body. It is a fact that a certain element of the Democracy of Luzerne, composed of what I call the Know-Nothing Democ-count of his liberal, non-sectarian views and tendencies, and they will vote either for Mason or Hoyt. These Democrats who so propose to vote are men of large capital, and are connected with the banks and coal and railway corporations. Mason is not seriously objectionable to them, for it is an allegation not denied, and, as I am positively assured, undeniable, that he has figured throughout most of his professional life as a corporation attorney. Col. Hoyt's chief patronage has been from the same source, and my experience has taught me that such men, no matter by what party nominated, will be corporation attorneys even if sitting in the chair of the executive of Pennsylvania."

THE PENNSYLVANIA SERFS.—The officeholding part of the Radical party is so completely under the control of Cameronism, as to be virtually their serfs. The Old Man abdicated and put his senatorial toga on his eldest born son Don in true baronial style, and with it went his serfdom. This fall are to be elected men who are to declare that transfer unrepublican in spirit and contrary to the will of the people, or they will give their consent to the proceedings by re-electing the son of the Old Man. Men grow arrogant by long continuance in power, and become bold and defiant in their acts. In the days of the feudal system, the serfs of some masters wore collars. Sir Walter Scott introduces a character in Ivanboe of one that wore the badge as a "born serf of Cedric the Saxon." The only difference between that poor devil and the Cameron's serfs is, that while both are collared, and equally under the master, the badge of the latter day serfs are worn concealed. There ought to be enough independent men in every county to break up this serfdom, that has debauched its politics, and is widely known to the discredit of the otherwise honest fame of the Keystone State. This fall is the time for such men to act by voting with the Democrats.—Clinton Democrat.

IN THE LINE OF PROMOTION.—The Philadelphia Times says: They have a way of electing their candidates for Governor in the central Susquehanna counties. Simon Snyder, of Selinsgrove—then in old Union, but now in Snyder county—was thrice elected to the Gubernatorial chair; James Pollock, of Northumberland, on the opposite side of the river, from Union, was elected Governor by 40,000, and Wm. F. Packer, of Lycoming, the Susquehanna county immediately above Northumberland, was chosen Governor by a majority equal to Pollock's. The little county of Union is the only one of the line of the central Susquehanna counties of Dauphin that hasn't had a Governor of its own, although it was entitled to claim Snyder, and now Dill proposes to fill up the gap. The candidates for Governor of the Northern Susquehanna region have been uniformly unfortunate. Judge Wilmot, of Bradford, was beaten by Packer; Judge Woodward, of Luzerne, was beaten by Curtin, and Judge Packer, of Carbon, was beaten by Geary. Hoyt and Dill can look the matter up and see whether or not there is anything in this to influence the future.

THE DEBTOR TURK.—If the Turks had their debts paid, the arrangement effected for them by the Berlin Congress might extend the life of their Government indefinitely. The jealousies of the Great Powers would continue to be, as they have been for the past century, the best guarantee of an undisturbed possession of the territory the Turks now occupy in Europe and Asia. Unfortunately for the future prospects of the Porte the Power which has undertaken to maintain the inviolability of the boundaries now set for Mahommedan power is also the chief creditor of the Nation it puts under a new obligation. It is manifest the Turks will never pay their debts except by territorial indemnity of some kind to England. It is equally certain the English will never surrender their present advantageous position without obtaining a full equivalent, not only for the Turkish bonds owned by British subjects, but for all Government outlay involved in the political management of affairs in the Levant.

AMUSING THE OLD BOYS.—The newspapers are amusing themselves with getting up Senatorial side-shows.—Since the Columbia Spy introduced Governor Hartranft, the Lancaster Inquirer has put Edward McPherson on the track with some nice remarks, while the Germantown Telegraph feels as though Galusha A. Grow is exactly the man for the position now held by the young Cameron. Harmless speculation of this kind will do to keep the boys alive through the Summer days. It might just be possible by the time the next Legislature meets the Democrats will have a word to say in the making of the next United States Senator.

UNDER PAR.—After all the Kearney communists have not elected more than about one-third of the members of the California constitutional convention. The thirty-two delegates at large were elected by the non-partisan organization, showing that a majority of the popular vote of the State is also against communism.

Vermont and Massachusetts have recently held their Democratic State Conventions. Both congratulate the country on the retrenchment and economy instituted and carried by the House of Representatives at Washington, and both approve the Potter Committee investigation.

Governor Hartranft has issued a proclamation, fixing the 13th day of August next, for holding an election in Luzerne county to decide on the proposed division of the same, and to designate the county-seat of the new county.

THE DIFFERENCE.—Whenever a newspaper says a kind word of a man, that man never discovers the favor; but if a newspaper handles a man a little roughly, the man finds it out by 8 o'clock the next morning.

POISONING THEIR YOUNG.

The West Chester Jeffersonian of a recent date, relates the following:

"About a month ago a pair of robins built a nest in one of the pretty trees in the yard back of the [illegible] in this borough. In due course of time two little robins were the pride of the parent birds and subsequently these way-ward offsprings proceeded to prematurely seek their own fortunes in this wide, wide world. They however did not get far ere they were made the prisoners of man—one being caught by Mr. James Finegan's children and the other by the little folks composing Mr. James T. Mullin's household, residing on West Gay street. The youngster robins were placed in separate cages and hung out in the back yards of the respective residences of the above named gentlemen. Here they were many times a day visited by the parent birds and sumptuously fed upon worms and cherries, and the little ones thrived and grew and gave promise of soon arriving at the full zenith of a bird's estate. Yesterday, however, a new and sad phase came over the scene and in a very sudden manner the two fledgelings almost instantaneously sickened and died. Upon examination being made it was discovered that the last meal furnished them by the old birds was composed of a small piece of poisonous vine, and the eating of this naturally enough caused death.

"We have many times heard it said that it is characteristic on the part of these birds to poison their caged young, when no hope for their liberty is offered, and if this be so, this circumstance may be set down as a deliberate double act of infanticide upon the part of these distracted and discouraged parents."

"IT IS HELL, SIR."—A Washington correspondent says: The day after Anderson laid the worst of his letters before the Potter investigating committee, Mr. Hayes arose early in the morning and went to see Sherman before the Secretary was out of bed. Imagine his surprise to find Stanley Matthews sitting by Sherman's bedside, and the Secretary of the Treasury sitting up in bed with his night-cap on! Matthews bowed and was silent; Sherman smiled a diabolical smile; Hayes wore a storm-cloud on his massive brow, and he had a copy of the testimony in his hand. The situation was intensely dramatic. "Mr. Secretary," said the President, "What do you think of all this?" And Sherman quietly untied the strings of his night-cap, laid that useful article aside, cleared his throat, and replied: "It is hell, sir." Matthews, with downcast eye, said: "They are crowding us."

John A. MacGahan, the well known and brilliant war correspondent of the New York Herald and London Daily News, died at Constantinople, Turkey, on Sunday, June 9. He contracted spotted fever in the Russian camp at San Stefano. He was an American, and in his achievements as a correspondent with the Russian army through the war, and in those famous letters in which he pictured the Turkish butcheries in Bulgaria, he showed the world the kind of journalists that we produced on this side the ocean.

RATHER TRICKY.—The editor of the Harrisburg Telegraph, Senator Cameron's home organ, when he proposes to say something rude of our party friends, frequently quotes the Lancaster Intelligencer rather than to stand on his own feet. This is decidedly mean for a man to be so great, and must end in his discomfiture at last.

Senator Grover's comment on the work of the last session was short but to the point. He said: "It was powerless to do good during the past session, but it will be different next time, for the Democrats will have a majority in the Senate and House, and then we will revolutionize things."

An exchange remarks: "The unhappy Italians are not so anxious about Tyrol and Trieste and the encroachments of Austria around the Adriatic as represented. They only want a change of Ministry. We would like to spare them a few of our ministers, such as Beecher and Talmage."

Madame Bonaparte is certainly a remarkable woman. At the age of 96 she enjoys excellent health, and is pleasantly sojourning at the residence of her grandson, Charles J. Bonaparte, at Baltimore. She has admirably filled the role of belle and heroine.

A LIVE PLEDGE.—John H. Snyder, convicted of murder in Columbiana county, Ohio, in 1869, and sent to the penitentiary for life, has been pardoned by Gov. Bishop, on condition that he abstains from intoxicating liquors.

THE ALARMED BUCKEYES.—The Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution says: "The average Ohio Republican searches his house every night before retiring to see if Jeff. Davis isn't concealed under some of the beds."

The Cincinnati Commercial says: "The last Presidential election would have been utterly lost if it had not been for the help of the Liberals." This is a new designation for the "Returning Boards."

There could be no better proof that the rural Greenbackers at Syracuse, N. Y., on the 24th ult., did not know what ailed them than that high-tariff resolution in the platform.

And Jack Kehoe still languishes in prison, wondering what will be the complexion of his fate, but feeling certain that "the old man at Harrisburg will not go back on him."

Justice Smith, of New York, very sensibly asked a criminal: "Why did you subject yourself to a trial for murder because of a woman who was untrue to you?"

A POSER.—Painful question by the Sultan: "Is this Turkey, or is it merely portions of England, Russia, Austria and other countries?"—Buffalo Express.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says: "John Bull sitting on the Island of Cyprus, preparing to plant his feet in Palestine, is the current Punch and Judea show."

When the office seeks the man, it generally finds him; when the man seeks the office, he has to find himself and pay the boys.

A VENIAL SINNER AT BEST.

The Pittsburg Critic says the Republican journals continue to point the finger of scorn at the delinquencies of ex-Door-keeper Polk, of the Lower House of Congress, [illegible] sinner is such a rara avis that the scandal gluttons of the opposition almost starve for their favorite dish. However, it is consoling to know that his sin was but venial at best; it was brought to light, condemned and punished by his own party. What a contrast, however, to the despicable manner which the many stupendous Republican malfeasances have been whitewashed! It was not charged that he was an embezzler or that he stole anything. It would take a thousand Polks ten times repeated to equal the sum total of the New York Custom House frauds under the Leet-Murphy regime. His offense exhibited none of the "addition, division and silence" recommended by "wee Kemble;" none of the Credit Mobilier corruption; none of the War Department profligacy of Camerons or Belknap. He took no bribe for his influence; he stole nothing; his punishment was speedy and adequate.

Unlike Colfax, the Christian statesman, he did not swear that he had not received a tribe, and then have his perjury exposed by the production of a check on the memorandum book, in which Oakes Ames kept his Union Pacific transaction. Colfax did all this when he was Vice President. Polk has no handsome wife, like Belknap, to flaunt in Washington society the sums corruptly drawn from the sales of post-traderships. He did not, like Wells and Anderson and Cassenave, sell the Presidency to the highest bidder. He has not trafficated in cadetships; he has not dealt in crooked whisky. His delinquency consisted merely in exceeding his authority in the way good-natured, yielding men of any party would be liable to do at any time. Republican journals and orators do invite public attention to a trivial offense, which is in such conspicuous contrast to the enormous crimes perpetrated by men high in the confidence of their own party.
